NAVY BAGS 525 PLANES IN 4 DAY ATTACK ON JAPS

140 Enemy Vessels Smashed by U.S. Flyers.

BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14 (Saturday)—(AP).—A large force of B-29 Super Fortresses attacked Japanese military targets on the Island of Formosa today, the war department announced. It said:

"A large force of B-29 Super Fortresses of the 20th air force today attacked Japanese military targets on the Island of Formosa, Gen. H. H. Arnold, in his capacity as commanding general of the 20th air force announced at the war department this morning. A communique covering this operation will be issued as soon as sufficient details are available."

U.S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Oct. 13 (AP).—American carrier planes, in four days of widespread attacks, sank or damaged 140 Japanese ships and wrecked 525 to 530 planes, including 63 ships and 396 planes smashed in two days of action at Formosa, the navy disclosed in war bulletins today and tonight.

Wednesday and Thursday they so completely overpowered heavily fortified Formosa, after stealing up on it behind a typhoon, that its defenders were unable to deal a mortal blow at a single attacking warship, Adm. Nimitz said. He refuted enemy claims of one carrier sunk and a second damaged.

Boost Ryukyus Score.

Nimitz also made the amazing report that not one Japanese plane rose from Manila's many air fields Tuesday to contest carrier raiders which wiped out 10 to 15 grounded planes on Luzon.

He likewise enlarged the victory scored Monday in the Ryukyus, which reach within 200 miles of Japan, revising the figure of ships sunk or damaged upward from 38 to 77, the small surface craft from 20 to more than 50 and planes from 89 to 119.

The Ryukyus attack cost the Americans eight planes and eight airmen.

In the southern Palaus, where American invaders are within 515 miles of the Philippines, Nimitz announced tonight all organized enemy resistance has ceased. The Yanks hold 12 islands.

Lose 45 Planes on Formosa.

Nine hours after Adm. Nimitz had given preliminary figures on Wednesday's strike against Formosa, he released figures on the second strike, which occurred yesterday.

At least 45 American planes were lost in the Formosa attacks.

"Small groups of enemy aircraft made repeated attempts to torpedo or bomb carriers or supporting ships, but no damage

Girls Serving Doughnuts Delight G. I.s

BY ROBERT CROMIE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE AMERICAN 3D ARMY, on the Moselle River, Oct. 13.—The most popular vehicles on the roads in this area are "manned" by real live American girls who bring doughnuts.

They are Red Cross clubmobiles. The group is directed by Eva Christensen of Brush, Colo., and comprises 30 girls and four G. I.s who repair tires, haul water, and perform other manual tasks. There are eight clubmobiles, one cinemobile and four supply trucks.

At headquarters, which we visited, some one said an Illinois girl was cooking doughnuts in her clubmobile in preparation for the next day. We peered inside and said, rather rudely: "Hey, you from Illinois?" A beslacked young lady turned and said: "Yes. Why?" We said, "Chicago Tribune," and she said, "Cromie."

She's Former Tribunite.

She was Angela Petesch, a member of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Sunday editor's staff on leave.

This group had been making doughnuts about five weeks when we saw them. They had been in France since Aug. 8. They spent the first three weeks trying to catch up with Gen. Patton's forces.

Four clubmobiles of this group are on the road daily with the other four crews cooking doughnuts in camp for their tour the next day. Each team serves about 2,500 doughnuts a day, plus coffee, cigarets, candy, books, and playing cards, all dispensed with cheery smiles to tunes from a phonograph with a loud speaker attachment.

The girls work about 10 hours a day when they are on the road. They leave about 8:30 a. m. and return about 6:30 p. m. There are 10 of these clubmobile groups in France and Belgium, according to Miss Christensen, including one that travels in and out of Germany under guard.

They Take Prisoners, Too.

Each clubmobile tries to serve between 1,000 and 1,500 men a day, sometimes making several trips if visiting small camps. Once since their arrival in France four German prisoners gave up to a clubmobile carrying two girls, Dorothea Bargelt of Santa Monica, Cal., and Patricia Beall of Fort Wayne, Ind.—and a lone G. I.

When not on the road the girls live in a chateau complete with lights and hot water and eat G. I. chow.

Besides Miss Petesch, these midwesterners were in the group: Jayne Stickrod of Bloomington, Ill., a former swimmer for the Lake Shore Athletic club and Medinah club in Chicago; Margaret Lunn, formerly of Evanston, Ill., and now of Adrian, Mich.; Patricia Maddox of Lafayette, Ind., and Betty Liechty of Sioux City, Ia.

Autopsy Bares Rape Murder of Oil Heiress

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 13.—Georgette Bauerdorf, 20, daughter of a former New York oil and mining executive, whose nearly nude body was found yesterday in the overflowing bathtub of her sister's apartment, was raped, and then strangled by some one who forced a folded wash cloth down her throat, a police officer said today.

Miss Bauerdorf.

Lt. Garner Brown of the sheriff's office said: "Our preliminary examination shows she was attacked and then killed."

County Autopsy Surgeon Frank R. Webb reported that an autopsy showed she was raped shortly before her death and then strangled with the wash rag.

Find Abandoned Car.

Authorities believe that her slayer fled in the car belonging to her sister, Mrs. John M. Dillon, who is in New York with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Bauerdorf.

The car was found abandoned 10 miles from the apartment. It was without gasoline and the keys were in the ignition. Fingerprints found on it are being checked.

A friend, Miss June Ziegler, 20, told officers she and Georgette were hostesses at the Hollywood canteen Wednesday night.

During the evening's dancing at the canteen, Miss Ziegler said, her girl friend was singled out by a "dark, husky soldier" who insisted on jitterbugging with Miss Bauerdorf against her wishes.

"Georgette liked the waltzes, the dreamy kind, and I had never seen her jitterbug before," Miss Ziegler said.

Left at 11:30 P. M.

Canteen sponsors reported, however, that Miss Bauerdorf left the canteen alone, as is the rule, about 11:30 p. m. She is presumed to have died about 3 a. m. Thursday.

The girl's apartment was in disarray. Her clothing was scattered, as well as many of her personal effects, but there apparently was no theft, Brown said, because jewelry was found on a dresser. There were blood stains on the floor in the living room and bathroom and blood on the girl's clothing.

The living room was strewn with cigarets that had been snuffed out by rubbing them against the floor.

Planned Plane Trip.

Miss Ziegler also told officers that Georgette was planning a secret trip by plane to El Paso, Tex. A notation in the dead girl's diary told of her impending visit with "Jerry," who is graduating from an army air school at Fort Bliss, near El Paso. Airplane tickets for tonight to El Paso were found on Georgette's dresser.

Miss Ziegler identified the soldier as Pvt. Jerry Brown, stationed at Fort Bliss.

Sister Aimee's Death Laid to Sleeping Pills

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 13 (AP).—The death of Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson in her hotel room here Sept. 27 was caused by "an accidental overdose" of sleeping tablets, a coroner's jury decided today after hearing medical testimony.

Dr. Mary Ruth Oldt, pathologist of the Western laboratories of Oakland, who examined contents of the stomach, testified the evangelist died "of shock and respiratory failure due to overdosage of a barbital compound" and a kidney ailment.

Coroner Mark L. Emerson inquired whether the death could have been accidental. "It could," Dr. Oldt replied. "A person could get in such a state of forgetfulness that he may not remember how many of these pills he has taken."

Leaves Mother $10.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13 (AP).—Aimee Semple McPherson bequeathed $10 to her mother, Mrs. Minnie [Ma] Kennedy, under her will dated March 27, 1944, and filed for probate today. Atty. Joe Fainer announced.

Fainer said the Evangelist's personal property was valued at less than $10,000, that her son, the Rev. Rolf McPherson, was named executor without bond, and that one of the provisions was that if any of the beneficiaries attempted to contest they would receive only $5.

Mrs. McPherson's daughter, Mrs. Roberta Salter, wife of Band Leader Harry Salter, was left $2,500.

May Be a Joke.

"That was very generous of mother," said Mrs. Salter. "She did not need to do it, but it shows she was thinking of me."

Mrs. Salter, long at odds with her mother, announced she would not contest provisions of the will.

Mrs. Kennedy's comment was:

"It must be a mistake or one of her jokes. Why, just a few weeks ago I sent Aimee $1,100 for the sale of some property of mine in Canada. However, she didn't need to mention me at all. As for Roberta, the $2,500 is no more than she deserves. She gave years of her life to her mother's work."

Fainer said the will "mentions only blood relations; no strangers or others are mentioned."

He added it made no provision for Mrs. McPherson's succession as head of her denomination by the Rev. Mr. McPherson, who had been so designated before her death.

REDS CAPTURE BALTIC BASE IN 7 MILE DRIVE

Tito's Forces Reach Yugoslav Capital.

LONDON, Oct. 14 [Saturday]—(AP).—Russian shock troops captured the Latvian capital and big German naval base of Riga yesterday after smashing seven miles thru a strong maze of German defenses.

At the same time Marshal Tito's headquarters in a special bulletin announced that Partisan forces had "penetrated to the walls of Belgrade," the Yugoslav capital, capturing en route the village of Beli Potok, six miles southeast of the limits of the Balkans crossroad city on the Danube.

The conquest of Riga, on the Baltic sea, released hundreds of thousands of Russian veterans for the battle of Germany itself. The city's fall also promised the early liquidation of from 10 to 15 German divisions which were cut off in western Latvia last Tuesday when a Russian army drove a wedge to the Baltic sea just north of the East Prussian part of Memel.

Red Tanks Attack Memel.

Berlin's high command indicated that the battle for pre-war Germany already had begun. It reported massed Russian tank attacks on Memel, and a large scale Red army attack across the Narew river in northern Poland on the lower side of East Prussia. The Germans announced the fall of Rozan, west bank town on the Narew.

Moscow's bulletin was silent on the East Prussian drive. However, there were unofficial reports that the Russians already had crossed from Lithuania into Memelland—annexed by Germany in March, 1939—at three points, and had also fought their way into the streets of the city of Memel.

The Russians said Riga fell after "street fighting of an extremely fierce character in which the Hitlerites were driven out street by street," and suffered heavy losses. Many cannon, machine guns, mortars, trucks, military stores and railway cars were captured.

Sink German Landing Boats.

The bulletin also said that Russian planes and artillerymen had killed hundreds and perhaps thousands of Germans who attempted an amphibious strike behind their lines at Palanga, on the Baltic coast in western Lithuania 14 miles north of Memel. The Germans approached in 24 barges. The Russians sank four of them, spilling the occupants of others into the sea where they perished, and capturing 300.

Moscow was silent on operations across the rain sodden Hungarian plains. Berlin broadcasts told of a swirling battle by hundreds of tanks near Kecskemet, a rich provincial city famed for its apricot brandy, 45 miles southeast of Budapest.

In Yugoslavia Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 2d Ukraine army troops were almost a third of the way across that country in their drive south of Belgrade toward the Adriatic coast. They cut the highway between the capital and Kragujevac, 55 miles to the south, with the seizure of a town 28 miles below Belgrade.

Russian planes and torpedo boats sank 34 German vessels, including eight transports, in two day attacks on the Norwegian port of Kirkenes and shipping in the Barents and other northern seas, the Russians said.

8,000 Storm Dewey Speech by Clare Luce

BY GLADYS PRIDDY.

The greatest outpouring of Republicans in the current campaign in Chicago heard Clare Booth Luce, congresswoman from Connecticut, speak last night in Orchestra hall. Three thousand men and women jammed the hall to capacity and 5,000 others stood in the foyer and on the sidewalk.

The 3,000 persons in the hall included 350 seated on the stage. The crowds began gathering at 6 p. m. Lt. Tesker of the park police ordered the doors be opened at 7 p. m., half an hour early, to break the jam, and the auditorium was filled in 30 minutes.

The rally was sponsored by the women's divisions of the Illinois and Cook county central committees on behalf of Gov. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee.

Ovation Greets Rep. Luce.

Introduced by Bertha Baur, national committeewoman from Illinois, Rep. Luce received a tumultuous reception as she walked on the stage, and the audience craned to observe the style of her hair-do, a soft chignon combed back from a center part, and the chic simplicity of her black crepe frock.

Then, as if by common consent and out of consideration for the radio listeners, the great crowd settled back to concentrate without more clapping and stamping.

Rep. Luce assailed the New Deal argument that President Roosevelt should get a fourth term because of his ability in foreign affairs with the charge: "Mr. Roosevelt, far from being a great statesman, is in the field of statecraft, on the record, not only untrustworthy but also incompetent."

She charged the President failed in his greatest obligation to his country—keeping the peace "he inherited when he was young and strong"—and therefore was not qualified to work at making the new peace.

Churchill's View Cited.

New Dealers, she said, cite "extenuating circumstances" which always include the "unprovoked" attack on Pearl Harbor in explanation of the Roosevelt failure to keep the peace which he promised and which in 1937 he called the "fundamental policy of the United States."

But Winston Churchill, she told the audience, declared in a broadcast four months before Pearl Harbor that "if Hitler has not yet declared war on the United States, it is certainly not because he could not find a pretext."

Quoting again, she said that only last June Oliver Lyttleton, British minister of production, asserted in London: "Japan was provoked into attacking America at Pearl Harbor. . . . It is incorrect to say that America was ever truly neutral. . . ."

Other "extenuating circumstances" brought forward for the Roosevelt failure, she said, were excuses that in "13 Republican years" this country had not joined the league of nations and was thus cut off from participation in world affairs; the country's "mood of isolationism," and deterioration of the military establishment.

There were seven peace years in which the Roosevelt administration could have overcome these difficulties, she said, yet—"In 1933, Mr. Roosevelt said of the League of Nations: 'We are not members and we do not contemplate membership.'"

Faints, but Won't Leave.

John T. Dempsey, candidate for state's attorney, preceded Rep. Luce on the program in a talk for the county candidates. Richard J. Lyons, candidate for United States senator, followed him.

If the Orchestra hall audience was restrained for Rep. Luce's speech out of respect to the radio listeners, bounds were broken at the reception for her afterwards. It was a repetition of the earlier competition to get into the hall with men pushing and shoving and women holding their own.

One elderly woman fainted in the line as she struggled to meet Rep. Luce. She sank to her knees, was revived, and advised to leave. "No," she said, "I'm certainly not going to lose my place in the line now." And she stayed.

YANKS INSIDE AACHEN; FIGHT HOUSE TO HOUSE

Bag 84 Nazi Tanks, 30 Planes.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

WITH THE 1ST ARMY TROOPS ASSAULTING AACHEN, Oct. 13.—The battle for beleaguered and burning Aachen [Aix la Chapelle] neared a mighty climax today as American infantrymen drove inside the city limits from the southeast and narrowed the German garrison's escape lane to half a mile.

Strong enemy columns forming to counter-attack from the Rohe area five miles northeast in a last frantic bid to save the city, were pounded and smashed by our artillery and rocket hurling Typhoon planes yesterday and today.

At last reports tonight these German forces had not started to move altho Lt. Gen. Hodges troops, with flame throwers, tommyguns, and grenades, were slowly pushing their way into Aachen against opposition described as spotty and disorganized in many instances. However, the advancing Yanks were being forced to a methodical cleaning up—house by house and street by street.

[The German radio claimed that 5,000 Americans had been killed and 14,000 wounded or taken prisoner in the battle for Aachen.]

Nazis Lose 84 Tanks.

The Germans have lost 84 tanks and 30 fighter planes in the last two days of furious air and armored combat.

The battle for Aachen proper began this morning at 10 o'clock. It was a thunderous spectacle as long range guns and American dive bombers battered the town. We watched from a forward observation post as the attack began following a crashing barrage by artillery and mortars which rocked the earth and filled the ears with so much sound it seemed we would never hear again.

Then the infantry began to move and planes roared over the city—a sprawling mass of buildings, brick and wood. Fires were burning in several sections.

At first glance it appeared that all the buildings except the famous cathedral where Charlemagne lies had been hit. No holes were discernible in the cathedral, which towers above the city in slender beauty, but if it escapes entirely it will be a modern miracle. Another church closer to the heart of the town was not so lucky. We saw four shells pumped into its spire which was ideal for Nazi observation of our advance.

Planes Strafe Targets.

Diving planes strafed their targets with cannon and machine guns. Their bombs were tiny black dots as they plummeted toward the earth.

"They're shooting up anything that looks like it might be useful to the enemy," explained Capt. Bernard Kotin, 3654 N. Bernard st., Chicago, Ill. "Whatever the Germans might use for observation is a target today. That means all the tall buildings. The men can pick their own targets until given special missions. They love it." Kotin is artillery liaison officer of this unit.

The first infantry unit into the town was led by Capt. Ozelle Smoot of Oklahoma City, Okla. The men crept along under cover of a railroad embankment their helmets gleaming dully in the sunshine. Then, in small groups, they scaled the embankment, silhouetted for a moment against the sky before disappearing on the other side.

Their entrance into the city brought the nervous chatter of Nazi machine gun and rifle fire and the deep grumble of our heavy machine guns as more men poured into Aachen.

The Americans moved carefully down one street between bomb and shell smashed buildings and over home furnishings which had been spewed into the street to mingle with the scattered contents of store windows. Resistance was surprisingly light with Nazis surrendering wherever they had an opportunity.

Farther north units under Capt. Roland Weeks of Long Island, N. Y., also moved into the town across a wide series of tracks. Still another unit under Lt. Beasor Walker, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., waited for word to hop off.

Lt. Col. Derrill M. Daniel explained that the bombings and artillery were designed primarily to keep the Nazi troops in shelters until the Americans were able to secure a foothold inside the town.

The attack proceeded despite strong German concentrations northeast of the city presumably to attempt to widen the escape corridor or to get reënforcements into the virtually sealed off garrison.

Nazis Move Up in Daylight.

Some measure of the Germans' desperation is shown in word that they have been moving tanks and infantry toward Aachen in broad daylight.

"They have been ordered to chase 'terrorist bandits' off German soil and that is what they are trying to do," said a high ranking officer. "This is a major effort, they have moved against us in broad day light and no man in his right mind would attempt such a thing unless some idiot ordered him to attack with all speed."

Yanks, British Advance.

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP).—The whole British 2d army and American 1st army front at the western gates of Germany today showed signs of imminent eruption.

Midway between Aachen and Arnhem the British 2d army, paced by American tanks, hammered out a gain of more than a mile beyond the captured Dutch town of Overloon on a front of nearly four miles, neared Venray, three miles southeast of Overloon, and was operating six miles from the Maas river, which faces the German frontier.

The allied war bulletin announced limited gains had been made 11 miles east of Aachen from positions four miles beyond Stolberg, indicating that the drive on the Rhine may be about ready to resume. Slow and steady progress was made in Hurtgen forest southeast of Aachen,

Canadians Also Gain.

Both allied and axis sources referred to activity in the Geilenkirchen area 12 miles north of Aachen. A German military commentator said the American troops had been concentrated there "possibly for a grand scale assault" on the flat lands to the Rhine.

The Canadians along the sea clearing out the Scheldt estuary approaches to the port of Antwerp gouged out gains in bitter fighting on the estuary's south banks.

Their comrades to the south, widening the perilously slim bridgehead across the Leopold canal, fought into the outskirts of the village of Eede nearly a mile from the canal, and cut the main road to the Dutch city of Aardenburg, two miles farther north.

The Germans were reported hurrying up reënforcements in an effort to rescue an estimated 11,000 of their comrades who have been cut off by the Canadians from escape by land from their imperiled positions on two Dutch islands in the Scheldt.

In northern France, the United States 3d army was locked in hand-to-hand combat with the Germans in Meirieres-les-Metz, six miles north of Metz, but there were no developments elsewhere on this front.

7th Army Takes 4 Villages.

The United States 7th army to the south seized four villages in driving to within 12 miles of Schlucht pass, 28 miles north of Belfort, and had the city of Le Thillot, 15 miles north of Belfort, hemmed in from three sides.

It was a slow, slugging match on the southern end of the front. While the French struck dug-in defenses and heavy artillery fire, they drew up their lines 12 miles west of Schlucht pass by capturing the villages of Orimont, Gerbamont, Planois and Trougemont, from seven to eight miles east of Remiremont. They also held positions five miles west of the Bussang pass thru the Vosges 16 miles north of Belfort.

Strategic Le Thillot north of Belfort was closely invested, but the Germans were holding out in an effort to deny to the allies the use of its network of roads leading into the mountains.

U. S. AIR FLEET BOMBS NAZI WAR PLANTS IN VIENNA

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Between 750 and 1,000 long range 15th air force heavy bombers and escorts from Italy today smashed German war plants in Vienna and western Hungary. Hundreds of fighter bombers on the western front paced the ground fighting with punishing attacks on Aachen and German garrisons in western Holland.

The R. A. F. bomber command reported complete destruction of Kleve and Emmerich, German frontier towns in the Nijmegen area, attacked Oct. 8 by Lancasters and Halifaxes.

The powerful formations of Italy-based heavies went as far as Silesia, pounding industrial targets and railroads over which the Germans are supplying their troops opposing the Russian drive toward Budapest.

Liberators bombed the Floridsdorf rail yards and near-by Austrian motor works in the western quarter of Vienna, where trucks, tools, and transport components are manufactured. Rail yards 35 miles west of Budapest on the main line to Vienna were struck by Liberators. Rail yards 45 miles southwest of Budapest also were attacked.

CHARGES NAZIS SHOOT MEN WHO HELP WOUNDED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE U. S. 3D ARMY, Maizieres, France, Oct. 11 [Delayed].—Second Lt. Stephen Vosburg of Augusta, Me., a member of the medical administrative corps, today accused the Germans of deliberately shooting American aid men. Vosburg led a party who volunteered to reach a wounded American after an aid man who tried had been shot and killed. He said that despite the Red Cross markings on the litter and the aid man's helmet German sharpshooters fired on the party and prevented completion of their errand of mercy.

YANK'S YELLS, GUNS TAKE FORT AND 18 GERMANS

WITH A U. S. INFANTRY DIVISION INSIDE THE SIEGFRIED LINE, Oct. 9 [Delayed]—(AP).—A fearless 25 year old sergeant from Pores Knob, N. C., who kept a German garrison awake half the night by yelling and firing a captured machine gun, laconically informed his company commander today he had captured a Siegfried line pillbox after killing four of the enemy and capturing 18.

In almost the same breath Staff Sgt. Roy C. Russell, with an embryo arsenal strapped to his waist, announced his next objective would be another pillbox a short distance away.

"If I could get that I'd command the whole valley," said this genial southerner, whose squirrel hunting at home made him a terror with a gun.

"He's crazy enough to get down into that, despite all kinds of German guns around there," said the company commander, Capt. Daniel J. Manning, Northampton, Mass., chuckling over the way Russell unnerved the German with his yells.

No Trouble at All, He Says.

First Sgt. Clarence Umberger, Tennessee, Ill., said: "I'll bet they thought a wild man was after them."

Altho the whole regiment praised his prowess in taking the pillbox, Russell said that it hadn't been a bit of trouble. The dramatic scene occurred 40 miles south of Aachen.

Capt. Manning told how the sergeant started the job last Saturday by machine gunning three Germans who were running toward the pillbox. The entrance to the fortification had been covered with dirt by a bulldozer at least a week before, trapping the garrison.

Russell saw shovelfuls of dirt being thrown up by a German who was trying to uncover the entrance. The sergeant put him out of business with three grenades.

On Sunday afternoon after American mortar fire knocked out an enemy machine gun and mortar batteries protecting the pillbox, Russell worked his way up to it thru sniper fire and coaxed out its nine occupants with a couple of grenades and plenty of yells.

Chicagoan Gets Into Fort.

By the time he conducted his prisoners to the company command post nine more Germans sneaked into the pillbox under cover of dusk and drove him off with automatic pistols and machine guns. When he returned today after a night of his best banshee yells Russell frightened out this second shift with a half dozen rifle grenades.

From foxholes Pvt. Dennie Richardson, Shelbyville, Ind.; Pvt. Cortland Dennison, Cane Valley, Ky., and Pvt. William Ahlvorn, Mitchell av., Arlington, Cal., had covered Russell during his hazardous forays on the pillbox. They and Sgt. Robert Lamphere, 5441 S. Neenah av., Chicago; Pvt. Paul J. Champagne, Reserve, La., and Pvt. Clement E. Mejia, El Paso, Tex., are in the pillbox tonight.

The sergeant has killed so many Germans he's lost track of the total. Sgt. Joseph Anton of Fairfax, Minn., estimated the total at 50, and remarked that "he's killed more than I've seen on the front."

Russell has a couple of bullet scars he received in Normandy, but he is prouder of two holes in his helmet, where a bullet went in and out. He escaped with only a slight burn.

RUNAWAY SON SOUGHT.

William Leisberg, 2426 Kimball av., asked police yesterday to search for his son, James, 15, who left home Monday.

CHICAGO HERO'S DEATH AT ANZIO TOLD BY BUDDY

T-5 Gibson's Gun Knocks Out 4 Gun Nests.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE AMERICAN 3D INFANTRY DIVISION, in France, Oct. 13.—The announcement that the congressional medal of honor had been conferred posthumously on Tech. 5th Grade Eric Gibson of Chicago, was received here today by his comrades of the 13th regiment of the 3d division with gratitude that his heroism and sacrifice for them at Anzio Jan. 29 had been fittingly recognized.

T/5 Eric Gibson.

One of the men who was in Gibson's unit at Anzio told in full detail, for the first time, the story of Gibson's bravery during the bitter attack on Cisterna which cost the Rangers so dearly.

[The hero's father, Erland Gibson, a farmer of Rice Lake, Wis., accepted the award at a ceremony witnessed by 5,000 soldiers of the 76th division at Camp McCoy on Sept. 15. The Gibson family came to the United States from Sweden 20 years ago and resided in Chicago until three months ago.]

Cooking Duties Too Tame.

Gibson had been a company cook but he thought that occupation was too tame. He made a deal with his company commander to be content with his pots and pans when the outfit was in reserve but to be allowed to fight as an infantry man when the unit was in the line.

He died after having wiped out four German machine gun nests. His "buddy" who told the story of Gibson's heroism, since has become a veteran of combat with the 3d division in Italy and France. "Don't use my name," he said. "It's Gibson's story. We knew there were many brave men in combat, but we had never heard of any one like him before."

"Our squad leader had been wounded a few days before and Gibson was put in charge of us," this soldier said.

Gibson Finds Germans.

"The hour was 12:00 [noon]. By 12:15 our squad had entered the Fossa Femina Morta with Gibson in the lead. We new men were pretty jumpy. One of us remarked that Fossa Femina Morta meant the ditch of the dead wemen and we were afraid it would be a ditch of dead men before we got out of it. Gibson ordered us to remain 50 yards back while he went ahead and found some Germans for us.

"We had gone only a few steps when enemy machine gun fire spat from a clump of brush half way up the bank of the ditch. The bullets couldn't have missed Gibson by more than a few inches.

"He didn't even hit the ground as he ran 20 yards up the ditch and up the bank right thru that hail of fire, firing his sub-machine gun from his hip every few steps. Then he poked his weapon into the brush and gave it a final burst.

"He waved for us to come on up to him. There was a hole in the bank behind the brush. In that hole we saw our first dead German.

"Gibson moved on again. Fritz opened up with heavy artillery which fell in and around the ditch. One shell exploded so near Gibson that the concussion knocked him flat. When he arose he was fired on again by a machine pistol and a rifle 75 yards away. He charged down the ditch. A heavy machine gun cut loose on him, the bullets slamming into the bank just at about his head. He didn't pay any attention, but raced the 75 yards and poured his submachine gun fire into another brush pile.

Silences Second Nest.

"When we caught up with Eric again one German lay dead in a hole and a second one came out with his hands up. The squad hadn't done any fighting yet. Gibson had done it all for us. We had gone only a short distance farther when another Kraut heavy machine gun cracked at us from 200 yards up the ditch.

"Eric crawled back and told us to lay down a base of fire on the enemy position while he moved along the top of the ditch. We told him not to do it, but he crept up the bank and started across the corner of an open field.

"I saw him crawl 125 yards thru the fire of two German machine guns and flying shell fragments. When he got within 35 yards of the enemy position he threw two hand grenades into it and before the second one exploded he was on his feet and sprinting thru the smoke with his submachine gun blazing.

Kills Two More Germans.

"We brought the squad up to him. He had killed two more Germans and captured another. We stood there for a minute just looking at the Germans and looking at Gibson. But he wasn't thru yet. He went ahead to reconnoiter a bend in the ditch. As he vanished from sight we heard an enemy machine pistol open up and then a retorting burst from his submachine gun.

"There was quiet, awesome quiet. We ran up to aid him. He was lying on the ground. He had gone again into enemy machine gun fire. The German gunner was dead, too.

"But perhaps the corporal never knew that he got his man, for from the position in which he lay it appeared Eric had died still trying to fire his gun."

Robert Call, a Negro band leader, thought a canary was concealed in the piano in his apartment at 4345 Michigan av. until a mouse came out singing. Call put it in a cage. TOWN PLAGUED BY WITCH GOES BACK TO SLEEP

SCRAPFAGGOT GREEN, England, Oct. 13 (AP).—In an eerie end to one of England's weirdest witch tales, the villagers of this little Essex town have driven a new stake thru the grave of a woman burned at the stake and buried two centuries ago. They did it to peg the spirit they say disturbed their nights.

Over the telephone to London, Town Councillor Arthur Sykes told how he and seven of his neighbors yesterday rolled back the big boulder that marked the witch's last resting place.

"We had the first quiet night's sleep in many a day," he quickly added.

This is Sykes' story—and, he said a bit petulantly, "I'm a practical man, but there's been a lot of queer things going on around here."

Bulldozer Starts Trouble.

"The queer things" started after a bulldozer, widening a road so that military vehicles could use it, pushed aside the boulder which generations of the townspeople believed marked the resting place of the "witch."

What sort of "queer things?"

"All sorts," said Sykes. "Bells ringing at midnight. Clocks going wrong. Chickens disappearing. Sheep wandering from exitless fields. Things being moved and no sense to it.

"Yesterday the old church clock was found to be two hours slow and I can't remember it ever being wrong before."

Builder Charlie Dickson told of scaffolding poles which strong men can hardly lift being found scattered about like toothpicks.

Finds a Big Rock.

At one of the local pubs, Landlord Bill Reynolds scoffed at the tales. At least, he did until the evening when a customer complained about falling over a huge rock outside the pub door.

Reynolds said there were no rocks there, never had been. Then he looked outside to prove it. It took two men to carry the rock away, he said.

Some of the townsfolk became alarmed, Councillor Sykes reported, "and they wondered what would happen next." So they decided to take action and consulted Harry Price, head of the London university council for psychical investigation.

Price, who has put to the test innumerable stories of witches, ghosts and their ilk, said the trouble at Scrapfaggot Green is caused by a poltergeist, a noisy mischievous spirit the existence of which many people accept.

Issues Instructions.

"It has been proved that poltergeists exist," Price said. "I have listed more than 500 cases of such spirit tricks. Many of them have been put down to the influence of witches."

Price then issued instructions for setting the "witch" to rest.

The villagers did the rest, even to measuring the grave "by the inch," said Councillor Sykes, "to be sure of doing it proper" before driving the stake and rolling back the boulder.

"Mind you," he said, "I'm a practical man, but . . ."

THIEF GETS $19,000 AT LAKE FOREST DINNER PARTY

Chicago and Lake Forest police yesterday were investigating the $19,000 burglary of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Seaborne Reid, 788 E. Woodland rd., Lake Forest, Thursday night. While Reid, an executive of the Socony-Vacuum Oil company, and his wife, Margaret, were entertaining four guests at dinner, burglars entered the upper rooms of the home and took furs valued at $1,050 and rings, diamonds, pendants, and bracelets valued at $18,000.

Lt. Alex Brebner of the Lake Forest police said the thieves were experienced, passing over costume jewelry and taking only articles of value.

Possibility that the burglars reached the second floor on ladders was expressed after a gardener reported a set of ladders, kept in an outhouse, had been disturbed.

U. S. GUERRILLAS IN PHILIPPINES 'DEPRESS' JAPS

San Francisco, Oct. 13 (AP).—Effective guerrilla action in the Philippines in disrupting Japanese communications even before the sea forces moving nearer those islands have opened an invasion was admitted today over Tokyo radio.

Shozo Murata, Japan's ambassador to the puppet Philippine government, speaking on the first anniversary of the "independence" of the Philippines, was quoted in the broadcast as saying that the "activities of American guerrillas, which do not exist in other areas of the 'co-prosperity sphere,' have created difficulties in communications and served to further depress the people."

Murata said the efforts of the puppet president, Jose Laurel, and his government against the guerrillas "have not been very satisfactory."

POLISH PREMIER, CHURCHILL AND STALIN CONFER

Expect Compromise with Lublin Regime.

MOSCOW, Oct. 14 [Saturday]—(AP).—Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk of the Polish government in exile at London conferred with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill for two hours last night following talks with leaders of the Lublin Polish Committee of National Liberation.

Present at the discussions of the Polish premier with Stalin and Churchill were British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov, United States Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Tadeusz Romer, foreign minister of the London Polish group.

Observers predicated that the next step in the attempt to resolve the differences between the two Polish groups would be a conference, probably tomorrow, with all principals, including Edward Osubka-Morawski, head of the Lublin faction, and his aids attending.

Compromise Expected.

As the Anglo-American, Russian and Polish talks took shape, some sort of settlement was seen likely. The belief grew that a tentative compromise was near. Mikolajczyk also had conferred earlier in the day with Harriman and Molotov.

The talk with Harriman was described as a "friendly conversation" on "the general situation." Mikolajczyk said, "Naturally I am most hopeful" of an accord with the Lublin group, which has the backing of the soviet government. He did not comment on his talk with the Lublin leaders.

Sees Sincere Negotiations.

Mikolajczyk said he believed that his invitation to Moscow at this time was part of a sincere effort to settle the vexing Polish problem.

Altho the belief grew that a tentative compromise might be reached before the end of the Stalin-Churchill talks, no quick public announcement was expected because Mikolajczyk probably would have to return to London first and confer with his cabinet.

Diplomats here emphasized the difficulties to be surmounted. Mikolajczyk was not given a "blank check" by his exile government in London. His group is willing to discuss the border question with Russia, but has not offered to renounce the 1935 constitution, which it claims as sole legal authority.

Mikolajczyk suggested to the Lublin committee two months ago that his government be reorganized on the basis of five major political parties, including communists, but has not received a reply to this idea.

Lublin Makes Proposals.

The Lublin group wants the Polish president, Wladyslaw Raczkiewicz, shorn of his powers, the 1935 constitution abandoned, and the appointment of the Lublin commander in chief, Col. Gen. Rola Zymierski, as head of all Polish armed forces. The Lublin committee has suggested that Mikolajczyk join its group, perhaps as premier, but has said it would not join the London regime. It regards the 1935 constitution as undemocratic.

FOTITCH FIGHTS TITO CONTROL OF UNRRA SUPPLIES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13 (AP).—Constantine Fotitch, former Yugoslav ambassador and a member of the Central National committee of Yugoslavia, which is opposed to the leadership of Marshal Tito, protested today against any move to allow the distribution of UNRRA supplies in Yugoslavia to be made thru Tito controled machinery.

Fotitch, in a public statement, asked that the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration reject any request from Tito's committee that it be allowed to control the distribution of supplies.

Fotitch has been identified with the leadership of Gen. Mihailovic, Tito's rival inside Yugoslavia.

DAY OF LIBERTY AT HAND, PEOPLE OF GREECE TOLD

Germans Quit Athens, Rome Radio Says.

ROME, Oct. 13 (AP).—Gen. Henry Maitland Wilson, allied commander in the Mediterranean, told the Greek people in a broadcast tonight that "your day of liberation is at hand." Earlier the allied controled Rome radio declared German troops had evacuated Athens, the capital.

Unofficial reports said the Greek flag was flying over the Acropolis in Athens after three and a half years of Nazis domination of the ancient city.

[The French controled Algiers radio said that both Athens and its near-by port of Piraeus had been liberated.]

"We come now to sweep away all traces of the invader, and, by use of your ports and air fields, to harass his retreat," Gen. Wilson said in his broadcast. "Final victory is now assured."

Calls Conditions Different.

"For the second time in this war a force under my command is about to land in Greece, but, I am thankful to say, under very different conditions," Gen. Wilson said, referring to the ineffectual British effort to defend Greece in the spring of 1941."

[Wilson's troops landed in the Peloponnesus late in September. The London radio said his proclamation, altho broadcast last night, was recorded "a few days ago." London papers interpreted the statement to mean new week-end landings. One dispatch said Wilson had "taken the unprecedented step of announcing a British landing before it was made." Stories from Cairo and allied Mediterranean headquarters said new landings would be made in the Athens area.]

"At that time [1941]," Wilson said, "the armies of the German aggressor were building up in the north in preparation for their treacherous attack. Now the picture is very different. The agressors have been defeated, but not before they have inflicted three and a half years of untold suffering and privation on a brave nation.

Responding to Greek Call.

"When we were forced to leave Greece in April, 1941, you called to us 'come back again,' and we are now responding to that call."

The allied commander said administrative services would be restored as quickly as possible in order to speed relief to the Greek people.

"To achieve this object I call on you all to work together, both amongst yourselves and with us, and devote to that end the qualities of determination and self-sacrifice you have shown during these last bitter years."

A simultaneous proclamation by the Greek government in exile called on all Greeks to obey the government; promised "just punishment" of every one who had collaborated with the Germans, and urged avoidance of political disputes.

ALLIES BEAT OFF JAP ATTACK IN TIDDIM SECTION OF BURMA

SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND HDQ., Kandy, Ceylon, Oct. 13 (AP).—Allied forces have raided a Japanese post 22 miles south of the enemy's base at Tiddim in northwestern Burma and have beaten off an artillery supported Japanese attack east of Tiddim, Admiral Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced today.

The raid was conducted "successfully" and casualties were inflicted on the enemy, the war bulletin said, while east of Tiddim the Japanese suffered "heavy" casualties. Two enemy strongpoints were cleared out north of Tiddim by ground forces who advanced with air support. The air forces blasted Japanese positions at Tiddim.

West African troops pushed beyond Mowdok in the Sangu valley region of southeastern India near the Burmese border, but contact was lost with Japanese who had penetrated India near the Goppe pass.

Mars Ends 1,000 Hours' Flying Time to Hawaii

PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Oct. 13 (AP).—The U. S. S. Mars, largest flying boat in the world, landed here this week to complete 1,000 hours flying time between Pearl Harbor and San Francisco, Cal. In that time she has flown more than 200,000 miles and has carried a million pounds of cargo. She carried the customary 25 passengers, 4,000 pounds of mail, and 15,000 pounds of cargo in her latest flight.

SUPER FORTS RIP FORMOSA; NAVY BAGS 525 PLANES

was done to our surface ships," the admiral said.

Yesterday's action cost the Japanese 11 more ships sunk, 14 probably sunk, and three others damaged. Thirty-seven small craft were sunk or damaged. Some 221 planes were shot down or destroyed on the ground the first day. Yesterday the Japanese lost 175 more.

The score for the two days at Formosa was:

396 planes destroyed.
27 ships sunk.
14 ships probably sunk.
22 ships damaged.
37 small craft sunk or damaged.

Jap Losses Tabulated.

The reports from the task force, under direct command of Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, and a part of the 3d fleet, commanded by Adm. William F. Halsey, tabulated the losses as follows:

Ships sunk: Two large cargo ships, four medium cargo ships, nine small cargo ships, 12 coastal cargo ships.

Ships probably sunk: One large cargo ship, three medium cargo ships, three small cargo ships, one oil tanker, five coastal cargo ships, and one minesweeper.

Ships damaged: Six medium cargo ships, 15 small cargo ships, and one large troop transport.

From the reports it was indicated the Halsey-Mitscher task force achieved complete surprise in its Wednesday attack, which began before dawn. The Japanese were forced to concentrate on futile attempts to defend bases and shipping rather than attack American warships in force.

What attacks they were able to mount against the American ships cost them at least 11 planes, three to carrier night fighters and the remainder to ship ack-ack.

Enemy Lacks Planes.

Nimitz said it was obvious the Japanese had few planes based on either Formosa or the Pescadores, a small island group west of Formosa off the China coast.

Heavy damage was inflicted on Formosa air bases, port facilities, and shore installations.

Since Aug. 30 the Halsey-Mitscher combination has destroyed 1,497 Japanese airplanes and damaged 89. In the same period 428 Japanese ships were sunk or damaged.

The Formosa attack demonstrated the expanding power of the American navy. Within four days the Americans have hit the Philippines, Formosa, the Ryukyu Islands, and Marcus Island. The first three were aerial attacks and the Marcus assault was restricted to an all-day ship bombardment last Sunday.

Nimitz said the Formosa raiders apparently worked down the western side of the island approximately 100 miles from the China coast.

Extensive damage to hangars and industrial establishments resulted at Einansho, Okayama, Tamsui, Heito, Reigaryo, and Taichu.

Tactical Effects Described.

Japan's communication lines probably were so badly disrupted by the carrier strikes—strikes which still may be in progress—that Gen. MacArthur and Adm. Nimitz now can halt Japanese freedom of movement between the various Philippine islands whenever they choose to combine forces for this purpose.

The Japanese said more than 1,000 American planes took part in the raids on Formosa. Judging from the huge forces available, this seems a reasonably accurate estimate.

This suggests that an American naval-air armada, one of the largest ever assembled, inflicted blows which shattered Japan's inter-island security in the Philippines.

The Formosan blows are believed to have deprived the Philippines of support from Japan.

10 Warships Blasted: Tokyo.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 14 [Saturday]—(AP).—The Tokyo radio said today that Japan has "sunk or destroyed 10 enemy warships of which six are carriers," during recent American raids in the Pacific. The broadcast was in English for American consumption.

"War results available up to Friday night," said the broadcast, "were: One: Instantaneously sunk, six enemy aircraft carriers and a warship of unidentified type, most probably a carrier. Two: Damaged, two carriers and a warship of unidentified type, also assumed to be a carrier."

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP).—Representatives Griffiths [R., O.] and Thomas Miller [R., Pa.] checked up today on life in oft-bombed London. Griffiths said they were not on official business for a congressional committee, but were here "on their own" and—among other things—were looking into the morale of the troops.

RUSSIANS OCCUPY FINNISH PORT IN PETSAMO AREA

LONDON, Oct., 13 (AP).—Russian troops have occupied the port of Liinahamara in the Petsamo area of northern Finland, the German international information bureau said today. Across from this northern terminus of the Arctic highway and near the Swedish border, a Helsinki bulletin reported. Finnish troops were attacking German lines. In the Kemi river area the Finns reached the Koivy river, and in the Tormea River valley had passed Korpikylae, the communique said.

DNB, official German news agency, reported that large scale fighting of German Alpine troops west of Murmansk continued against strong Russian formations.

Fresh Russian landings at Petsamo bay were reported. DNB said all soviet attacks on the Arctic front were foiled by strong German defenses.

POLISH LEADER ASSAILS F. D. R. AS 'ARTFUL DODGER'

New York, Oct. 13 [Special].—"Friends of Poland and adherents of liberty and justice in America" will not be fooled by "Rooseveltian political opportunism," John Giminski, New York Polish leader, said today in assailing the President's "usual artful dodging" of questions put to him at the White House Wednesday by representatives of the Polish American congress.

Giminski, president of the Pulaski Republican League of New York, denounced the President's attitude on Poland's post-war status in a statement today following a conference of league leaders here.

He asserted 3,700 delegates to the Polish American congress, representing 6 million Americans of Polish descent, resolved May 30 at Buffalo, N. Y., to present a memorial on behalf of Poland to the President but the White House spurned the memorial until after Gov. Dewey on Oct. 8 "expressed the sentiments of the American people."

M'ARTHUR FLYERS ATTACK PHILIPPINES IN 'MILK RUN' RAIDS

ALLIED HDQ., New Guinea, Oct. 14 [Saturday]—(AP).—Bomber and fighter patrols maintained "milk run" harassing attacks Tuesday over the Philippines and Dutch East Indies, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced in today's war bulletin.

Other patrols ranged over the frequently pounded targets on New Guinea and in the Bismarcks and Solomons.

The Southwest Pacific planes also ranged into the central Philippines. Two Liberators, on separate patrols, each sank or damaged a small freighter at Leyte. Two small freighters were hit at Zamboanga on the southwest coast of the Philippines. Davao and Tacloban airdromes on Mindanao were attacked.

REYNOLDS SAYS U. S. IS BUILDING WORLD HATREDS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13 [Special].—Chairman Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.] of the senate military affairs committee today predicted in an interview that the United States, due to lend-lease and the Dumbarton Oaks peace plan, will "wind up with everybody hating her more than ever before."

Citing the "paradox of China," as an example, Reynolds charged Russia is using American lend-lease to "equip the Communists of north China in their fight against Chiang Kai-shek," while we supply the latter directly with lend-lease aid.

The "power bloc of big nations," as evolved at Dumbarton Oaks, Reynolds said, will make enemies of every small nation in the world.

Instead of Russia, Great Britain, the United States, China, and France holding the balance of power, Reynolds proposes a bloc of small nations having identical voting rights with the larger nations' bloc.

ROMANIA HOLDS 300 FOR TRIAL AS WAR CRIMINALS

5 Ex-Ministers Arrested; New Cabinet Awaited.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUCHAREST, Romania, Oct. 12 [Delayed].—Maj. Gen. Ion Potopeanu was under arrest today as a "war criminal" after resigning last night as minister of finance and economy. The arrests of four other former ministers and six other former officials also were announced today and the arrest of Veturia Goga, widow of a former Fascist premier, was confirmed. Reorganization of the government is expected momentarily.

All persons who held responsible political positions between 1940 and last Aug. 23 must face trial, today's newspapers said.

Today's list of arrests included these former cabinet members: Premier Ion Gigurtu, Foreign Minister Michael Manoilescu, who signed the Vienna arbitration award giving away most of Transylvania; Education Minister Ion Petrovici, and Minister of Justice I. M. Marinescu.

300 Others Seized.

Some of the celebrities, it was reported, had been under arrest for some time altho the fact was announced only now. Three hundred other persons also have been seized and accused of war crimes, it was disclosed.

King Michael signed a decree yesterday providing that all persons who took part in the armed rebellion of Jan. 21, 1941, be excluded from the benefits of the political amnesty decrees issued last Aug. 23, following the coup d'tat. Dimitri Negel, acting minister of justice, in a statement accompanying yesterday's decree said it was in line with the drive to punish all persons who have committed assassinations, assaults, thefts, arson, or other crimes in the name of political activity in the last 10 years.

Romanian Leftist parties today formed a National Democratic Front to include all democratic groups not included in the present four party democratic bloc.

Ask Role in Cabinet.

"The council of the National Democratic Front has invited the National Peasant and the Liberals to participate in the front," said a special edition of the Leftist newspaper Romania Libera. "The council is asking that the king form immediately a new cabinet from members of the National Democratic Front, inviting the National Peasant and the Liberal party to join them. In event these parties do not accept, the National Democratic Front has decided to assume the sole responsibility of government."

TANK CUTS WIDE SWATH AMONG PELELIU JAPS

PELELIU, Palau Islands—[Delayed].—They called her the Blade because of the big bulldozer blade bolted to her bow. But at heart she was a 33 ton Sherman tank and she cut a wide swath among the Japanese defenders of this island. Commanding the Blade was marine Sgt. Glen Mulligan, 23, Bradley, Ill., veteran of Guadalcanal, and Arawe, New Britain.

Landing on Peleliu the Blade was to clear roads for other tanks and push out stalled ones. The only fighting she was to do was in self defense. Shortly after landing the Blade was putting a tow line on a disabled tank. Then, said Sgt. Mulligan, a "passel of Japs jumped us. We moved into them." The "moving in" resulted in 20 dead Japanese.

Members of the Blade's crew also included Pvt. Wilfred L. Richards, 20, Portage, Wis., loader.

Small Gains Scored Against Nazis

Propaganda Directed at 'Rumor Mongers.'

New York, Oct. 13 [Special].—A nation-wide counter-propaganda drive aimed at cementing German war morale, beginning in fifth grade classrooms and extending thru the army to the entire social framework, has been opened by the Nazis to combat the "thoughtless spreading of war essential facts" and to drive home the line the allies are fighting all Germans and not just the Nazis.

The extent of the campaign, known under the title of "the enemy listens in" and including a subsidiary "warning week" directed against "rumor mongering," was disclosed by Deutsche Wissenschaft, Erzeihung und Volksbildung [German science, training, and education], a Nazi periodical.

In an article reported today to the office of war information, the Nazi publication printed directives for the guidance of teachers and professors in Germany and political instructors of German soldiers at the front. The directives, issued on orders of Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels and Armaments Minister Albert Speer, gave detailed information on how to combat general allied propaganda and especially the "drum fire of so-called shock reports."

In a reprimand to the German people, the Nazi DNB agency said today in a wireless dispatch to the German press that "in many instances the undisciplined behavior by the population in front of and inside air raid shelters has caused injuries to individuals and even fatal casualties."

"It is more than careless to run about on the streets while the alert is on—a fact which can today be noticed ever more frequently," the dispatch added.

The British radio said today that the first non-Nazi burgermeister appointed in Germany, in the town of Ellendorf about three miles east of Aachen, has issued a proclamation to the population calling for the "strictest obedience" and declaring that "the occupation troops have in no way bothered the civilian population."

Blast Foe's Lines

ROME, Oct. 13 (AP).—German troops before Bologna, as their predecessors at Cassino, came up out of their foxholes today after enduring what the 15th air force described as the "greatest aerial assault of the war on a single target area." The Nazis rejoined the furious struggle for the final hills before the Po valley metropolis.

There was little doubt that yesterday's tremendous strike by hundreds of American heavy and medium bombers inflicted serious damage on German installations. However, today's allied bulletin reported heavy fighting in progress with "no material advances" around the embattled highway center of Livergnano, 10 miles south of Bologna.

East and west of the Florence-Bologna highway the Americans captured several more hills, while the British 8th army near the Adriatic moved up highway 9 to a point about three miles northwest of Savignano.

Livergnano, to which the Germans have clung with grim tenacity for several days, is partly outflanked by American infantry moving thru the hills on either side.

CHINESE REPULSE JAPS 25 MILES FROM KWEILIN

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 13 (AP).—Japanese columns have been repulsed by Chinese troops 25 miles north of Kweilin, key point in south China's defense system, after fierce fighting, but other enemy units have broken into Kweiping, an important communications center about 70 miles southeast of Liuchow, the Chinese high command announced today.

Maj. Gen. Chang Tung Chuen, Chinese spokesman, acknowledged at a press conference today that the Japanese had reduced the area of free China between Manchuria and Hongkong to a 60 mile wide strip with their gains on Kweilin from the north and Liuchow from the east. He reported that street fighting is continuing in Kweiping. He admitted that Foochow fell to the Japanese on Oct. 5.

Gen. Chang insisted that even if the Japanese succeeded in splitting China in half, the Chinese still will be able to give active support to any American forces landing on the China coast.

A.E.F. IN EUROPE EATING 95 PCT. AMERICAN FOOD

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The American army on the European continent is getting 95 per cent American food. Even now "B" rations, which include fresh meat, are being served to more than 85 per cent of all troops, American and allied. France's one contribution to the soldier's diet is fresh vegetables of which there is a plentiful supply.

These were disclosures today by Maj. Gen. Robert J. Littlejohn, chief quartermaster for the European theater of operations, whose job is to see that the troops are fed, clothed, and sheltered.

27 Pounds Per Man Daily.

Littlejohn noted that 27 pounds of maintenance goods, not including ordnance, is needed daily for each soldier, as follows: food, 6 pounds; clothes, tents, soap, etc., ½ pound; gasoline, 15 pounds; fuel, 4 pounds; miscellaneous items, cigarets, candy, spare parts, and repair items, 1½ pounds.

Thousands of tons of warm clothing have been rushed in, 41 per cent of it by plane, and requirements of fighting troops have been met so far almost 100 per cent, Littlejohn reported. Nevertheless it will be necessary to increase production of clothing items in the United States, he said.

Half of Requirements.

Supplies coming to France are in many categories just half as much as required. Thus, whereas Washington, D. C., assumed that an overcoat would last a man 18 months it has been found good only for nine, it was disclosed at Littlejohn's headquarters. Fighting close to the ground in hedgerow combat, coupled with the great amount of movement entailed in the current campaign, has led to wear and tear far in excess of what had been anticipated.

The food ration of the men is to be boosted once cold weather sets in. This may amount to an increase of 15 to 20 per cent.

PHOTOS OF JAP OCCUPIED LANDS WANTED BY NAVY

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 13 (AP).—An urgent call for photographs of the Japanese mainland and of islands of Japan's war empire, to be used in invasion plans, was issued today by the navy.

Analysis of ground level photographs, a statement from 12th naval district headquarters said, "adds immeasurably to data gleaned from aerial photographs." It said shoreline photographs in particular would aid planners of landings in hostile areas and might save lives.

Pictures are needed of the Philippines, occupied China, the Netherlands East Indies, Indo China, Thailand, Malaya, and Burma.

CHURCHILL NOT ACTING FOR U. S. IN PARLEY: F.D.R.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—Prime Minister Churchill is not speaking for the United States in his conferences at Moscow with Marshal Stalin, President Roosevelt asserted today.

Mr. Roosevelt said he is being fully informed of the Moscow talks, but asserted it was silly to assume that Churchill is dealing with Stalin for the United States as well as for Britain.

The President's denial of Churchill as an American spokesman came as London hinted that Churchill and Stalin were dividing the Balkans into British and Russian spheres of influence. An editorial in the London Times, long regarded as the mouthpiece of the British government, suggested that a primary task of Churchill and Stalin was to divide the Balkans.

Regarding the French situation, the President indicated that he may be thinking of the administration of Gen. De Gaulle as a regular "de facto government" rather than merely an "authority." He said one could call it by either name.

Charges of child abandonment and child cruelty were filed against Mrs. Valerie McMinis, 20, yesterday as psychiatrists attempted to discover why she abandoned her year old baby girl in a vacant lot opposite 1329 S. Kilbourn av. Thursday night.

Mrs. McMinis' statement that she deserted the baby because she was fearful that she was losing the love of her husband, Osbourne, 29, was discounted after friends and neighbors of the couple said McMinis was an "exceptionally attentive" husband.

Police said there are apparently other reasons for the abandonment but as yet they had not been found. They continued to question Mrs. McMinis in her cell at detective headquarters, 11th and State sts.

McMinis remained at his wife's side and said he would help her fight the charges. Meanwhile the child, Juanita, was being treated at Loretto hospital for frostbite on her hands and legs suffered during the eight hours of exposure.

The couple live in a basement apartment at 1531 S. Kolin av. Mrs. McMinis will appear in felony court on Monday to face the charges.

Home from War

Lt. and Mrs. Roger J. Blake after his return home yesterday.

Lt. Roger J. Blake, who bailed out of a Flying Fortress last March near Rotterdam, made his way on foot to Belgium, and there fought with the Belgian underground for five months, was back home safe yesterday with his wife, Lorry, at 2105 S. 51st av., Cicero. He is the son of Atty. John A. Blake, 7435 N. Campbell av. He wears the air medal with two clusters, a Presidential citation, and the insignia of the caterpillar club and the order of the boot, which goes to men who escape from enemy occupied territory.

Lt. Blake was graduated from Northwestern university in 1939, then attended the University of Michigan law school until he joined the air forces in 1942. As a navigator, he served on 19 bombing missions, five over Berlin, before his plane was shot down during a raid on Munster, Germany. All the other members of his crew are now prisoners of war. When British forces captured Brussels, he joined them as a guide and interpreter, and then was flown back to the United States.

HUNGER STRIKE IS STAGED BY 7 WAR OBJECTORS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13 (AP).—W. T. Hammack, acting director of the bureau of prisons, disclosed today that six conscientious objectors whose names were not made public have been on a hunger strike at the Lewisburg, Pa., penitentiary since Sept. 24 in a sympathy demonstration for a seventh hunger striker who is expected to be released today.

Hammack said that John Mecartney of Columbus, O., committed to the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn., for failure to register for the draft refused to work and was transferred to Lewisburg "where he again went on a work strike."

Hammack said Mecartney still was on his work strike when he reached the end of his "short term" and it was decided that he was not entitled to any good behavior credits.

"As a result," Hammack said, "Mecartney went on a hunger strike in which he was joined by six of the other conscientious objectors. Mecartney has not come off his strike and in the ordinary course of procedure will be released today."

Mecartney was sentenced to 2½ years on Sept. 23, 1942.

CHICAGO FLYER KILLED IN CRASH OF FIGHTER SHIP

Fort Myers, Fla., Oct. 13 (AP).—Second Lt. David Vernon Jacobson, 23, son of Frank O. Jacobson, 3853 Addison st., Chicago, was killed today when his fighter plane crashed on the approach to the runway at Naples airdrome, sub-base of Buckingham army air field.

2 Killed in Indiana.

Bremen, Ind., Oct. 13 (AP).—Wayne Guard, 28, and C. D. Bunnell of South Bend were killed late today when their airplane crashed while attempting to land on a farm near here. The plane apparently struck a utility wire as it was coming into the field and burned.

Canada Sends Over 350 War Vets to Universities

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 13.—More than 350 veterans of this war have enrolled in Canadian universities and seven in United States schools, under Canada's educational assistance program, Ian A. Mackenzie, minister of pensions and health, announced today. Only 90 are former officers. The government pays all educational fees, plus $60 a month maintenance for a single man and $80 for a married man, in addition to allowances for dependents.

MARINE RETURNS TO TAKE PLACE OF 4 BROTHERS

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 13 (AP).—Marine Pvt. Boyd Borgstrom, 23, veteran of South Pacific warfare, returned to Utah today to "pitch in" on the farm that has sent five fighting brothers to the world's battlefronts. Three of the brothers were killed and the fourth is missing.

Borgstrom, shy and wearing a plaid jacket and tan trousers, stepped from a train into the waiting arms of his parents and three sisters.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alben Borgstrom, farmers near Tremonton, had asked marine corps headquarters to release Boyd to help on the farm. He was granted an honorable discharge.

The marine said he was "glad to be back" and was surprised that Ogden officials, reporters, and photographers awaited his arrival.

FINDS FEW U. S. VETS WHO NEED REORIENTATION

The idea that soldiers returning from overseas need reorientation courses before being fitted to resume their normal lives, as advanced by Mrs. Anna Rosenberg in Washington, D. C., recently, found no confirmation here yesterday in the observance of Mrs. Edward J. Kelly.

Mrs. Kelly, whose activities at the Chicago Service Men's centers have provided contacts with thousands of soldiers and sailors, said she had noted no such needs among the many returned veterans she had seen.

"We meet a great many of those boys who have been overseas two or maybe three years," she said. "I have never met any who appeared in need of reorientation. They seem to be well able and glad to adjust themselves to civilian life. There may be cases needing such reorientation, but I haven't met them."

COURT TO RULE ON ANTI-F. D. R. ELECTORS SLATE

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 13 [Special].—The State Circuit Court of Appeals today took under advisement until tomorrow the appeal of three Democratic Presidential electors who were replaced with New Deal conformists when the original three refused to be pledged to vote for President Roosevelt.

The controversy was described by the petitioners' counsel as capable of assuming national proportions by voiding a portion of the soldier vote or leaving the status of the slate of Democratic electors open to challenge by the Republican party.

The three electors asked the Appeals court to overrule the State District court which on Monday denied their application for an order to compel Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr. to include their names on the ballot.

Only Two Back F. D. R.

They were among 10 electors selected at the state convention. Five of the 10 resigned rather than sign a pledge to support the Roosevelt-Truman ticket. The three present litigants refused either to sign or resign. Only two of the original 10 stood by the New Deal program. The Democratic state central committee replaced the eight in revolt with party stalwarts.

Frank J. Looney of Shreveport, counsel for the three protesting electors, told the three judge court the Democratic committee had no right to remove any elector who had been certified and that the deadline for appointing electors had been passed five days when the committee named replacements for the three on Oct. 7.

Ballots Sent Overseas.

Secretary of State Martin told the court that immediately after the District court ruled against the electors on Monday he had distributed in 39 of the state's 64 parishes soldier ballots containing the names of the committee's present choice of electors. Many of these ballots, he said, already have been sent to soldiers overseas. He assumed the soldiers would be disenfranchised if the court voided the present ballots.

"All this soldier ballot business is political bunk," contended Looney. "The soldiers won't get their ballots in time to use them anyway. There just isn't time for the boys to vote the ballots and get them back."

The state attorney general has ruled that the short federal ballot cannot be used by Louisiana service men. The state's election laws provide there must be an immediate tally and report of voting results on election day.

SAVE 15 AS NAVY FLYING BOAT IS FORCED DOWN

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 13 (AP).—The quick rescue of 15 men from a four engined navy flying boat forced down at sea last night when two of its engines failed while en route to Honolulu was announced by the navy today.

The craft left the United States naval air station at Alameda, Cal. The navy said none of the five naval officers aboard as passengers was injured. All the men and the cargo were taken aboard a destroyer.

The plane, whose hull was damaged, will be salvaged at sea.

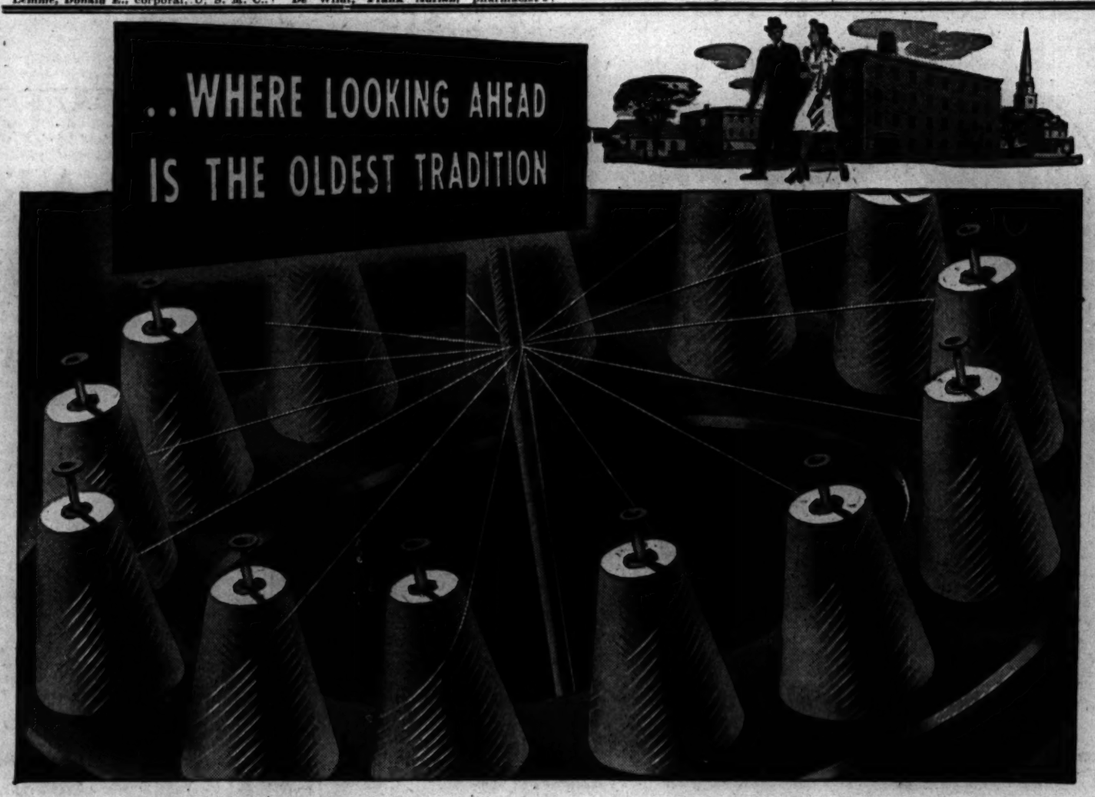
..WHERE LOOKING AHEAD IS THE OLDEST TRADITION



THE first successfully operated submarine in the world's history was dreamed, constructed and tested during the Revolutionary War—only a few miles from the site of the factory which now produces some of the most vital communications equipment for our Jap-dreaded undersea avengers!

In part, this is coincidence; but in a deeper sense it is natural that the equipment which The Ansonia Electrical Company produces comes from the Naugatuck Valley, where looking ahead is the oldest tradition!

In the last two years, we at Ansonia have met problems—connected with providing war material in quantity—which previously were unsolved because they did not exist. We look forward to providing the same abilities in peace. Not merely because of specialized mechanical equipment, but because meeting new needs in our field efficiently and economically has been and is our real business, we anticipate meeting similar and more difficult peacetime industrial problems involving electrical cables.

ANKOSEAL multi-conductor insulated cables are among the most promising of Ansonia war-proven developments. If you have, or expect to have, a use for electrical cables—CHECK ANKOSEAL!

TRUMAN LEAVES RESENTMENT IN WAKE IN SOUTH

Rebuffed in New Orleans; Snubs Mississippians.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 13 [Special].—A trail of resentment left by Sen. Truman in two rock-ribbed Democratic states today beset the Democrats' Vice Presidential candidate as he started on a campaign tour to carry the fourth term torch across the continent.

In New Orleans a group of Democratic leaders rebuffed him sharply for his "reform" advice to them. In Mississippi, where dissension in the party is still bubbling, party chieftains expressed pained surprise when they learned Truman had "sneaked" thru the state and apparently avoided them.

Senator in Audience.

The slap at Truman was administered here yesterday when Truman addressed a meeting of the Lower Mississippi Valley Flood Control association.

Among the 500 at the meeting were Sen. Overton [D., La.], who was re-elected president of the association; Sen. McClellan [D., Ark.], Rep. Whittington [D., Miss.], and prominent business men, all Democrats, from Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

Members of the association listened in disapproving silence as Truman extolled the New Deal's flood control agencies and emphasized President Roosevelt's recommendations that projects similar to the Tennessee Valley authority be established in many other river valleys.

Group Denounces Plan.

Shortly after he finished his speech the association adopted a resolution denouncing any such extension or further creation of regional or valley authorities and criticizing the agencies advocated by Truman as equivalent to establishing "regal principalities in this land of freedom."

It was reported that Truman had been advised not to make the address, but he disregarded the warning. He admitted later he had "tried to give them a hint to reform their ways." But the association wanted none of his reforming.

Most of Truman's address was devoted to the TVA and flood control projects and he received no applause during his expressions on this subject, which is a pet hobby of Interior Secretary Ickes as well as President Roosevelt.

Recommended by F. D. R.

Truman told his silent audience that none of the "government's many recent projects of merit exceeds in importance the proposed Missouri Valley authority" and declared the development of other valley areas was recommended to congress "by our great President in a special message which made clear his ambitions for the peoples on the Missouri, the Arkansas, and Columbia rivers."

But the association members set forth clearly in their resolution, reported to have been adopted unanimously, that they are unalterably opposed to any such plan.

"As pioneers in flood control and navigation and conservation of water resources of the United States," the resolution said, "the association expresses its firm conviction that all such activities are being administered to the best interests of the public and the government by existing departments.

'Principality' Opposed.

"We reaffirm our undeviating opposition to the creation or extension of so-called valley or regional authorities which are vociferously supported by a small minority seeking to radically change important fundamental principles of our democratic government.

"Without having any customary government check or supervision of revenues, expenditures, employment, purchases, and operations in a number of unrelated activities, the valley or regional authority is equivalent to a regal principality in this land of freedom that can be administered by its directors in a manner inimical to the best interests of the American people and without proper coördination with other projects in our vast inland waterway system of which they should be component and not independent parts."

Fails to Call Them.

In Mississippi Democratic leaders shrugged their shoulders and raised their eyebrows when they learned that Truman had spent 16 hours in the state earlier in the week but had not called on any of them.

En route by car to New Orleans, Truman drove within earshot of the state capitol and the executive mansion without visiting Gov. Thomas L. Bailey, titular head of the party in Mississippi. In fact, Truman's car stopped for service at a gasoline station near Bailey's office at a time the governor was there.

The station operator, Robert Bullock, recognized the Vice Presidential candidate but assertedly was cautioned not to spread the word of his presence.

He Sneaks Thru.

"Sen. Truman told me he didn't want any publicity—that he was just 'sneaking' thru," Bullock said.

Gov. Bailey, on learning of Truman's failure to call on him, expressed belief the nominee had "passed up a fine opportunity to help the Democratic cause."

Truman also passed thru Hernando, the home town of Chairman Herbert Holmes of the Democratic state executive committee without communicating with Holmes, who is cool toward a fourth term, and likewise did not stop in Grenada, home town of J. B. Perry, one of the Presidential electors whose stand on the fourth term is considered doubtful.

ARMY SURGEONS USE TANTALUM WIRE TO SEW JAWS TOGETHER

How fractured human jaws are sewed together with a fine seam of tantalum wire, and how the "it" quality is restored to feminine wearers of eyeglasses, were discussed at two scientific meetings here yesterday.

At the convention of the American Society of Oral Surgeons in the Stevens hotel, Comdr. George W. W. Christiansen of the navy medical center at Bethesda, Md., displayed motion pictures of the new tantalum technique, which he explained is hastening the recovery of victims whose jaws have been broken by accident or battle injuries.

The suture made of tantalum, a new metal which does not corrode inside the human body, is used to draw the broken parts of the jaw together.

A. J. Heller of Brooklyn, N. Y., president of the Contact Lens institute, announced at a conference of lens technicians in the Palmer House that a new powder has been perfected for use in molding plastic lenses worn in contact with the eyeball.

F. D. R. SAYS LAW MAY SUPPORT PETRILLO'S BAN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13 (AP).—President Roosevelt said today that if he could find a legal way he intended to do something about the AFL musicians' union's defiance of the war labor board.

The President was asked at his news conference whether he planned any action against James C. Petrillo, the musicians' head, who had rejected his personal request for compliance with the WLB's order to lift its ban on making recordings for two companies.

With a wry smile, the President replied that one day people wrote that he was a dictator and the next day that he should do something about Petrillo. He would like to do something, he added, but it was a great question whether he could do it legally. He said he expected to go into that question in the next few days.

The ban on making recordings originally was issued Aug. 1, 1942, and the WLB directed last June 15 that it be lifted.

350 JAMAICANS JAM TENEMENT! CITY PROTESTS

U. S. Hit for Flouting Fire, Health Laws.

Three hundred fifty Jamaican Negroes brought to Chicago by the government have been crowded into a three story building and annex at 2637 Prairie av., in violation of city health and fire ordinances, Ald. Lindell [9th], chairman of the housing committee of the city council, charged yesterday.

Ald. Lindell.

The Jamaicans were brought here to work in war factories, altho native Negro residents of Chicago resent them and charge that they are taking jobs which local Negroes could fill, Lindell said.

"The war man power commission asked the city to overlook the fact that the government is violating Chicago sanitation, fire, and building ordinances by jamming so many men into this one inadequate building, but the city refuses to overlook it," he said.

Vacation Orders Ignored.

Lindell said the Jamaicans, who are British subjects, were moved into the building more than six weeks ago. Two notices to abate the condition have been sent by the health department to Seymour Goodman, 820 E. 47th st., owner of the building. The occupancy of the building was reduced, but not sufficiently to meet building code requirements, it was said yesterday.

Paul Gerhardt, city building commissioner, said he was familiar with the case. He said he did not know what the government intended to do about it.

Heating, washing, and toilet facilities are inadequate for the imported workers, who sleep in triple deck bunks, Lindell said.

He made his charges at a meeting of a council subcommittee headed by Ald. Moss [5th] to investigate a fire Aug. 7 in which three Negro children died in a building at 335-337 E. Garfield blvd. The property had been remodeled into 38 apartments from 12.

The subcommittee received a list of suggestions from housing organizations for improving the building code. Moss said they would be considered during the next few weeks.

Suggest Heavier Penalties.

Housing groups suggested heavier penalties for violations of the building code; expansion of the staff of city building inspectors; and persistent prosecution of violations.

When it was suggested that substandard housing be razed and replaced by modern housing projects, principally financed by the government, Ald. Duffy [19th] objected.

"What we need is a sensible program for locating these government projects," he said. "I know of one case where the Chicago Housing authority tore down a $30,000 home to put up $3,700 houses."

Army Abandons Its Plan to Use South Side Hotel

The Pershing hotel, 6400 S. Cottage Grove av., whose occupants were evacuated before the army took it over Sept. 19, was turned back to its owner yesterday. The army announced that plans to use the hotel as a redistribution center have been abandoned. Marvin Winthrop, the owner, said the hotel, which has 168 rooms, will return to normal operation immediately. At the time the army took over, he added, 20 permanent guests were compelled to seek quarters elsewhere.

STARS ANGERED BY CHARGE THEY QUIT ON TROOPS

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 13 [Special].—A hornet's nest of indignation was stirred up among movie stars today by charges in a soldiers' weekly newspaper from the China-Burma-India war theater that some of the entertainers had failed to complete their schedules in that area and then cashed in at home on publicity for their "patriotism."

Excerpts from an editorial in the C. B. I. Roundup, the paper published in Delhi, India, were carried in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE today. The editorial named Joe E. Brown, Ann Sheridan, Al Jolson, Paulette Goddard, and Joel McCrea as having been among those who would turn up in "casual fashion in C. B. I. with accompanying ballyhoo, stay around just long enough to send out their laundry, and then truck off home."

"Didn't Miss 200 Men."

Brown, cavernous mouthed comedian whose son was killed in an air crash early in the war, asserted he "had played every spot that was humanly possible to play." "I did all a 53 year old man could do and the China area where I played was a lot rougher than most of India," he said. "One of the officers told me there weren't 200 men in the whole theater I had missed."

Brown, who played four of his 10 months overseas in the C. B. I. area, displayed a letter relayed to his wife by Taylor Spink, editor of the Sporting News, St. Louis, Mo. The letter to Spink from Capt. Bucky Walter [believed to be Capt. Floyd Walter, whose name appears in the Roundup as being in charge of editorial matter] lauded Brown as having done "a grand job in C. B. I. land."

"Brown's tour was a triumphant success," the letter said. "He visited every nook and cranny of the C. B. I., in the jungles, in China, everywhere. When he returned to this station, you could see he had aged 10 years. He needed rest but he hopped off for the middle east, North Africa, Italy, and England. The unanimous version: a 100 per cent trouper."

"No Holds Barred."

In New York, the red haired Miss Sheridan said she would "fight boy fashion, no holds barred, with anybody who thinks I or any of the gang I accompanied dogged it in the overseas theater."

In an open letter to the Roundup and signed "G. I. Annie," Miss Sheridan said she had traveled 60,000 miles in a "few days less than 60, playing two shows, eating C or K rations more often than hot groceries, much of it standing up—and then, when it's little girl's room time, go down to the men's washroom and wait till it's cleared so that the girl troupers may use it."

She said she had been correctly quoted as saying she was eager to return to overseas entertaining, but that she did not wish to return to the C. B. I. theater. "I say that again," she added.

In Beverly Hills, Jolson said he knew of no star who had "played shows abroad for publicity or for anything but patriotism." Jolson asserted he had never been booked for the C. B. I. area but would go there "whenever they want me."

"I served on four fronts but that is not enough," he said. "Who am I to withhold my poor services when our men are going thru the agonies of hell to keep our country free?"

It's Tough Theater.

The Roundup had said Jolson "was reported to be ill but gave performances in Italy and North Africa when he was scheduled for C. B. I."

Miss Goddard said: "One of my very close friends has gone to C. B. I. because I preached the need of the men there for entertainment. They're right—it is a tough theater."

A spokesman for her said she was hospitalized "by army doctors' orders" six days before the end of her scheduled tour of 60 performances.

McCrea, who is on a hospital tour of the south for the Hollywood Victory committee, could not be reached but a committee spokesman said McCrea and other stars traveling on military orders spent all the time abroad for which they had contracted.

A spokesman for the committee said the committee obtains commitments from actors and actresses to make the tours and they are turned over to U. S. O. camp shows, which handle passports, inoculations and equipment and then land the players at the port of embarkation.

"From that point, the stars are in the hands of the army just as any G. I. Joe is," the spokesman said. Every committee player is an unpaid volunteer."

G. O. P. IN HANDS OF CAPITALISTS, WALLACE SAYS

Cleveland, O., Oct. 13 (AP).—Vice President Wallace asserted tonight that the Republican party's "real power consists of big capitalists, monopolists, and cartel builders."

In an address at a political rally in Cleveland's public hall, Wallace said Gov. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, "is likely to become even more confused if he continues half the time to talk liberalism and half the time to express the thoughts of the real power in the national Republican party.

He described the Republican organization as the party of the Pews and Grundys of Pennsylvania, the Gannetts and Ham Fishes of New York, the Hearst-Patterson-McCormick newspaper axis, the Tafts, Girdlers, and Hannas of Ohio.

"These are the people whom the Republican candidate would ultimately have to reckon with if he tried to make good on any genuinely liberal promises," he said.

ASTAIRE PICKS UP TEETH THAT NAZIS FORGOT

New York, Oct. 13 [Special].—Dancer Fred Astaire sported several sets of false teeth today. The teeth were his but he wasn't wearing them. They're his favorite trophy from a USO tour of front lines in France, Belgium, and Holland.

"The Germans were running away so fast they left everything," Astaire said in an interview. "They were in such a terrific hurry, they even forgot their teeth. I found these in a deserted dental laboratory."

F. D. R. 3 TIMERS ASK AMERICANS TO FORGIVE THEM

Admit a Grave Error in Backing New Deal.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 13 [Special].—A voters' organization, claiming 19,000 members who earnestly supported President Roosevelt and his New Deal administration thru three campaigns, today confessed its "unpardonable error and sorry mistake" and asked the repudiation by all independent voters of this "monstrous thing we helped to create."

In "bravely setting forth to make amends," the organization—the Independent Voters' League of Ohio—said it seeks "to destroy the evils of the totalitarian rule of our country before it brings destruction to every principle of freedom, liberty, and the pursuits of happiness by which real men and women shape their lives."

Group Formed in 1929.

Charles Grissom, personnel director of a Cleveland war plant and spokesman for the league, said the organization received its charter in Ohio in 1929 and later was asked by James Farley, former national Democratic chairman, to back Mr. Roosevelt's campaign.

The organization worked for the election of Roosevelt in 1932, 1936, and 1940 and "until the beginning of his present term, we confidently supported and proudly applauded his labors," said the league in a statement to newspapers today.

The league outlined the following reasons for deserting the New Deal:

"Under the guise of humanitarian motivation, the Roosevelt administration seeks to destroy the democratic processes of government and free enterprise.

Assails Red Alliance.

"In its efforts to subtly and deviously change our form of government, the New Dealers have made alliances with the forces of communism and English imperialism.

"We have a war to win but we want it won for the human values which must accrue in proportion to the lives and efforts we, as a nation, have expended. When victory is finally won, we want a man in the White House who will be neither a tool nor a victim of 'Winnie' Churchill.

"We have no confidence in the ability of Mr. Roosevelt to match wits and so-called diplomacy with 'Winnie' and come out better than second best.

"The New Dealers have all but destroyed the means by which returning members of our fighting forces may find ready employment.

Commander of Jobholders.

"We object to the 'commander in chief' bunk. The only thing Mr. Roosevelt is commander in chief of is the army of jobholders on the public pay roll.

The league said it had "no apologies for our support [of Roosevelt] from 1932 to 1940," declaring it felt he had done a good job during his first term and deserved a second "in the hope he would pull us out of our economic tailspin." The group "began to doubt his ability" in 1940 but "with many misgivings went along with the New Dealers who, upon reelection, stepped out with burocracy in full bloom."

Found: Mrs. Roosevelt's Place in 4th Term Drive

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Vice President Wallace, Sidney Hillman, and Earl Browder all have a place in the fourth term campaign, Sen. Johnson [D., Colo.] told reporters today. Sen. Johnson, a foe of both the third and fourth terms, named it: "In cold storage." Or to use another figure of speech, he said: "They are proving to be a millstone around the President's neck."

DIFFERENT NOW, SEABEES GLOAT AT GAY REUNION

Vets Recall Shelling by Jap Fleet.

Oct. 13, 1942. Jungle stench and darkness and a killing rain of Jap shells.

Oct. 13, 1944. Food and drink and music in a comfortable Chicago hotel with wives and fiances around the table.

This was the difference two years made in the lives of 60 members of the navy's 6th construction battalion. On the earlier date they underwent on Guadalcanal the most frightful bombardment of their whole 27 months in the Pacific.

Their Second Reunion.

"Last night they gathered in the Bismarck hotel for their second annual reunion and strove to make it the high point of their 30 day leaves. [Their first commemoration of Oct. 13, 1942, was in New Caledonia last year.]

"The Tokio express [the Jap fleet] came in and pounded hell out of us for four hours," Chief Ship Fitter Irvin J. Rose recalled. He said that this was the worst punishment of the campaign, not only for the 6th Seabees, but also for the 1st division marines.

"They're pretty good boys," he added.

Asked what the experience was like, Chief Rose, whose home is in Milwaukee, threw up his hands.

"You've got to go thru it to know," he said.

Enjoy Big City Luxury.

The men enjoyed the big city luxury of their meeting place as if they had never seen anything like it in their lives.

"This is what we were thinking about that night in '42," said Machinist's Mate 2d Class Paul Morehead, 313 N. Austin blvd., as he surveyed the richly appointed room.

Questioned as to what the Seabees were talking about at the various tables, the men gave differing answers. "Being home," said Chief Rose. "Old times," said Machinist's Mate 2d Class James Lawlor, 1411 S. 11th av., Maywood. "Those tall cold drinks," said Ship Fitter 1st Class Walter Daniels, 7213 Vincennes av.

RUSSIAN COINS STOLEN.

Abe Margulies, a raincoat cementer, of 3924 Argyle av., told police yesterday burglars who entered his home stole 35 Russian coins and $54 and left the front door bolted from the inside.

D. A. R. LEADER SEES SUBVERSIVE THREAT IN HILLMAN'S PAC

Sidney Hillman was designated as an "agitator" and his CIO political action committee the embodiment of an alien idea in American political thought here yesterday by a leader of the Daughters of the American Revolution who is well known in the society for her study of subversive movements in this country.

It was in a talk urging women to vote in the November election that Mrs. Vinton Earl Sisson, adviser to the D. A. R. national defense committee, gave her opinion of PAC and its chairman. The occasion was a divisional Red Cross and national defense meeting of Chicago area D. A. R.; held at Marshall Field & Co.

"Radical elements are getting out the vote," Mrs. Sisson told the women, "and it is chiefly because of the announced intention of radical leaders of labor to purge from office all congressmen who have refused to accede to the selfish demands of these leaders that the November election is vitally important to every American."

VETS IN OZARKS RECALL TRIBUNE READERS' GIFTS

BY HARRY McCLAIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 13 [Special].—Here on the northeastern edge of the Ozark country and only a short distance from the only burial ground in the United States where graves of federal and confederate soldiers adjoin, the army today is doing a tremendous job toward restoration of thousands of men wounded and broken in this war.

In O'Reilly general hospital, named for a noted former surgeon general, Robert M. O'Reilly, 1,872 officers and enlisted men are under treatment today. The hospital has a total capacity of 2,226 in its 74 wards housed in one-story buildings which sprawl over 165 wooded acres formerly used for a golf course.

Fighters from All Theaters.

Patients in O'Reilly hospital have seen service in every theater of war. These patients are among the thousands who will be remembered at Christmas time by patriotic and generous Chicago Tribune readers. More than 1,000 Christmas gifts were sent to O'Reilly patients by Tribune readers last year.

Designated as a surgical center, O'Reilly hospital, under command of Brig. Gen. George B. Foster Jr., has a staff of skilled specialists who perform facial, nerve, eye, orthopedic, and general surgery. Most of the patients are residents of Missouri, Kansas, and Iowa, but because of the specialized work done in the hospital there also are many from Chicago and vicinity.

During long convalescent periods after operations O'Reilly patients, have excellent facilities for entertainment and self amusement, but during the weeks spent in bed there is great need of games, playing cards, and other devices for the occupation of hands and minds.

Tribune Gifts Recalled.

Hospital staff members today recalled the pleasure derived by O'Reilly patients last year when they opened the gifts sent to them by Chicago Tribune readers. One patient had asked for stamps with which to start a collection and it was those stamps sent by a Tribune reader that started a collection which now has become a hospital hobby.

Arrangements were completed today with the O'Reilly hospital staff for the distribution on Dec. 1 of slips on which patients will write their names and express preference for certain gifts. These slips will be collected and sent to THE TRIBUNE for distribution to readers.

Readers desiring to send a Christmas gift to one or more service men in military hospitals need only clip the adjacent coupon, fill it in and mail with a self-addressed envelope to the Christmas gift editor, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Hospitalized service mens' names will be mailed to readers about three weeks before Christmas allowing ample time for purchase of the gifts, wrapping and mailing early enough to reach the hospital several days before Christmas.

HALLECK SAYS BLAME FOR FLEET DISASTER RESTS ON ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt and his New Deal advisers were responsible for the disaster at Pearl Harbor and for the nation's unpreparedness for war, Rep. Halleck [R., Ind.] charged yesterday in a speech before the Executives' club in the Hotel Sherman.

"Roosevelt and the 'New Deal were in absolute control of the government from 1933 on," he said. "The only time they didn't get what they wanted was when they tried to pack the Supreme court. If they chose to have workmen rake leaves instead of building bombers, who was responsible?

"Who had access to information about affairs all over the world. If Roosevelt had such foresight, why didn't he do something to prevent what happened on that dawn at Pearl Harbor when our fleet was destroyed?"

KEEP ROOSEVELT FOR 4TH TERM, GOV. KERR ASKS

Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma last night advocated a fourth term for President Roosevelt because "there was never in the history of America a worse time for a change, nor less inducement offered for it."

In a speech prepared for delivery at Joliet, the keynoter of the Democratic national convention lashed at Gov. Dewey, the Republican Presidential nominee, for his charge that America "is saddled with a 'tired, exhausted, quarrelsome, and bikering administration—wasteful, extravagant, and incompetent'."

The CROW'S NEST

Unconditional standards of quality . . . Old Crow today is the same superb straight whiskey as always

Have you tasted Old Crow recently? Weren't you filled with a deep, solid satisfaction that this fine old brand hasn't changed in the slightest degree even in wartime?

But then, how could it change? The Old Crow you buy today is not a wartime product. It was distilled and laid away to age years before the war. While we are cooperating today with the government alcohol program, you can rest assured that any new Old Crow we make will, as always, live up to the unconditional standards of quality set up by Col. James Crow more than a hundred years ago.

Even before the war the demand for Old Crow often exceeded the supply. So be a bit sparing with it today, when the demand for this great Straight Kentucky Whiskey is greater than ever.

NOTED EDITOR DEMANDS DIXIE STOP NEW DEAL

Urges Jeffersonians to 'Save America.'

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—James M. Thomson, southern editor, who campaigned for 12 years to smash the dictatorship of Huey Long, today called upon southern Democrats to save America from totalitarianism by voting against a fourth term for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

J. M. Thomson.

In a militant pamphlet the 66 year old son-in-law of the late Democratic leader, Champ Clark, declared millions of "unbought and unterrified" southern born Jeffersonian Democrats hold the balance of voting power against the "New Deal-Communist Hillman-Browder machine" and must join with northern and western Democrats to put "country above stolen party label . . . to put a stop to the all time high in demagoguery, payroll padding and tax squandering."

Charges Promotion of Hate.

Thomson, who twice voted for Mr. Roosevelt, charged the New Deal-Communist party is raising religious and racial hatreds in the campaign and is working to "clear religion as well as politics thru Sidney." He quoted from a speech of Philip Murray, CIO president, in which the latter put pressure on the President to pay off his labor supporters with a pay raise and declared "the elements responsible for the attacks on the CIO, the PAC and its chairman, Sidney Hillman, are to be compared to the people who attacked Jesus Christ nearly 2,000 years ago."

Two days later, he said, Hillman accused supporters of Gov. Dewey of using the Nazi technique of "Red baiting and Jew baiting" in the election campaign. He said "anti-Semitism and the bolshevik bogey . . . are the basic propaganda lines of American reaction."

Murray Is Confusing.

"In thus inaugurating a holy war against old time followers of Thomas Jefferson, who are not yet willing to clear their political faith, Mr. Murray confuses some of us," Thomson said. "Until Murray spoke we had the impression the American Communists, the followers of Marx in Russia, Hitler's and Japan's Fascists were rather to be compared to the people who attack Christian religion and teachings today."

Thomson, who was born in West Virginia, was a Washington correspondent at the turn of the century, was owner and editor of the Norfolk Dispatch from 1900 to 1906 and was principal owner and publisher of the New Orleans Item from 1906 to 1941. Since his retirement he has lived largely in his summer home in Clarke county, Va., near Sen. Byrd [D., Va.] to whom he is related by marriage.

Welcome to Communists.

Thomson charged veteran New Dealers have welcomed Communist support in order to keep themselves in office.

He traced the steps by which the New Deal built up power and said it followed what Huey Long did in Louisiana. He recalled that Long "destroyed the independence of the courts, bought legislators like 'sacks of potatoes,' and drew all power into the hands of the executive."

"And there is more to come," Thomson added. "For with the nation's attention diverted to war, with its people at home overworked, filled with political propaganda, a handful of Communists in America, men who know exactly what they want, have taken over the political machinery of the national Democratic party.

A Reason for Silence.

"To them Roosevelt has handed over the real power of the national government.

"Those who object to this proceeding are being purged. No wonder our officeholding Democrats are silent in this campaign. The great, strong money, job and power seeking element that has taken over at Washington and that seeks to exercise real power there in the next four years are Communists.

"Stalin couldn't stop this crowd if he would; only the American people can stop them. And so great is their power, so real is the danger that only old time Democrats, men with whom their party has been almost a religion, can insure this election."

The Inquiring Camera Girl
BY MARYON ZYLSTRA

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Art Kreitzer, 5127 Lafin st.]

THE QUESTION.

What is the most inhumane method your wife has used to get you out of bed in the morning?

WHERE ASKED.

Trianon ballroom. [Asked of Don Reid's orchestra members].

THE ANSWERS.

Don Reid, 75 E. Wacker dr.—I went to sleep at 6 a. m., with an appointment at 10:30 a. m. My wife pulled all the covers off the bed, tickled my feet, and rolled me out on the floor, where I went back to sleep. It was winter and she opened the window, which sent me dashing for a warm shower.

Joe Weber, Columbus, O.—It's not only inhumane—it's murder! If I don't arise on first call my wife pushes the folding bed up into the wall with me in it. I always put my pillow on the foot end before I go to sleep so that I don't go into the closet upside down. The method is fool proof, even tho a little cruel.

Fritz Hellbron, 8741 Blackstone av.—She has many ways of awakening me—pulling the covers off, throwing things, etc., but there's nothing that will make me fly out of bed faster than to have her come in all a hustle and a bustle, put her hands on her hips, give me a cold look, and scowl, "All right."

Hank Messer, Bloomington, Ill.—My wife says to our three children: "Go and get your father out of bed the quickest way you know how" [any method, fair or foul]. Once they poured a bucket of sand on my head. Or they tie the electric alarm clock to the bed below my head. The clock never gives up, so I do.

Clive Weber, vocalist, 6724 Stony Island av.—It was time for me to be up and around. My wife poured cold water on my side of the bed and then crawled in on her own side of the bed. I had either to get up or sleep in the water. Is it necessary to add that I get up, and rather quickly too!

James Hefti, 900 Margate ter.—She often turns the radio on so loud that nobody can sleep. One morning even the radio failed. She left it on until she couldn't hear it any longer, then poked me in the side and said, "You'd better get up, it's 10 o'clock." She'd set her watch ahead. It was 9:30. This is hardly fair.

MINERS BRAND ICKES A 'KEPT LIBERAL' FAKER

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—A better secretary of the interior than Secretary Ickes could have been found in Chicago's "bug house" square, according to an article which will be published in the Sunday issue of the United Mine Workers' Journal.

"Ickes, the would-be hatchet man for the washed up New Deal administration," the Journal says, "is on the loose again. In fact, 'the Ick' has threatened to resign if Dewey is elected, but like all the other pronouncements of 'the Ick,' this threat is a phony.

"All the king's horses couldn't pull him away from a peanut political appointment, if offered, which is more than he had ever been accustomed to before Roosevelt entrusted him with the affairs of the department of the interior. But there need be no cause for worry because Dewey has demonstrated he doesn't go for fakers."

The Journal calls Ickes "the incompetent coördinator of coal and oil," and says he has a record "of fanning the air in bitter verbal assaults without a single self-achieved victory."

Pretending Honest Johns.

"Prior to his arrival in Washington," the Journal continues, "the smart public out in Chicago had reached the conclusion that Ickes was one of those pretending 'honest Johns,' suffering chronic belly aches, whose formula is to distract attention from his own unimportance by acting as a loud knocker of known crooks. . . .

"'The Ick' is now the pal of the big oil companies after years of tall talk on the other side.

"'The Ick' did not have to work. He became a squaw man when he married money—lots of it. He did not have much use for brains, because he had a ball bearing tongue that operated in the mire of slander and abuse and moved under its own power. And in that respect, 'the Ick' is probably the most perfect specimen of the 'kept liberal' faker in American public life.

Wanders into Easy Money.

"Nevertheless, by some strange coincidence, Ickes has a way of just wandering into the neighborhood of easy money. After marrying a bunch of money, much of which was invested in retail store properties in Chicago's high rent district, the loop, Faker Harold went back to Chicago from Washington, in 1938, to start the construction of a subway under the same loop.

"As boss of the PWA [public works administration] 'The Ick' invested millions of Uncle Sam's money in that tunnel, which, it is hoped by loop property owners, will greatly increase downtown rental values."

The Journal linked Marshall Field III., New York publisher, with Ickes on the question of rents in Chicago. It said:

"Among those who will be helped is 'poor little rich boy Marshall Field III.,' the man with more ready cash than any other man in the world. The estate of Field's grandpappy is one of the largest collections of high rent buildings in the world.

"Cut Out of Paychecks."

"Thru that estate, which has been kept together since 1907, 'poor little rich boy Marshall Field III.' takes a cut out of practically every pay check and household budget in Chicago, because the high rents of the loop enter into the price of most everything bought and sold in Chicago.

"Marshall Field III., like young Mr. Rockefeller before he was shown up as a hypocrite in the Colorado coal strike of 1914-'15, is the sort that used to be called a kid glover reformer, a do-gooder who is willing to do anything for the poor but get off their backs and take his hand out of their pocket."

HEAVY SOLDIER VOTE IS POLLED IN G. O. P. WARDS

Analysis of 54,946 absentee ballot returns for the Nov. 7 election showed yesterday that Chicago wards where the Republicans have been doing well are contributing heavily to the soldier vote. This trend previously was indicated by the first report on absentee ballots issued by Chief Clerk John S. Rusch of the Chicago election commission. Republicans got 43.4 per cent of the vote in Chicago in the 1942 senatorial election.

The average soldier ballot return for each ward now is 1,098. There are 18 wards in which these averages are exceeded: 6th, 7th, 8th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 34th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 41st, 44th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, and 50th.

Carl Schroeder, in charge of absentee voting, said many ballot envelopes had been resealed by postal employes because the flaps have become "unstuck" in transit. Mucilage has not always withstood jungle heat and dampness, he said, asserting any suspicion that censors opened such envelopes is unfounded. In other instances the ballots were oil or water soaked when received here, he said.

ARMED BANDIT GETS $3,815.

Fred Garne of 1548 E. 55th st., driver for the Silvian Wholesale Tobacco company, was robbed of $3,815 in currency and checks last night on the steps of the home of his employer, Larry Michelson, at 7625 Essex av., by a young man with a revolver, he told police.

DEWEY-BRICKER BUTTONS AWAIT YOU AT TRIBUNE

More Dewey-Bricker buttons were supplied THE TRIBUNE for distribution at its public service offices yesterday and, despite a heavy call for them thruout the day, it was figured some would be left for today. The allotment came from the Republican state central committee and the Republican western headquarters, both of which reported they were unable fully to meet the demands in their areas. More buttons are on order and both offices promised they would be handed out as fast as received. The state committee said it had 500,000 coming.

FRAUD FOES ASK EARLY POSTING OF VOTER LISTS

Spokesmen for a score of civic and church organizations, associated in the Honest Ballot committee, told County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday that the lists of registered voters posted for the primaries last April "in the great majority of precincts in Chicago were flagrantly incorrect" and asked for special efforts to prevent disfranchisement of voters at the Nov. 7 election.

Judge Jarecki agreed with Mrs. Harriet M. Robertson of the Woman's Civic council, who led the delegation, that the most effective way is to post the list for each polling place as early as possible. The law provides for posting the lists at least five days before election. Mrs. Robertson urged they be posted 10 days before and Judge Jarecki said he would try to have that done.

G. O. P. Chairman Makes Appeal.

George M. Fisher, Republican county chairman, yesterday sent letters to Judge Jarecki, the election commissioners, and County Clerk Flynn urging that the poll lists be made "immediately available" thruout the county.

In his letter Fisher said:

"The number one requisite for honest elections is that the poll lists be absolutely accurate. There must be no floaters, stingers, tombstone names, duplications or other improper names on the registration lists.

"So that a full check may be had on the upwards of 2 million names on the Cook county poll lists, it is imperative that complete precinct lists be made immediately available . . ."

Ask Watchers' Credentials.

The committee members also asked that they be given watchers' credentials to give them authority in polling places election day. Judge Jarecki said it was too far from Nov. 7 to act on the request, but promised to consider it when he has finished with registration. He suggested that committee members obtain credentials thru political parties which, altogether, get 20,000. Other organizations, he said regularly get 10,000.

Ralph Lee Goodman, speaking for the combined committee, said that credentials were granted "promiscuously" to the political parties and added, "We'd like to have you give a chance to an independent body like ours, which is familiar with the election laws, to see that there are no irregularities on election day."

Many Civic Leaders Attend.

Besides Mrs. Robertson and Goodman, the following met with Judge Jarecki:

Mrs. George W. White, president, Cook County Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Claude J. Palmer, Chicago Woman's club; Robert E. Pugh, Chicago Church federation's commission on civic relations; Miss Maud Kirk, Women's University club; Mrs. Burt E. Steenson, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, law observance department; Thomas Seay, Small Business Men's association; Mrs. James Warren, Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's Organizations; E. A. Arthur, Better Government Association of Cook County; Mrs. Helen Munsert, Woman's Bar association; Miss Myrtle L. Carpenter, American citizenship department, Cook County Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Vera Ulrey Clark, American Women's Voluntary Services.

Mrs. William F. Conlon, Daughters of 1812; Mrs. Alfred O'Gara, Citizens 9th Illinois Congressional District Committee, Inc.; Mrs. John F. Dille, Daughters of American Revolution of Illinois; Mrs. Herbert J. Maas, regent, Chicago chapter, D. A. R.; M. B. Morris, Chicago Kiwanis club; Mrs. Walter B. Pratt, 10th district, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Kenneth Newell, delegate of the synod of Reformed Episcopal churches to the Chicago Church federation; Mrs. Abraham Bowers, member commission on civic relations, Chicago Church federation.

Cites Primary Discrepancies.

Mrs. Robertson presented the results of a spot survey made in 10 wards of registration for last spring's primary which, she declared, showed discrepancies between cards and registration lists that amounted to widespread "disfranchisement." She gave these discrepancies as 1,219 in the 5th ward, 1,510 in the 29th, and 1,439 in the 42d.

Two great Americans have passed—again we see that man proposes and God disposes. The eldest spent his entire career dedicated to the principles of Americanism. A stanch patriot also, was the youngeh who by death was deprived of completing his dreams for our country. These two who loved America so much are united in the Great Beyond. PLOT TO SMEAR TRIBUNE BEATEN BY GRAND JURY

Chicago Panel Upholds Freedom of Press.

[This is another chapter of the new book, "Liberty and the Press," which records The Chicago Tribune's struggle to preserve a free press for the American people. Yesterday's instalment told how paper rationing is being used to favor newspapers supporting the New Deal and to hamper those that are critical of the government.]

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Copyright: 1944; By The Chicago Tribune.]

The main theme of this campaign [a concentrated attack launched by New Deal publicity agents after a meeting in February, 1942], the charge coming from the floor of the senate, and from various newspapers, and over the radio, has been that these newspapers [THE TRIBUNE, the New York Daily News, and the Washington Times-Herald], particularly THE TRIBUNE, were unpatriotic. The basis for this was support of the America First movement before Pearl Harbor and criticism of our government. The purpose of the America First movement was to keep America out of the European war. Germany also wanted to keep America out of the European war. Therefore, the logic of this campaign ran, there must be a conspiracy. All THE TRIBUNE'S record of patriotism, considered by some as super-patriotism, was forgotten in the effort to make this the issue.

British Prediction Comes True.

It will be recalled that in the 1940 Presidential campaign both the President and Mr. Willkie held out the hope and the promise that American boys would not be sent to fight on foreign shores. It was not popular then to take any other attitude. On Oct. 30, 1940, the President said in Boston:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers I give you one more assurance. I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again and again: your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars."

It is worthy of note here that, before the election, C. V. R. Thompson, American correspondent for the London Daily Express, ran an article predicting that Roosevelt would be elected and that America would enter the war. It might be inferred that the British people were better informed as to the intentions of the President than were the American people.

Tribune Scores News Beat.

It was not until Dec. 4, 1941, that THE TRIBUNE functioned in a sensational news story on this question of what was going to happen to the American people. Chesly Manly, Washington correspondent, sent in a confidential report of the joint army and navy high command, prepared at the command of the President, in which an American expeditionary force against Germany was mapped out, including an increase of the army forces of the United States to 10,045,658 men, about what it is today.

Old fashioned newspaper reaction to that story would be that it was a great news beat and that it was a high functioning of the press in presenting the truth to the people who would have to furnish this expeditionary army.

The reaction in administration circles was that it was a newspaper action lacking in patriotism. The attack on Pearl Harbor, coming three days later, added some fuel to the flames of indignation stirred by this story, which was never denied. The pro-war newspapers, their position strengthened by Pearl Harbor, at once took up the cry against THE TRIBUNE. Stephen Early, one of the President's secretaries, who happens to be a good newspaper man, took the attitude that nothing could be done about it, on behalf of complaining newspaper men; that responsibility with keeping this plan secret lay with the planners, and that THE TRIBUNE had the right to get it and print it if it could. Freedom of the press still existed in this country, he commented.

Administration Goes to Work

It was not until Aug., 1942, that the administration found something upon which to proceed against THE TRIBUNE. The usual method of the smear was used to discredit THE TRIBUNE in advance of investigation. It was announced in Washington that the federal grand jury in Chicago would investigate the publication of a news story that had been printed in that city. It was allowed to leak out that this was a story printed in THE TRIBUNE on June 7, 1942, and written by Stanley Johnston, Tribune correspondent whose brilliant stories of the battle of the Coral sea had been made available to all newspapers of the United States.

Mr. Johnston, who had returned to Chicago, had written a relatively unimportant story interpreting the naval battle near Midway Island. In this he had used the names of Japanese ships thought to have been engaged. He attributed the story to naval intelligence. The navy department requested an investigation, charging that the story showed the United States navy was able to decipher the Japanese code, and had thus revealed information to the enemy.

The sinister coloring given to the investigation by department of justice spokesmen brought repercussions in congress.

Fairness Demanded in Senate.

Sen. Taft stated on the floor that prejudice had been shown against THE TRIBUNE and that in his opinion the senate should go on record in protest against any action which was not taken with utmost fairness.

A special assistant to the attorney general, a noted New York lawyer, was sent to Chicago to handle this case against THE TRIBUNE. THE TRIBUNE accepted the challenge, and announced editorially: "We await the issue with confidence in our record and confidence in our men."

After demanding that they be allowed to appear, J. Loy Maloney, managing editor of THE TRIBUNE, and Johnston told their stories to the grand jury. After several days of investigation, the grand jury refused to return an indictment, and the whole prosecution was dropped.

Press Key to Freedom.

One conclusion that may be drawn from this campaign is that the people really desire freedom of the press much as it is functioning today. If the press is really in communion with the spirit of the common people, this body of humanity will not permit any government to control it. The press must be left free in its opinions and in its news enterprise if the people are to remain free. Principle must rule the world, not human will; law, and not the whims of men in power.

DEWEY WILL HIT HARD AGAIN IN ST. LOUIS TALK

Wide Broadcast of Address Planned.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Another all-out attack on the integrity of the White House is being prepared by Gov. Dewey, Republican Presidential candidate, for delivery on Monday night from St. Louis, Mo. Paul Lockwood, the governor's secretary, announced this afternoon that the title of the speech will be "The Urgent Need for Honesty and Competence in Our National Government."

Elaborate radio arrangements indicate the importance attached to this address by the national Republican committee. It will be broadcast from Convention hall in St. Louis from 9 to 9:30 p. m. on NBC and the Blue network. On Tuesday, a recording will be rebroadcast on the Blue network from 12:30 to 1 p. m. [11:30 to noon, Chicago time]. On Wednesday the speech will be rebroadcast on the Pacific coast.

The Direct Approach.

The theme is one Dewey first used in Oklahoma City, Okla., on Sept. 25, when he replied with both fists to President Roosevelt's "fraud and falsehood" speech before the teamsters in Washington, D. C. The response received from thruout the country at the national G. O. P. headquarters indicated the public liked the direct approach to the question of whether the incumbent shall remain in office for 16 years.

Dewey, in his St. Louis address, again will document his charges with evidence taken from New Deal records.

Dewey is writing the first draft of the speech. It will be rewritten after conferences with his advisers before the train leaves here on Sunday afternoon for St. Louis.

Truman's Home State.

The selection of St. Louis for delivery of the speech is considered significant. It is the home state of both Sen. Truman, President Roosevelt's running mate, and Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Dewey will return to Albany after the St. Louis speech. On Wednesday he will go to New York City for an address on foreign affairs to be broadcast from the New York Herald-Tribune forum.

The following week he will open his main stumping tour of the midwest, including a speech in Chicago on Oct. 25.

GREEN RIPS F.D.R. FOR 'NIGGARDLY' VETERAN POLICY

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 13 [Special].—Gov. Green of Illinois tonight assailed President Roosevelt's "niggardly policy" toward war veterans during "12 years of bungling and stumbling under the New Deal" and asserted that "belated repentence now when he is a candidate cannot erase this shameful effort to swindle the veteran of his rights."

Speaking in the Town hall under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Republican state committee, the Illinois governor said the "most sacred obligation of our next administration" will be to assist the war veterans of tomorrow in their return to "normal American life."

"I know no more potent nor more pertinent issue in this campaign than the 12 year record of the fourth term candidate in the treatment of veterans of the first World war," said Gov. Green. "As a veteran, I know that record well. That record is a surer omen than any silvery promises of what the fourth term candidate will do for the veterans of World War II.

Vetoed 18 Vet Bills.

"Let us look at that record. Candidate Roosevelt from 1933 to Nov. 1, 1943, vetoed 18 bills passed by congress for the benefit of veterans.

"Pensions for widows of sailors and soldiers, pensions for Civil war widows, pensions for helpless children of veterans, and a bill to increase pensions from $30 to $40 a month for total and permanent nonservice connected disability of World War I. veterans were vetoed by the fourth term candidate."

Gov. Green charged the "so-called Roosevelt economy act of 1933" deprived the nation's veterans of all wars of 450 million dollars.

Benefits Denied.

"In 1934 congress passed a bill to restore 103 million dollars of the 450 millions which Roosevelt had taken away from the veterans," Gov. Green said. "He vetoed that, and in his message he said—and I call these words to the attention of every home which flies a service flag: 'No person because he wore a uniform must be placed in a special class of beneficiaries over and above all other citizens.'

"Congress repudiated that evaluation of our fighting men. The bill was repassed over the fourth term candidate's veto. There, from the record, is what the fourth term candidate thinks of the men who risk their lives for their country when he isn't a candidate."

Urges Free Enterprise.

Declaring that "at a time when strong men are needed, the weary, wobbly, and quarrelsome New Deal is in its second childhood," the Illinois governor urged a change "from the New Deal philosophy of a planned economy under governmental dictatorship to the Republican philosophy of free enterprise under governmental stimulation."

He lauded Gov. Dewey, Republican Presidential nominee, as a "man with vigor, stamina, energy, and courageous leadership."

Gov. Green praised Gov. Bricker, Dewey's running mate, for restoring "sound government" in Ohio and said Bricker's opponent, Sen. Truman [D., Mo.], "went to the senate as the puppet of Boss Pendergast of Missouri and got his nomination in Chicago as the puppet of Sidney Hillman, Mayor Hague, Bob Hannegan, and Mayor Kelly."

ANTI-NEW DEAL HEADS CALLED TO SENATE QUIZ

Probe of Smear Group Sought in Return.

Officers of the anti-New Deal American Democratic National committee, who already have been questioned at three sessions of the house committee investigating campaign expenditures and summoned for another hearing, were subpenaed yesterday to appear in Washington Oct. 18 before a similar committee of the senate.

At the same time the question whether the dissident group, formed by old line Democrats to "rescue the Democratic party from the New Deal," was being singled out by the congressional investigators, was raised again.

Counter-probe Asked.

In a letter sent to the chairman of the house committee, Rep. Anderson [D., N. M.], Atty. Thomas Creigh, counsel for the American Democratic committee, repeated his request that the activities of Friends of Democracy Inc., interventionist group which issues the Propaganda Battlefront as a smear medium, also be investigated.

Atty. Creigh handed Chairman Anderson a memorandum at the close of the committee's hearings in Chicago last Monday. Attached was a copy of the Propaganda Battlefront. He cited the group's solicitation of money and said:

Secret Sources Cited.

"All of these activities are, of course, on a far greater extent than anything which could be hoped for by organizations representing constitutional American government, who have been cited before your committee."

Rep. Anderson said at the time that the committee was considering checking on Friends of Democracy.

In his letter to Anderson, Creigh said that "without making insinuations," he wished to point out that there had been "considerable handwritten" revision in the transcript of the examination of Dr. Gleason L. Archer, chairman of the American Democratic committee, before the house committee in Washington Oct. 6. Creigh also said that some questions asked Dr. Archer appeared to be based on information furnished the committee from secret sources.

Subpenas for John J. O'Connor former Democratic congressman from New York, now chairman of the American Democratic executive committee, and the committee's treasurer, W. H. Goodwin of New York, were ordered by Anderson's committee last Monday.

DEMOCRAT-RED TIEUPS DECRIED BY SEN. BROOKS

Political Setup 'Deadly,' He Warns Voters.

BY CHARLES BALLENGER.

The Democratic party under President Roosevelt is forming coalitions among various subversive groups in a pattern similar to those used by dictators in European countries, Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.] declared last night in a speech before a wildly cheering audience of Republican workers in the 45th ward.

Describing the present political setup of the Democratic party as "deadly," Sen. Brooks said the organization is dominated by a group of arrogant men determined to preserve their power by any means."

Cites European Pattern.

In many European nations which have fallen under the thumb of dictatorship, Sen. Brooks declared, a pattern of coalitions among minority groups was established as a means of defeating popular sentiment. The same thing is happening in this country, he said, with President Roosevelt forming a coalition among communistic and other subversive groups.

The audience of more than 300 persons cheered for several minutes after Sen. Brooks denounced Roosevelt for denying that he has sought the support of the Browder-Hillman communistic groups. Sen. Brooks cited Browder's Presidential pardon from a federal prison sentence, the favoritism granted Hillman in his various moves, and the vigorous support of Roosevelt by both men as evidence refuting Roosevelt's statement.

Both men, he said, will "pop up in responsible government positions if the Democratic party wins this election."

Calls for Free Congress.

"Roosevelt wants to, and almost has, controled the senate and house," Sen. Brooks said. "If we want to preserve our freedom and our form of government we must place Republicans in congress to support Gov. Dewey when he is elected."

Sen. Brooks asked for "complete support" of the senatorial candidacy of Richard J. Lyons. He described Lyons as a man "sorely needed" in congress and a man who "can fill the role the voters expect of him."

Sen. Brooks spoke in the Republican headquarters of Committeeman Charles J. Fleck at 2022 Roscoe st.

TWO NEW POLIO CASES APPEAR IN COUNTY; 1 IN CITY

Two new infantile paralysis patients, a boy 8 years old in Park Ridge and a girl 6 years old in Des Plaines, were reported yesterday in the county outside of Chicago. One new case was reported in the city. There have been 76 cases and four deaths from the disease in the county this year, compared with 246 cases and 19 deaths last year at this time, and 142 cases and six deaths in the city, compared with 897 and 82 last year. Two new cases were reported yesterday in Lake county, bringing to 13 the total of cases in the county in 1944. There has been one death. The new victims are a 13 year old boy living in Wauconda and a 6 year old boy living near the same village.

$200 STOLEN AS VICTIM SLEEPS.

John Hendorf, Denver, Colo., reported to police yesterday that $200, a knife, and a key chain were stolen from his room in Hotel Sherman while he was sleeping.

PROMINSKI VIES WITH BRODIE FOR CORONER'S POST

[This is the seventh article of a series on candidates for local offices in the November election.]

BY GUY GENTRY.

Republican hopes for regaining the office of Cook county coroner, which they lost to the Democrats in 1928, rest with Dr. Alex J. Prominski, who will oppose Coroner Brodie in the November election.

Brodie first was appointed to the office in February, 1940, after the death of Coroner Frank Walsh, and was elected to a full four year term that fall. Walsh had succeeded Dr. Herman Bundesen, who had supplanted a Republican in 1928. The office pays $9,000 annually.

Dr. Prominski was the unopposed choice of Republicans in the April primary in recognition of his years of party service, particularly among Polish voters. Altho he had never held a party office—he was defeated for ward committeeman in 1940—Prominski has been active on the southwest side for a quarter century where his short figure and gray hair are familiar to thousands of voters in his own 11th ward and in adjacent territory.

Chicagoan Since 1891.

Dr. Prominski was born in Iowa in 1889 and has lived in Chicago since he was 2 years old. Graduating from Lewis institute, Valparaiso university, and Loyola medical college, he served on the psychopathic board of the Cook County court for five years. He served as a 1st lieutenant in the medical corps in World War I.

Dr. Prominski has lived within a few blocks of his present address at 3149 Morgan st. for 25 years. He has maintained his office at 1749 W. 48th st. since 1912. He is a member of the Polish National alliance, Polish Roman Catholic union, and associate on the staff of Evangelical hospital.

Coroner Brodie was born in Chicago in 1890 and did a thriving business as a State st. newsboy at an early age. He enlisted in the Illinois National Guard in 1904, served in the Philippines in 1909, and on the Mexican border in 1916. He was commissioned a lieutenant and served in various training camps in World War I. Brodie now holds a commission as lieutenant colonel in the reserves.

Brodie in Several Jobs.

Brodie served as chief clerk of the sanitary district in 1927, later was chief clerk of the coroner's office, chief clerk of the state auditor's office in Springfield, and superintendent of Frances Willard hospital. He was named chief bailiff of the Criminal court in 1938, secretary of the park district in 1939, and coroner in 1940.

Brodie has served as president of the Illinois and the National Association of Coroners. He lives at 1539 S. Trumbull av. and has been an active worker in the 24th ward, where Democratic candidates are given majorities of 20 to 1.

SEES LANDSLIDE TREND TO DEWEY IN MIDDLE WEST

20% Quit Roosevelt, McKelvie Says.

Recent gains in political sentiment in midwestern states have become so pronounced that there easily can be a national landslide in electoral votes for the Dewey-Bricker ticket, Sam R. McKelvie, director of the Republican national committee's western headquarters in Chicago, reported yesterday.

McKelvie declared that:

At least 20 per cent of those Democrats who voted for Roosevelt in 1940 will now vote for Dewey.

Farmers and farm housewives are leading the parade of changeover Democrats.

Confidence in Many States.

McKelvie listed as "safely in the bag" the states of Wisconsin, Wyoming, Idaho, and Colorado. South Dakota leaders predict a Dewey majority exceeding 50,000. Kansas will give Dewey and Bricker as large a majority as it gave Willkie. In Iowa, where Dewey previously had received 56 per cent in a poll, a gain of more than 1 per cent was shown in the last few days.

Illinois Republican leaders, McKelvie reported, are confident they will carry the state for Dewey by 200,000 to 300,000, elect Richard J. Lyons as senator and give Gov. Green the largest majority ever received by a candidate for governor.

Missourians See G. O. P. Victory.

Missouri Republicans feel confident of carrying the state for Dewey and electing a Republican senator, McKelvie reported. Minnesota polls taken within the last few days show Dewey with 52 per cent.

C. R. Nixon, Republican state chairman in Oklahoma, reported Dewey got an even break in a recent poll in 15 counties having a Democratic registration 3 to 1. C. V. Gulley, Republican state chairman in Arizona, reported 15 per cent greater Republican registration and opinion about 50-50.

FREE PRESS CAN PREVENT WARS, LUCAS ASSERTS

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 13 (AP). — Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.], campaigning for reelection, declared tonight a free press in all nations "will do much to prevent future wars."

"It is only when the press is kept, either by the state as it is in Germany, or by a vested interest, as it sometimes is in isolated instances in America, that we need fear the future," he said in an address here.

"There are, however, in some communities, men who do not recognize the obligation to provide the public with accurate, unbiased news," he said. "Such men are stones hung around the neck of a community."

Thomas J. Courtney, Democratic nominee for governor, said he had found in 80 counties he has visited "an uprising against the Republican state administration's inhumane practices in dispensing old age assistance."

REGISTRATION FRAUDS.

A great many citizens who sought to register on Tuesday were prevented from doing so because not enough blank cards had been distributed to the polling places. The Republican county chairman, Mr. George M. Fisher, says that County Clerk Flynn deliberately sent an inadequate supply of cards to Republican neighborhoods, especially in the suburbs. Mr. Flynn says it wasn't his fault, but there is no doubt that many citizens were unable to register for lack of cards and that the Republicans were the chief sufferers.

There is also no doubt that in many neighborhoods which are normally heavily Democratic very large new registrations were obtained.

Mr. Flynn has said that any one who was unable to register on Tuesday may do so at the County building if he will present himself within the next few days. This is a hardship which ought not to have been imposed, but which any citizen aware of the importance of the forthcoming election will accept rather than lose his right to vote.

Citizens who have been outraged by the injustices of the registration need not feel helpless in the matter. There is work to be done. The Business Men's committee, which has been immensely useful in the past in preventing vote frauds, is again in the field. In the 1940 election this committee, thru its volunteer workers, succeeded in removing from the registration lists 30,000 names that did not belong there. As Mr. Frank J. Durham, vice chairman of the committee, has said, this year there is not only the corrupt Democratic machine to combat but also the CIO, the PAC, and the Communists. Since the war nearly half a million people have moved into Cook county and, tho vast numbers of them have not met the residence requirements of the election law, their names have been placed on the polling books.

There is need, therefore, for hundreds of volunteers to weed out the ineligible voters. We do not doubt that there are enough men and women in this community with the patriotism to volunteer for this immensely important work.

Almost all the competent observers predict that this will be a close election. A few thousand votes may decide it. Never before has so bold an attack been made upon the sanctity of the ballot as is being attempted this year. The next training class under the auspices of the Business Men's committee will be held at 12:30 p. m. on Monday at 53 W. Jackson blvd., suite 357. The telephone number of the committee is Harrison 6515.

THE COMMUNIST VETO.

Raymond S. McKeough, the former New Deal congressman to whom the voters gave a drubbing two years ago when he presumed to the senatorship from Illinois, seemed to be suffering from a case of mistaken identity—his own—when he was questioned by the house committee investigating campaign expenditures concerning his activities as regional director of the CIO's political action committee.

Mr. McKeough didn't quite seem to know who he was or who was paying him to carry the ball for Mr. Hillman, Mr. Browder, and Mr. Roosevelt. He didn't know whether his pay checks were drawn against union funds or against the CIO's political subsidiary. He also didn't know whether he acted and spoke at any given time as a politician, a union representative, or a private citizen.

The confusion is understandable, for despite the attempt by Atty. Gen. Biddle to arrange a Reno divorce between the CIO and the PAC Mr. McKeough was so conscious of the ambiguity of his position that he was afraid to drop a candid word lest he get himself and the whole outfit in an embarrassing jam. So he contented himself with the assurance that his name was Mr. McKeough.

The only thing that did emerge with any clarity from Mr. McKeough's testimony was that the great agency of political democracy that pays him $10,000 a year doesn't permit the workingmen whom it shakes down for a dollar apiece to have any voice concerning the candidates they are ordered to support. Mr. McKeough was compelled to identify himself as the author of a telegram to PAC chairmen in three states which read: "Please immediately notify all locals and PAC committees thruout your state to positively make no political indorsements until approved by regional and national offices of CIO-PAC."

In other words, the chumps can pay their dollar and vote as they are told, but had better show no independence or ask any questions. Mr. McKeough's boss, Sidney Hillman, and the Communists aligned with him will make all the decisions. They will exercise a veto over all candidates in order that the workingmen who are forced to kick into their war chest will not commit the heresy of manifesting a political conscience of their own. The system has the same beauty as the method of conducting elections under the soviet constitution. The party members will vote, but they will vote for only those "candidates" handed down from above.

SCHOLARSHIPS AS WAR MEMORIALS.

The General American Transportation company has set up a scholarship fund at the University of Chicago as a memorial to employes of the company who have lost their lives in the war. The scholarships will be distributed by the university among children of the company's employes.

The idea is an admirable one, as THE TRIBUNE knows from 10 years of experience with a plan for granting scholarships to the children of our employes. It has been a source of great satisfaction to all concerned. Tho the winners of our scholarships are free to choose the college they wish to attend, we have been indebted from the start to the University of Chicago for conducting the examination of our applicants. We can assure any other company which may adopt a similar plan that the service performed by the university's examiners is excellent and we don't believe it can be duplicated anywhere else.

No method of memorializing the young men who have been killed in the war can be more appropriate than the awarding of scholarships to other young people. In this connection it is well to remember that the donor does not have to be a great and wealthy corporation. Any bereaved parent can, with very little difficulty, find a boy or girl who needs financial help to get an education. Almost any high school principal or college dean will be glad to recommend an applicant. There must be many hundreds of parents to whom war risk insurance has been paid who don't need the money for themselves. They can find no better use for it than to spend it in educating two or three youngsters who otherwise would be deprived of adequate schooling.

There is need for scholarships not only in the colleges but also in the grade and high schools. In Chicago we have the Children's Scholarship association, which makes it possible for hundreds of poor children to continue their schooling. Money given to this organization's work will enrich the community.

WORLD AIR ROUTES.

That Great Britain intends to make a determined effort to attain ascendancy in post-war world air traffic is evidenced by the creation of a new British ministry of civil air. As a preliminary in the race for civil air routes the royal air force has handed over one of its finest military air fields to British Overseas Airways. Routes all over the world are to be inaugurated as soon as the war in the west ends.

Little has been done by the administration or congress to put this country into a position where it can do justice to its capacities as the greatest producer and operator of airplanes on earth. Aviation is the result of American inventiveness and Americans have pioneered in most of the important technical advances of airplane manufacture and in setting transocean and world routes. At present the American aviation industry is far out in front among all the nations of the world and is supplying the bulk of the planes, pilots, and air crews to all the fighting fronts.

Yet our government has done almost nothing to claim the rights proper to our established position as the leading air nation of the world. It has poured millions into aviation bases in foreign countries and their possessions without exercising any precautions to assure that our air lines after the war will be permitted the use of the fields which are absolutely essential in any planned system of world routes. It has yielded at a sacrifice the bases built in Canada which are of the utmost importance as way points in the short, direct routes across the roof of the world to the great foreign capitals.

Instead of taking the steps which would safeguard our rights to traverse allied nations and their possessions, and to utilize the fields which exist only because we built them, the administration has confined its interest in post-war civil aviation to refereeing a dispute among rival air lines concerning the use of existing routes.

It has not even thought to develop Chicago's potentialities as the future air capital of the world by making available to civil air lines the huge army airport at the Douglas Aircraft plant at Higgins and Mannheim roads, now virtually unused. Nor has it thought of the obvious step of arranging a treaty with Liberia to insure landing facilities there in round-world traffic. Liberia cannot give us the most advantageous port of air entry into Africa, but is a friendly nation, and at least we would be sure of getting onto the continent under an arrangement of the sort.

The British have served notice that there is going to be the most strenuous competition after the war and have emphasized the deadly seriousness of their bid for international control by taking civil aviation under the wing of the government. The administration in Washington does nothing. Evidently we are to expect that in this, as in so many other things, the New Deal stands ready to throw away our future. It is high time for a change and for action.

CLOWNISH JUDGES.

Municipal Judge John R. McSweeney had 60 defendants brought before him in north side police courts charged with being drunk and disorderly, and let them go when each of them bought a ticket to a prep football game to be played for charity. The charity is undoubtedly a worthy one, but the only connection between it and the administration of criminal justice in Chicago was that somebody had prevailed upon Judge McSweeney to sell 300 tickets to the game. He accordingly abused the authority of his court to further his personal popularity.

This same judge will be remembered as the inglorious hero of the flying carpet case. Two penniless roustabouts were arraigned before him on the charge of stealing a rug. They confessed their guilt and pleaded that they had sold the rug to a third man. Judge McSweeney released one of them to go look for the rug and when he didn't reappear, released his companion to look for him. Both were later dismissed, altho the rug was not produced in court, leaving the complainant bewildered.

In spite of the prestige that accrues to a sitting judge, Judge McSweeney ranked 11th in the recent bar association poll on the Municipal court, getting the support of less than 700 out of more than 1,800 lawyers who voted. The reluctance of lawyers to indorse him is understandable. The worst feature of the wholly Democratic Municipal court is the subservience of a large proportion of its judges to members of the underworld with political connections. Next to outright crookedness, however, clownishness on the bench can be blamed for the present low esteem in which the Municipal court is held.

MR. PEPYS: HIS WEEK.

14th Oct.—Have been autographing Linebooks to send to contributors without help from my mythical secretary, who is the dream girl I never found. Sorting out right names and addresses from pseudonyms was quite a job, and at the end of it I was still muttering, "Who in blazes is Silly Sally?"

Hope my fountain pen will not wear out before the annual contributors' dinner, when the autographing gets hot. This social occasion is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 2, and C. Otto Ruess, committee secretary, is receiving reservations at 120 S. La Salle st. My public speaking schedule for the year will begin and end that night, and I will start sitting down as soon as I get up on my hind legs. This is my secret for after dinner oratory.

Lunched with the Press Veterans' committee on Tuesday and Friday to talk about our annual soirée, which will happen on Saturday, Dec. 2. Firm opinions in favor of brevity in eloquence were expressed by all.

Dined at the Red Star with Guy Hardy, who knows more about grand opera characters than any man alive, and he told a story. A new dancing star joined the Chicago troupe and every one thought she was the most luscious little peach that ever came out of Italy. She brought her fat mama for protection from Michigan av. wolves in silk hats. On their first day in town dancer and dowager went shopping, and were so delighted with the goods on display that they picked up things without asking the clerks, "How much?" They stuffed the loot inside their bosoms until the little dancer looked as fat as her mama, and the old lady resembled a hippopotamus. Then a store detective said to them, "Come along."

When they told him they were artistes, suffering from a love of beauty for its own sake, the officer took them to the opera house. Mr. Hardy, talking his best about the childlike innocence of the musical soul, managed to keep them out of jail.

Now to pray over my radio set that the Wildcats will have better luck out of town than on their home grounds.

AUTUMN TWILIGHT.

Thin pencil line of moon, etched bright in gold
Against a background of unearthly blue;
A katydid shrills late, the stars creep out,
In peace the autumn day makes its adieu.

A whir of engines drowns the katydid,
The calm is shattered violently as soon
Four-motored bombers, on their way to war,
Intrude between the earth and penciled moon.

Another year, will warlike sounds and rude
Encroach on Nature's peace and solitude?

H. R. P. writes: "I joined the air corps July 24, 1943, and reported for active duty Aug. 8, 1943. After exactly 89 days I was discharged, on Nov. 4, 1943. I wonder why they would grant me 3 months 11 days for longevity pay and just allow 89 days' active duty and cut me out of all benefits by just one day?"

Computation of longevity includes any service in the reserve corps prior to active duty, but the laws administered by the veterans' administration, including the G. I. law, stipulate the veteran must have had at least 90 days' active service or have been discharged by reason of a service connected disability if he has less than 90 days' active service.

C. C. D. asks: "Just what is the scope of the boards of review established under the G. I. law?"

The primary duty of these boards will be to "determine whether, under reasonable standards of military or naval law and discipline, the type and nature of the discharge or dismissal should be changed, corrected, or modified, and, if so, to decide what change, correction, or modification should be made" and so recommend to the secretary of the branch of service concerned.

BREATHING EXERCISES FOR ASTHMA.

While numerous cases of asthma will respond to proper diet [vitamin balance] and the elimination of some material to which the patient is sensitive, the fact remains that among children and adults alike, all too many fail to respond. Hunt as we may, the specific "starter" will not be detected. With others, reactions to a score or more foods are observed.

We recognize these victims as a distinct class. As a rule they exhibit a highly sensitive nervous system. Such youngsters are handicapped in school because absences are frequent and, altho intelligence is high, they may become discouraged because they feel so abnormal. Many have become dependent upon ephedrine or similar drugs to tide over the wheezing interval.

A few years ago the suggestion was made that exercises would bring improvement. Special attention is given to the respiratory apparatus. The treatment is designed to render the chest more elastic, to strengthen weak muscles in this area, and to enlarge lung capacity.

To start with, the back and the region of the ribs in front are subjected to energetic massage, which includes kneading of the soft tissues. This plan is persisted in until the skin reddens. The thorax is then compressed, squeezed from side to side and from front to back. The sufferer is instructed to inhale deeply and to exhale until he can force no more air out of the lungs. During the process he is requested to hum.

What is the result? In time, old unused air sacs will be forced to function. Vital capacity is thus increased and this very fact [measured on a spirometer] will encourage the patient. Deep breathing may be practiced for several minutes although, at the outset, care must be exercised not to lose too much carbon dioxide. A rest of approximately ten minutes is allowed, when the maneuver is repeated. More benefit follows compressing the chest than expanding it.

Two or more sessions each day can be carried out at home. In the meantime, it is essential to continue the anti-asthmatic treatment or medication. But gradually, as more room is provided for expansion of the lungs, the whole machinery of breathing will take on a new lease of life. One of the workers in this field noted that at first his patients could not inflate a football. After a month or so of gymnastics, this could be done with ease. This proved that more power on the part of the chest wall had been acquired. It is no uncommon experience to find that the additional respiratory space will be as much as fifty per cent. Finally, these persons are cautioned not to cough unless there is real need for emptying the bronchi of mucus. More often than not, hacking does nothing but harm.

Apparently, under careful supervision and with persistence, many so-called incurable asthmatics will be helped. Of ten adults in one series of cases, one became entirely free from the disorder. Five were relieved markedly, while four failed to respond. The younger the victim, the greater the chance for success.

But this management did one thing. Ah of the patients admitted that they were far more comfortable. They had less fear of seizures.

OVARIAN CYST.

D. R. writes: What are the symtoms of a cyst on an ovary?

REPLY.

There may be none, if the growth is small. Slight tenderness, however, may be complained of. Now and then, one of these sacs may reach an enormous size. In such a situation, symptoms of pregnancy may be imitated.

SKIN DISEASE.

B. M. writes: Is there a cure for impetigo in a baby, 18 months old?

REPLY.

Yes. Many remedies have been employed, including sulfathiazole ointment, packs wrung out of permanganate solution, ammoniated mercury, gentian violet, etc. Follow the counsel of your physician.

AFTER A BUMP.

J. B. S. writes: Is it bad for a child who has hurt his head to go to sleep immediately afterward?

REPLY.

Slumber is a great healer. Make certain, however, that unconsciousness is not mistaken for natural sleep.

Freedom Refound.

Letter from an American woman in Paris to her brother in Chicago:

"At last I can write as I please. It has actually been a moral suffocation, so much that I have the physical sensation now of being able to breathe more or less at ease. To think that I now can write anything at all that I please! Liberté, liberté, cherie! You know how I felt when they took my newspapers away when I entered Germany in 1936. Well, I've known the value of ordinary, garden variety liberty ever since, and don't let any one ever fool you; it is worth dying all the deaths to have and to hold. Excuse my extravagance, but I mean it and you would, too, if you had experienced five years of suffocation and moral darkness and an atmosphere of lies, lies, lies, with no power to talk back against the lies. Lies will continue, as they always have, but the right to refute them is worth everything.

"It has been a frightful ordeal, this waiting and waiting and the half hunger and the long winters mostly in bed because of the cold and the darkness and the rest, but c'est fini!!!!!! To have experienced the delirious joy of the past few weeks was worth any 'suffering.'

"In the meantime Paris is absolutely folle, mad, crazy, shrieking, laughing, dancing, damning, growling, parading women collaborators, at least those who have sold their relatives to the Germans, around with shaven heads and swastikas marked on their foreheads. That is one of the little touches of the populace, and I don't mind at all.

"We have been under fire from collabs shooting from roofs, from Germans in huge tanks shooting at the people, from F. F. I.'s shooting at the collabs, from U. S. tanks shooting at the Luxembourg gardens where the Germans were still entrenched, and yet every one wanted to be out in the fray. I was on benches and hobbling under cover here and there during most of it. I was exactly like the French tricoteuses of the French Revolution. You would have been, too. Saw seven persons killed in one moment and our electrician's wife mortally wounded. Still the concierges and old women and men and every one stood and stared and cursed.

"The Germans got very frightened the last days of their power here, and roared round and round the city in their tanks and armored cars, exactly like the figures of a merry-go-round, always the same ones, pretending to be numerous. Never a soldier on foot. No more of their suave, 'correct' manners. They went native, and a very vicious, savage, and brutal lot they became.

"Naturally the papers will have described the wild welcome given to the liberator, so I need not. I was out early with the fine silk American flag I have had so long. I waved it madly at everything, perched as I was on a stop-and-go sign in the middle of the Boul Respail and Montparnasse. But don't think there was a dearth of flags. People had saved them in the bottom of trunks hidden for years, and Paris was abloom.

"No one knows what day of the week or hour of the day it is now. One lives in a prolonged fairy tale or dream from which one fears to waken to reality. The Sammies have taken the Parisians by the heart as usual. I can understand why no other soldiers have the same appeal to the French. The French in their hearts adore the 'naturel,' the spontaneous, the unaffected, and the sort of sense of humor these boys show is a howling success.

"I saw the return of their Champs-Elysees parade, coming up Boul Respail with a sort of cornflakes-ad-overgrown-Irish-baby soldier directing traffic under the clock there. He was a magazine cover vivant! And every one applauded. The contrast with the silent 'correct' German soldiers, who never looked any one in the eye during their four years' stay, was tremendous. These boys were staring every one in the face and grinning and showing lovely white teeth in brown skin, grabbing the girls to kiss them, all like a lot of collegians celebrating their baccalaureate. This is really love at first sight, the coup de foudre."

DIPLOMACY'S GLASS JAW.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—I have been puzzled for a long time by the continued silence in the press concerning the state paper amounting to an ultimatum which Secretary Hull and Mr. Roosevelt sent to the Japanese government on Nov. 27, 1941.

Among the provisions which they named as a condition of peace were that Japan withdraw from the axis and also withdraw her forces from Indo-China. There were also a number of other conditions.

Felix Morley, writing in the Saturday Evening Post early in 1943, said that this paper was, to any thoughtful person, clearly provocative of war. And so it proved, for this gave the war party the provocation they needed for the attack on Pearl Harbor.

What kind of statesmanship or diplomacy is this that will send what practically amounts to an ultimatum to a first class military power, with nothing to back it up? We then had the fleet at Pearl Harbor, but only a handful of troops in the Philippines.

It seems incredible that this campaign should continue with no reference to that paper sent Japan on the date above referred to. L. R. DAVIS.

ABUSING JUDICIAL POWER.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—When I read in THE TRIBUNE that about 60 defendants arraigned in the Town Hall, Racine Avenue and Chicago Avenue police courts on disorderly conduct charges for being drunk were discharged by Judge John R. McSweeney after they bought tickets for a football game, I could not help but wonder where the judge got his authority to so dispose of 300 tickets which he said had been allotted to him to sell at $1.20 each. I am sure the Sisters of Mercy Maintenance fund does not need that kind of assistance, nor would they knowingly accept any proceeds secured in this manner.

If the drunks were brought in without charges, to be released after they had sobered up, then they should have been released. If they were subject to fines, then the fines should have been paid, and the moneys so collected turned into the channel prescribed by law. What would have happened if the drunks had refused to buy the tickets the judge had to sell? MRS. J. A.

WHAT FOURTH TERM VOTES CAN DO.

Park Ridge, Ill., Sept. 22.—How can any sane American go to the polls on Nov. 7 and cast a vote that might establish a former member of a notorious gangster organization as the President of this nation? How can our churches, civic organizations, chambers of commerce, banking institutions, and business men's associations stand by without protesting against this possibility? DOWNCAST.

THRILLED.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Your editorials and your lack of fear, thrill me. It's wonderful to have a paper tell the truth. I was so glad to see those articles about Mr. Truman, because my husband and I have a friend [an attorney] who lives in his city, and he told us of all the disgraceful things that have happened about this Truman family. ANNE TURNER.

THE CANDIDATES' HEALTH.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—I feel strongly that the ordinary voter, before election time, should know and is entitled to know whether one or both candidates who are coming up for the highest office in the land are, under ordinary physical requirements, capable of holding out during the trying four years that we have before us.

During Woodrow Wilson's second term we had an example of what we might reasonably expect during the coming four years. However, at that time the cabinet was probably abler and could function better than any we might expect to have among the Democratic ranks at present. RALPH H. POOLE.

ARE TOMATOES AND APPLESAUCE LUXURIES?

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Our attention has been called to a letter which appeared recently in the Voice of the People, signed by Marie E. Hirnshall. We are curious to know where the lady lives, as she states it is a "miracle" to find canned goods in tin on grocery shelves. She also says that when found these same canned foods rate 30 or so points. Doesn't she know that practically all canned vegetables are point free—that thousands of cans are still available and that the high points are found on pineapple and other items considered luxuries?

As for Mrs. Walter J. Kelly not knowing the tin can situation, we wish that the writer could be behind the scenes, as Mrs. Kelly has been, and would visit the dumps, as the latter has, and she would find thousands of unprepared tin cans lost to the war effort because housewives threw them out unopened and unprepared. Unprepared tin cans cannot be sent to the detinning plant. They must be opened at both ends, washed and flattened because of the method of detinning.

ROOSEVELT'S HEALTH.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—After hearing Mr. Roosevelt almost break down a time or so in his radio speech of Thursday night, and after looking at his recent pictures, I think it's about time for Mr. Roosevelt to place the welfare of this country above the continuation of his New Deal and be honest with the American people about his physical ability to serve another four years, if he were elected. CAR OWNER'S LIABILITY.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—1. Do the Illinois laws hold the head of a family liable for injuries caused by the negligent driving of his automobile by a member of his family? 2. If the father is in the car while a minor son is driving, would he be held liable for the driver's negligence? G. S.

G. O. P. TO SPEED ITS COOK COUNTY DRIVE MONDAY

Announces Radio Appeals and Mass Meetings.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Convinced that the trend is in their favor, Republican leaders plan to drive it upward with a smashing series of massmeetings and daily broadcasts from Chicago radio stations from Monday until the Nov. 7 election, it was announced yesterday.

Straw votes and other indicators reflect the quickening pace of the Dewey and Illinois state campaigns, and G. O. P. leaders are determined that there shall be no letdown.

Thirty-five massmeetings have been scheduled, not including the climactic appearance of Gov. Dewey in the Chicago Stadium on Oct. 25. The first of the series will be held Monday night in the Arlington Heights fieldhouse and in Lundquist hall, 61st and Morgan sts.

Ward Meetings to Go On.

This list will grow as ward committeemen complete arrangements for the campaign's big show in their districts. In some cases two wards jointly will present the candidates in hired halls. Meetings in regular ward headquarters will continue amid the splurge of more ambitious efforts.

Richard J. Lyons, nominee for senator, will lead off the radio series at 9:15 p. m. Monday over W-G-N. Gov. Green will follow up at 10:45 p. m. over WMAQ. On Tuesday Atty. Gen. Barrett will speak over W-G-N at 7:15 p. m., to be followed at 7:30 p. m. by Gov. Green's broadcast from the executive mansion in Springfield.

The governor will shoulder eight of these radio assignments, Lyons five, and Barrett three. State Auditor Lueder will be heard twice by radio, Lt. Gov. Cross three times; Arnold P. Benson, candidate for secretary of state, twice, and there will be a speech apiece by Conrad F. Becker, candidate for state treasurer, and State Sen. Earle B. Searcy, nominee for Supreme court clerk.

Kelly Expects Roosevelt Visit.

Officially, at least, the Democrats reported that their "champion precinct captain," President Roosevelt, is not certain to come to Chicago. Mayor Kelly said it is his "opinion" that Roosevelt will appear here as well as in several other midwest cities where Democratic stock is said to have dropped.

From another source it was reported that the Democrats figure they must out-match the Dewey show and have canceled their option on the Chicago Stadium in favor of Soldiers' field.

JOHNSON MAKES ANOTHER APPEAL IN U.S. TAX CASE

With permission of the United States Supreme court, attorneys for William R. Johnson, ex-gambling boss who is under a 5 year sentence for income tax fraud, petitioned the Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday to reopen his case.

The petition, prepared by former Atty. Gen. Homer Cummings and Attorneys William J. Dempsey and Harold R. Schradzke, renews charges of perjury against Atty. William Goldstein, who was a principal government witness against Johnson. New evidence backing the accusation is asserted to be available.

Testified on Ownership.

Johnson's conviction was based largely on testimony of Goldstein, who charged that Johnson was sole owner of various gambling and investment properties. Johnson denied this, saying that at the most he was only a half owner with the late William Skidmore. His contention, if supported, would reduce his tax liability in proportion.

One of the properties Goldstein said Johnson owned is the old Albany Park Bank building at 3422-24 Lawrence av., formerly used as a financial clearing house by the Johnson-Skidmore syndicate.

It is this charge by Goldstein that was attacked in the new petition. Johnson declared that not only was he never the owner of the building but that Goldstein's son, Theodore, was and now is the owner.

U. S. Tax Returns Cited.

Johnson's petition charged that income tax returns filed by Theodore Goldstein from 1937 to 1944 certify young Goldstein as the building owner, listing rentals and deductible expenses. Yet, the petition went on, sole ownership was imputed to Johnson for three of those years, years in which he was accused of tax fraud.

The Appeals court is asked to remand Johnson's case to Judge John P. Barnes, the trial judge, on a motion for a new trial. The Supreme court, in a rare move, made this plea possible by consenting to defer its consideration of another Johnson appeal.

GRAND JURY ACTION REVIVES INTEREST IN MANGANO'S SLAYING

Interest in the gangland slaying last Aug. 3 of Lawrence [Dago] Mangano and Mike Pontillo was revived yesterday with the reported grand jury action naming five men and a woman on charges of complicity in the theft and possession of $15,000 worth of cigarets consigned to troops overseas.

The cigarets were stolen July 9 from the American Transportation company, 2500 Taylor st. Since the smokes were tax free because of their soldier use, the hijackers were unable to sell them and most of the loot was recovered later, abandoned by the thieves.

At the time of the Mangano-Pontillo slaying at Morgan and Taylor sts. and Blue Island av., police held one theory that Mangano, known hoodlum and fence, and Pontillo may have been slain because of a double cross on their part in the cigaret theft.

Those named in the reported true bill yesterday on charges of conspiracy and receiving stolen property were: Mrs. Florence J. Barad, 38, 427 Roslyn pl., a milliner; Sam Kuchek, 32; Robert Robinson, Negro, 24; Dominic Caruso, 40; Dan Beneducce, 43, and Joseph Mendino, 34.

Peace to See Retention of British Labor Row Setup

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The war time system of collective bargaining between employers and workers is to continue into the peace, Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin made clear tonight. Announcing the publication by his ministry of a new industrial relations handbook, which he hopes will become the textbook for trade union and employers' leaders, Bevin claimed that collective bargaining had carried Britain thru the war without a major industrial deadlock.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BEN MARKLAND

Oct. 13, 1944.

"ROUNDUP TIME" on a middle western farm has little in common with the wild riding, roping, and branding sessions pictured in the cowboy movies.

The men on the Wheaton farm held a roundup of their own the other morning, but the only similarity to a Montana roundup was the bawling and squalling of the calves as the men branded their ears with indelible ink. The 21 pure bred Aberdeen-Angus heifer calves were marked as a preliminary to registration.

Protest Like Schoolboys.

The youngsters first bawled about being separated from their dams, and then did some really loud complaining as they were handled. Their ears had to be washed, and they didn't like that any more than fifth grade schoolboys.

After the scrubbing the men used stamps [similar to those used by a notary public on official papers] to make tattoo marks inside the ears.

The left ear of each calf was stamped with the farm's brand and the figure 4, designating its year of birth as 1944. The right ears were marked merely with a figure from 1 to 21. Even tho there is no pain to this modern method of identification, the calves bawled as tho headed for the death chamber.

Hurry to Waiting Dams.

After tattooing, the calves were released one at a time. Each calf hurried to its waiting dam, giving the men a chance to take the dam's registration number, which is attached to a metal chain around her neck for use on the calves' pedigrees. The calves also will get registration tags as a permanent means of identification for breeding purposes.

The Aberdeen-Angus, as well as the other cattle on the Wheaton farm, are assured of full feed bunks this winter. Both the silos have been filled. The silo at the northwest corner of the farm holds about 70 tons of corn ensilage, and the silo on the south side holds around 100 tons. The men have made about 155 tons of ensilage this fall, since the larger silo contained 15 tons left from last season.

★ The GARDEN ★

THE procedure of fall plowing differs from spring. In the spring the ground can be plowed and then immediately disked or raked, but in the fall it's important that the furrows be left for the winter, therefore no disc, harrow, or rake is used.

The advantages of leaving fall-plowed ground in rough form are these: The furrow ridges prevent the runoff of autumn rains and winter snow, helping the plot build up a reserve of moisture for the growing season; the furrowed ground exposes the maximum amount of soil surface to the beneficial action of freezes and thaws, breaking up the heavy clods and mellowing the ground more completely than a gardener can do the job with a rake or cultivator.

CHARGES F.D.R.'S HEALTH IS TOPIC OF 'WHISPERING'

New York, Oct. 13 (AP).—Democratic National Chairman Hannegan charged today that "the opposition" was conducting "a whispering campaign" about President Roosevelt's health.

Hannegan brought up the subject while being questioned at a press conference concerning reports that Democratic leaders felt President Roosevelt would do intensive campaigning in the final weeks before election.

"Apparently there is a whispering campaign going on and being intensified about the President's health," Hannegan said.

Herbert Brownell Jr., Republican national chairman, labeled the statement "some more of Hannegan's shennanigans." He added the assertion was "completely unfounded."

600 Makers of Automatic Bomber Pilots End Strike

A strike by 200 workers engaged in making automatic pilots for B-29 Super Fortresses, which began Thursday night at the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company, 1135 N. Cicero av., swelled to 600 day shift workers yesterday and then was abruptly terminated at 10:20 a. m., on orders of union officials. The strikers, who are members of local 1796 of the International Association of Machinists [AFL], were said to be protesting a reduction of their work week from 60 to 55 hours.

ROOSEVELT SAYS HE'S PONDERING MORE SPEECHES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—President Roosevelt today told his press conference he is considering making additional campaign speeches beyond his scheduled talk on foreign policy before the Foreign Policy association in New York Oct. 21.

The chief executive said that tho he was talking about making further speeches, he could not get frightfully interested in the matter. If and when a decision is made, he said, it will be announced thru the Democratic national committee or thru the White House.

In New Deal circles great interest was expressed in the report of Presidential consideration of more campaign addresses. New Deal leaders have expressed concern over the trend toward Gov. Dewey and have been urging Mr. Roosevelt to take to the stump in an effort to stem the tide.

At his conference Mr. Roosevelt dismissed a question as to whether his speech of Oct. 21 is to be political by saying he did not desire to turn the conference into a debating society.

Brewers Leave Vats, Help Boss Put Out Fire at Home

Twenty beer makers left their vats yesterday to extinguish fire which damaged the residence of Emil Zeman, owner of the Zeman brewery, four miles west of Mundelein on the Gilmer-Volo road. The flames, starting from a defective flue, were confined to the two story residence near the brewery. Loss was estimated at $7,000.

FURTHER EASING OF TRANSFER BAN IN SCHOOLS SEEN

Considerable relaxation of the school board's controversial no transfer rule, affecting thousands of pupils, was foreseen last night after Mayor Kelly stepped into the row precipitated by the order.

The mayor said he felt that transfer privileges to nearer schools were merited by very young children who otherwise would have to travel long distances or to cross dangerous intersections. Such conditions could be considered matters of health, the mayor added. These points have been the most common advanced by parents opposed to strict enforcement of the no transfer rule.

Mayor Kelly revealed also that in talks with school board members he had urged appeasement of the parents. The no transfer rule was established by William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, last month. It has been attacked as arbitrary and unfair.

LET'S EXAMINE the "work sheet" of a typical freight car . . . Pennsylvania Railroad 59944. Let's see where it has been . . . what it has carried . . . how much work it has done.

The period covered is a short one, slightly more than three summer months of 1943. Yet note over how much territory No. 59944 has traveled, the variety of shipments it has delivered; approximately 15,000 miles of travel, over many railroads besides its "home" line . . . the Pennsylvania Railroad.

An exception? Not a bit! Pennsylvania 59944 is typical of how the 1,800,000 freight cars of the American railroads are serving the war effort. It illustrates how the railroads in a mighty and united effort have made it possible to haul more tons per trip—over longer distances—at greater speeds—than ever before in the history of railroading.

FORMER STATE LABOR DIRECTOR ACCUSED IN SUIT

Brother Patrick Murphy Also a Defendant.

Francis B. Murphy, former state director of labor, and his brother, Patrick, were accused in a Circuit court suit yesterday of using state employes to promote the sale of a product they manufactured and with failing to fulfill the provisions of a partnership agreement.

The suit, seeking $10,000 damages and an injunction to restrain the Murphys from making slanderous statements, was filed by Marjorie Maloney, owner of the Dust Filter Co., 4418 N. Clark st.

Quizzed in Drake Case.

Patrick Murphy recently was questioned by police in connection with the Drake hotel murder of Mrs. Adele Born Williams, wife of a state department attache. At the time she was shot to death by a mysterious woman assassin, Patrick Murphy was occupying a suite at the Drake with his mistress, Ellen Bennett, former gun girl, who was employed as key clerk at the hotel.

Miss Maloney's suit charges that during this period the Dust Lock Air Filter company, then operated by the Murphys, became involved in financial difficulties and that she came to its assistance with the understanding she and Patrick Murphy would be partners in a new company, the Dust Filter company.

Patrick Murphy, who according to the suit always appeared on the records for his brother, was to have transferred his stock in the old company to the new. This he never did, nor did he perform the duties of sales manager for which he was being paid $75 a week.

Instead, a third company, the American Dust Collector company, was organized in competition to the Dust Filter company, manufacturing equipment designed for use in factories, the suit charges, adding that employes of the state labor department were "compensated" by Murphy for their part in "promoting" sales of this equipment.

Lured Employes Away.

Arnold L. Lund, former Republican state representative from Riverside, and at that time employed as an attorney in the state labor department, had made arrangements for the refinancing at Francis Murphy's request, the petition continues, and became manager of the company Miss Maloney had financed.

When the new concern was started, she charges, Patrick Murphy lured to it most of her employes, telling them his brother would fire Lund and that they then would have no place to work.

In a second suit filed by Miss Maloney yesterday, she asks $5,000 damages from the Surety Manufacturing company, for displaying the Murphy dust collector at the national safety conference, instead of her product, which she charges they had agreed to exhibit there.

'The Key' . . . . . By Patricia Wentworth

(Copyright, 1944: By Patricia Wentworth Trumbull.)

SYNOPSIS: Michael Harsch, refugee, perfects a dangerous experiment and telephones to Sir George Randal, offering his formula to the war office. Late that night Harsch is found, shot thru the head, in the locked church where he often went to play the organ. Madoc, a fellow scientist with whom Harsch lived, is his sole executor and sole legatee. Madoc is a pacifist. Sir George Randal asks Maj. Garth Allbane to investigate. Garth arrives, ostensibly to visit his Aunt Sophy, whose new companion is Medora Brown. He learns that Janice Meade is Madoc's secretary; the new rector has Miss Jones' house; the Misses Doncaster are still at Pennycott, but Mary Anne is now an invalid; Mrs. Mottram, a pretty widow with a daughter, 5, is at the Haveu; Mr. Everton, who admires the widow, is in Meadowcroft; also that Harsch was in the habit of dropping in to see Medora Brown, a fine musician; and Frederick Bush, verger, was approached by German agents before the war. Awakened about midnight, Garth sees Medora leave the house and return shortly. Next morning on the stairs he finds a sliver of glass. Harsch's body was found by Janice and Bush. When Madoc testifies at the inquest Garth sees glass lodged in his shoe. The four church keys are held by Bush, Mr. Harsch, the rector, and Aunt Sophy, whose key is used by Medora Brown, the organist. At a quarter to 10 Sophy heard the shot. Miss Brown used her key Tuesday morning. Garth knows her key was not in its drawer on Thursday evening. Madoc went out Tuesday evening before 9 and returned at 10 minutes after 10. Mr. Madoc's telephone is a party line, and Mary Anne Doncaster listens in all the time. Bush was at Gotspech Tuesday evening. Young Cyril Bond gave Madoc take a key from Medora Tuesday night. Scotland Yard takes over. Inspector Lamb and Sgt. Abbott interview Miss Brown. Medora refutes Cyril Bond's statement. When Miss Madoc was brushing her brother's suit on Wednesday the key fell out. Madoc admits he was in the church cat Tuesday evening and that he got the key from Medora, but he did not go near the church. He returned the key to Medora Thursday night. Madoc is arrested. On returning from Marbury Monday night Garth told Madoc he had seen a ghost.

INSTALMENT XXIV.

REPULSED.

Miss Madoc wiped her eyes upon a handkerchief. "I do wonder what Mr. Harsch saw," said Miss Madoc.

Janice said, "I don't know." She was thinking of what Mr. Harsch had said to her.

Miss Madoc covered her face and burst into tears.

"I'm a wicked woman to be telling stories, and Evan in prison waiting to be hanged! If only I hadn't told them about the key!"

It went round like that in circles all the morning. By the time Garth came up after lunch to take her for a walk Janice was feeling as if she had been put thru a wringer. As soon as they were well away Garth said:

"I've got it all taped. We catch the 9 o'clock bus tomorrow morning and go up to town. I'll go and see Sir George, and you can fix things up with Miss Silver. The sooner she gets here the better. By the way, Mrs. Mottram came up after church and poured a bit of cold water—at least I thought it was meant to be cold water."

"What did she say?"

He laughed.

"O, a piece about perhaps the police wouldn't like it if you had Miss Silver down, and most likely she would be away on a case, but of course she really was too marvelous, only if Mr. Madoc had really done it there wasn't anything any one could do, was there? It's rather a pity she's had to come in on it at all, because now every one in Bourne will know why Miss Silver is here."

"I expect they'd know anyhow. You can't keep secrets in a village."

He slipped a hand inside her arm as they walked.

"What will they say when we're seen to go off on the bus together in the morning?"

When her face looked so white and small it did something to his feelings.

"Perhaps they'll think we're eloping."

"It would be rather fun to elope. Shall we?"

Janice met his laughing, teasing look and said:

"There's nowhere left to elope to till after the war."

On the top of her mind she was rather pleased with this answer, but deep underneath something despaired and said, "It's no good—I love him frightfully—I always have, and I can't stop."

They were standing still on the edge of a tilted field. Nothing but sky and air and the green slope of the grass. Garth put an arm around her shoulders. He said in a startled voice:

"What's the matter, Jan?"

"Nothing."

"Are you all right?"

"I've had a dreadful morning with Miss Madoc."

"Hasn't she any relations who could come?"

"I don't think so. If we can make her feel that something is being done, it will help. You see, she's made up her mind that he's going to be hanged. She keeps on talking about it."

The arm about her shoulders tightened.

"My poor child!"

"O, it doesn't matter about me."

They walked on in silence for a minute or two. Garth kept his arm where it was.

"Why has she made up her mind that he's going to be hanged?"

"I don't know . . ."

"Jan—does she think he did it?"

He felt her shake. She began to say, "I don't know," but her voice stopped in the middle of a word. Her face quivered and she began to cry.

"Jan—Jan—darling! Don't cry like that—please don't!"

And then he was kissing her—her forehead, the curve of her cheek, the wet, weeping eyes.

"Jan, don't—I hate it! It's going to be all right—we'll make it all right. We'll get Miss Silver. Jan, don't cry any more! Here's a handkerchief."

Garth put his other arm around her.

She took the handkerchief and dried her tears. Then she said:

"Please let me go."

He went on holding her. Funny little thing—darling little thing. He wanted to kiss her again, but somehow he couldn't.

"I'm sorry about crying—men do hate it so. But it doesn't mean very much—just Miss Madoc, and—and things."

He put his cheek against hers for a moment. The words that had been in his mind said themselves aloud.

"Funny little thing—darling little thing!"

This time she stepped back resolutely.

"Thank you for being kind. We'd better go on walking."

"I don't think I want to walk. I want to make love to you."

Janice felt cold at her heart.

"O, no—not really."

He couldn't help laughing.

"And what do you mean by that?"

"I just mean not really. It's because I cried and you were sorry for me, and because you were fond of me when I was a little girl. I don't want to have it spoiled. I'd rather be friends."

Something happened when she said that. The relationship between them changed. He had the feeling that it had been wrenched, and that the wrench had been quite agonizingly painful, but whether it was Janice who felt it or he himself, he didn't know. He stared at her with troubled eyes and said:

"What happened?" And when she looked at him in surprise, "Jan—something happened then, but I don't know what it was."

They finished their walk. Neither of them talked very much. When they said good-by Garth looked at her in rather a puzzled way. Then he said, "The 9 o'clock bus. Don't be late," and she went back to Miss Madoc.

She was so tired that she thought she would go to sleep at once, but she didn't. As soon as she lay down and put out the light, everything that she had said to Garth and everything that he had said to her came crowding into her mind. Over and over again the clear, vivid feeling of his cheek against hers. It was the last thing she remembered before she slipped into a dream in which she was walking from Perry's Halt because she had missed the bus. It was black dark without moon or stars, and somewhere right out in the open fields a clock was striking twelve. When the last stroke died away she could hear a footstep following her. It came into her mind that Mr. Harsch had seen a ghost when he walked this way in the dark. She began to run, and waked up to see the moonlight slanting in across the floor.

WOMAN FRIEND SUBPENAED FOR HOGANS INQUEST

She Accepts Service at Her Home.

Mrs. Jeanette Tees, 40, a divorcee, who was talking on the telephone with Harry V. Hogans, 54, a lumberman, when he shot and killed himself in his room in the Pearson hotel, 190 E. Pearson st., Thursday night, was served with a subpena early this morning to appear at a coroner's hearing later today.

Detectives Edward Harte and Thomas Downes said Mrs. Tees, after accepting service, told them she "was still broken up" over Hogans' death. She said she could add no other explanation to those "already in the papers."

She was in her apartment at 1443 Fargo av. at the time of the shooting. Later she told police that she and Hogans were friends, that she had been unable to meet him for dinner Thursday night, and that she heard the suicide shot as she was talking to him on the phone several hours later.

Fails to Appear at Inquest.

Mrs. Tees failed to appear at the inquest yesterday, and Deputy Coroner Louis J. Nadherny continued the hearing until today, and issued a subpena for her appearance. The detectives found her in her home after a search of several hours.

Three witnesses, including Walter J. Hogans of 428 Franklin st., Geneva, a brother of the suicide, were questioned yesterday.

Walter Hogans testified that his brother disclosed during a visit two months ago that he was desirous of divorcing his wife, Jessie.

Mrs. Harry Hogans and their daughter, Alice, 21, live at 729 Hawthorne lane. The couple had been separated for two years, Hogans' brother said.

Tells of Telephone Call.

Albert Moll of 3525 Broadway, a bellboy in the Pearson hotel, another witness, related that he was sent to room 629 at 9 p. m. Thursday to tell Hogans his telephone receiver was off the hook.

At that time, Moll related, he put thru a telephone call at Hogans' request. When a woman answered, Moll said, he handed the receiver to Hogans and left the room.

The bellboy also testified he had seen a woman in Hogans' room Wednesday, and on several other nights, but added that he was unable to identify her.

Mrs. Tees divorced her husband 14 years ago and recently came here from Calgary, Alta., with a daughter, Twyla, 16.

ORDER CHARGES AGAINST POLICE WHO SHOT THREE

Three charges of assault to kill were ordered placed last night against Policeman Walter E. Gray, 45, of the River Forest police, for running wild with a gun in a suburban tavern early yesterday and shooting three persons.

Walter Gray.

The shooting occurred in the tavern at 6149 Ogden av., Cicero. Those wounded—none seriously—were John Jira, 48, 3703 E. Euclid av., Berwyn, his wife, May, 45, and John Kessler, 42, owner of the tavern. Gray terrorized them for more than an hour, while he forced Kessler to serve him drinks. Then he wound up his spree with a wild west shooting.

Gray was suspended by his superiors pending further investigation. Last night he rebuffed Assistant State's Atty. Alexander Napoli's efforts to question him. Napoli ordered police to book him in the morning. Gray was the victim of a mysterious bombing four years ago. His car was blown up by a bomb attached to the starter. He suffered the loss of one eye and one leg.

100 MILWAUKEE BAKERIES CLOSE DOORS MONDAY

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 13 [Special].—One hundred of Milwaukee's 285 retail bakeries will close Monday, some of them for 30 days and some for a number of days each week, for lack of sugar, Fred Laufenberg, secretary of the Wisconsin Bakers' association, said tonight.

Monday's closings, unless sugar is forthcoming, would not only cut the number of Milwaukee retail bakers by 100, but would reduce them from a pre-war high of 415.

Laufenberg said OPA restrictions limit the bakeries to 80 per cent of their sugar allotment of 1941. "But they cannot even get the 80 per cent now."

One beet sugar refinery in Green Bay is operating at only 50 per cent capacity because of government restrictions and farmers shifting to other crops.

Green Bay, Fond du Lac, and other northern cities are feeling the pinch, but not as seriously because they are near the refineries.

CONTINUE TRIAL OF BROTHERS IN FLOWER FRAUD

Federal Judge Elwyn R. Shaw yesterday continued until Jan. 3 hearing on the mail fraud indictment against the three Pike brothers—Silas, Ernest, and Charles—in the operation of their nursery in St. Charles, Kane county.

The brothers are accused of defrauding over a million flower lovers, mostly women, out of $300,000 in dimes thru an alleged scheme of selling surprise packages of seeds and other commodities.

Most of the flower lovers, said Richard G. Finn, assistant United States attorney, complained they did not receive the promotional offer of handkerchiefs, bulbs, and flower seeds promised for sending in two dimes and eight penny postcards addressed with names of other flower lovers.

Out of court yesterday Charles Pike denied the government's charges. He said the family was not conducting any mail fraud, but that lack of personnel made it impossible for the nursery to answer the many orders it received. He said customers were notified their orders would be completed at a later date.

Hinsdale Infant Welfare Unit to Give Style Show Oct. 25

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE beautiful Katherine Legge Memorial home, two miles south of Hinsdale, will be the setting for a fashion show the senior board of the Hinsdale Infant Welfare society will give the afternoon of Oct. 25. The memorial is on the grounds which the late Alexander Legge purchased on which to build a country home for himself and his wife, but when she died in 1923 he built instead an attractive red brick "country club" to be used as a recreation and vacation spot for the women employes of the International Harvester company, of which he was president.

The fashion show will be presented in the large hall, which seats about 500. Luncheon and bridge are on the program, as is the center's annual custom, but the fashion show is being built up this year as a special feature, with Mrs. William Farran, who recently moved to Hinsdale, in charge. Mrs. Joseph L. Costa, another new Hinsdale resident, who is well known in the east as a concert pianist, will serve as commentator.

A number of young women who are not members of the center are donating their services as models, among them Mrs. Paul Butler, Mrs. Steven Scace, Mrs. George T. Bunker, Mrs. William C. Taylor, Mrs. Frank J. Curran, and Mrs. Walter Sheldon, who all came in town yesterday to try on furs for the fashion show before dashing on to the first Friday afternoon concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

Mrs. Scace's husband, now in China, has been absent for two years, serving as a lieutenant in the navy. Her sub-debutante sister, Miss Barbara Knowlson; the Eugene W. Ketterings' daughters, Susan and Jane; Judy Keig, the Marshall Keigs' daughter, and the Merwin Armstrongs' twin daughters also will model. Mrs. Leland Taylor is president of the center, and Mrs. Ralph Kistler is general chairman of the benefit.

Other Symphonygoers.

Also bound for the symphony were many of the women attending a luncheon the Chicago branch of the English Speaking union gave yesterday at the Blackstone. Mrs. Charles True Adams, Mrs. Thomas A. Connors, Mrs. James A. Cathcart, Mrs. Phelps B. Hoyt, Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, Mrs. Allyn D. Warren, Mrs. John Paul Welling, and Mrs. Silas Strawn were some of those who left the luncheon a little early to be in their concert seats on time.

The luncheon speaker was Harold B. Butler, director of the British information service in this country, who just had returned from England, and who told his audience that the robot bombing had put back the rebuilding of London by one or two years. "The number of historical buildings and churches that have been destroyed in England is far greater than in France and Italy," he said.

New 'Maisie' Picture Is Gay and Diverting

"MAISIE GOES TO RENO." A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, directed by Harry Beaumont, starring Ann Sothern, with John Hodiak, Tom Drake, Marta Linden, Paul Cavanagh, and Ava Gardner, and presented at the Chicago.

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Ann Sothern's newest "Maisie" picture is a pert little piece, gay, implausible, and mildly diverting, with John Hodiak, who really made a good thing of that lifeboat, looking rugged as a blackjack dealer entangled by a tic. The tic belongs to Maisie the riveter, and on her it looks like a wink. The result of passionate devotion to war work, it sends her on a rest cure which involves singing in a Reno night club and kidnaping a beautiful but not too bright heiress to save the gullible girl from divorce by fraud and forgery, thru which three conniving crooks have convinced her that her devoted sergeant is a fortune hunter.

There may be more scientific ways to soothe frazzled nerves, but this one covers the farcical distance. Threats of a padded cell fade with the tic as Maisie wins at blackjack—until the next episode. Mr. Hodiak is quite satisfactory as Miss Sothern's seventh leading man, but in the true "Maisie" tradition of a new heart-throb for each picture, he can't be the eighth.

The star shows no sign of exhaustion in what looks like a lifetime career as the fluffy little blonde of the flippant tongue and honest eyes, whose kind heart is constantly getting her in and out of a peck of trouble. A pretty girl and a deft comedienne, she has what it takes to hold the screen, tho it takes doing when she is stuck with a song as bad as "Panhandle Pete." The supporting cast is adequate, and the direction enjoys fooling with a nearsighted alienist deprived of his spectacles, and the inconsequential elevator rides of an ambling Scottie.

Women in War Work

By Dorothy Johnson

Six thousand of the 20,000 additional war workers required by 150 Chicago area plants must be women, war man power commission officials said in announcing a special week-long labor procurement drive beginning tomorrow.

Seven teams of five persons each will contact men and women not already in war-essential work and direct them to 18 offices of the United States employment service. The offices will be open tomorrow.

Plants behind schedule include those making heavy duty tires, medium and heavy trucks, heavy cannon, heavy cannon ammunition, radio-radar, airplanes, including engines and parts; heavy duty castings for tanks, and electrical equipment, including fire control apparatus for ships. Thirty per cent of the applicants for jobs in these industries are expected to be women.

Management of the plants does not expect experienced workers in all fields, WMC spokesmen said. Most companies have facilities for training help on the job.

Several women attached to WMC and USES offices are included in the personnel of canvassing teams, which will distribute literature and contact persons in their homes and in public places. Anne Davis, man power consultant in the Illinois state WMC office in Chicago, is a team leader. Others serving in the procurement drive are Grace McCoy, senior interviewer in Danville; Mrs. Olga Brown, junior interviewer in Oak Park; Constance Laird, senior interviewer in Bloomington; Elmira O'Neal, employer relations representative in Champaign; Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson, clerk in the Harrisburg office; Mrs. Thelma Markgraf, employer relations representative in Granite City; Margarite Kenny, senior interviewer in Cicero, and Mrs. Wooda Hill, manager of the Centralia USES office.

A young woman who waited a year to join the SPARS left Chicago Thursday with a draft of 30 recruits for basic training at the Coast Guard station in Palm Beach, Fla. She is Charlotte Lyons, 3646 Magnolia av., sworn in on her 20th birthday, 12 months after her sister, Yeoman 3d Class Shirley Lyons, signed up with the SPARS.

Yeoman Lyons, on duty in Cleveland, O., came to Chicago to witness her sister's oath of service and will see her again in Florida when she arrives there with a recruit draft from Ohio.

Another 20 year old SPAR recruit, Elaine Gjonola, 2447 California av., went with the same draft. Her sister, Storekeeper 3d Class Loretta Gjonola of the WAVES, stationed in Cleveland, was in Chicago to see her off.

Mary Jo Desmond, 927 Wilson av., daughter of Capt. Leo F. Desmond of the army, is still another in the Chicago draft. Capt. Desmond is serving in the European theater.

The SPAR recruiting office at 53 W. Jackson blvd. is stressing procurement during the period ending Nov. 23, the women's reserve's 2d anniversary, when recruiting will cease.

Patricia Fisher Will Be Bride This Afternoon

When Lt. [j. g.] Floyd Chambers arrived in this country on leave a few days ago after more than a year's duty with the navy in the Pacific, he and Miss Patricia Marie Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Fisher of Wilmette, immediately planned to be married at 5 p. m. today in the home of the bride's parents. Lt. Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Chambers of Salt Lake City, Utah, was captain of the 1941 football squad at Northwestern university. Lt. Chambers and his bride will go to the west coast.

In a ceremony in the First Presbyterian church of La Grange at 4 p. m. today, Miss Elizabeth Ann Richards will become the bride of Lt. Col. John Homer Champion, son of Mrs. Georgia Champion of La Grange. Miss Richards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kilbun Kelly of the same suburb. Col. Champion, one of the youngest officers of his rank in the army air forces, returned recently from more than two years' duty with the transport command. His bride will accompany him to Miami, Fla., when he reports for further orders.

The marriage of Miss Joyce Hahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hahn of Cincinnati, O., to Lt. [j. g.] Richard I. Kahl, son of Samuel Kahl of E. Chestnut st., will take place at 5 p. m. tomorrow in the Ambassador East hotel. Lt. Kahl is at home on leave after serving for nearly two years at sea.

Thru the Looking Glass

A different kind of school bell is about to ring for teen age girls, a call to classes of instruction in ways and means of making the most of youthful good looks and natural charm. The course will be given at a Chicago beauty salon and is a repeat performance of a service that was inaugurated last spring.

The classes meet once a week for five weeks and each session is two hours in length. Held from 4 until 6 in the afternoon, they don't interfere with regular school hours and the price of the complete course happily is not prohibitive.

This is definitely not a glamor course but sane, concrete lessons in the care of the skin, hands, and hair, in how to sit and stand and walk. The pupils are taught how to select correct make-up and to use it with discretion. They are impressed with the fact that a natural rather than a made-up look is their cue to beauty. They learn how to dress their hair to suit their faces and features, and good posture is emphasized as an aid to grace and poise. Cleanliness and the value of good eating and sleeping habits are stressed.

Some little girls seem to be born knowing how to make the most of their personal assets and breeze thru their teens without experiencing growing-up pains. Others have mamas who are skilful enough to guide their young pollywogs' experiments with make-up and give them the keys to poise and social presence. But there are many adolescents who go thru agony, making misguided and heartbreaking attempts at trying to bridge the gap between childhood and young womanhood and for these youngsters the course is a worthwhile investment. Overseas Gifts.

Every one is busy sending gifts overseas before the deadline. There is one package that knows no deadline and may be the one thing to bring your G. I. Joe back home. I sent one this week—don't know who will receive it—and I'll never receive a thank you. But, I kept my fourth appointment as a Red Cross blood donor. MARYA WAITE.

Dear Mr. Anthony.

"Play hard to get," they told me,
"And make him beg for dates—
Don't let him know you love him,
Or just how high he rates.

"Say, sorry, but you're busy
The next few times he calls,
For when you keep him guessing
It's 10 to 1 he falls."

I listened to their counsel
And followed to a "T,"
We just can't get together—
He does the same to me!

Pro and Con.

You know, I think Teacher who takes exception to the girl who does more work than is expected of her—to win promotion—has something there.

In every office I've ever worked—and they're plenty in number [me having an itching foot!]—there is always one good egg who takes on all sorts of extra jobs and works herself into drab old age until finally she either is eased out—or down—while the girl who concentrates on herself—but plenty—and who hands out that "what makes you so wonderful" line gets all the breaks, unlimited time off, the best and newest equipment, help when she needs it—everything, in short, to make life in an office not half bad.

I think if some of those earnest souls would stop working so hard to make a living and, instead, learn how to live, they'd be happier, the rest of the office would be happier, and life would be rosier—or am I wrong? Could be!

Elderly Artists' Exhibit Given Lavish Praise

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

It is difficult to believe, but the forceful, colorful, and vigorous exhibition which opened yesterday afternoon in the Chicago galleries, 215 N. Michigan av., represents 249 years of Chicago painting. Three veteran Chicago artists, laying their ages end to end, give the incredible total. Charles W. Dahlgreen is 81, Adam Emory Albright is 82, and Frank C. Peyraud is 86.

Each of them is young in spirit, strong in physique, and virile in workmanship. None of the painting on the walls is the work of age; the paintings are mature and definite—both the juvenile and the decrepit are distinctly out.

Mr. Albright is represented by a brilliant group of landscapes, many of them with children in the foreground. This happy choice of subject has stood him in good stead and many of the most charming pictures of our day are from his tender, sympathetic, and poetic brush. What the Hoosier poet did for Indiana's barefoot boy, Mr. Albright has done for Illinois' fishing and swimming hole tribe. From his last winter's stay in California, Mr. Albright brings back a delightful painting of Marion Davies' home and another glimpse of California in a study of the patio in which he lived and painted during the months in Hollywood.

Charles W. Dahlgreen and Frank C. Peyraud share the larger gallery with as magnificent an array of landscapes as one could find anywhere. It is a pity this room might not be transferred bodily to the Art institute and set up beside the Inness room. Peyraud and Dahlgreen would bear the comparison with flying colors and their paintings would bring pleasure to hundreds.

Dahlgreen shows gorgeous landscapes of the country about Taos, New Mexico, and completes his exhibit with Brown county [Ind.] landscapes. His work is rich, colorful, and sure. There is neither hesitation nor doubt in his handling of colors or composition. These are among the "right" paintings which are difficult to forget. Of their kind they are outstanding.

Peyraud offers a magnificent group of landscapes, chiefly of the Skokie. His brush work is amazingly fine, firm, and determined. Clouds, sky, wet fields, hills, meadows, and woods are all triumphantly portrayed. His paintings are like hymns to America. They are spirited, forceful, and beautiful—a glorious group.

The exhibit will continue thru October and no one should miss it.

Careerist Tells Women's New Role in Brazil

Brazilian business executives no longer measure ability by the yardstick of the worker's sex, Senora Ignez Barreto Carreia d'Araujo, one of the South American republic's leading career women, and founder of its filing methods, told 300 members of the Midwest Filing conference at a luncheon session yesterday in the Palmer House.

Senora d'Araujo.

Women in Brazil's major cities now have entered virtually every type of office job and are especially adept at archival, filing, and inventory work, Mme. Araujo said. She compared office skills to the orderliness and systematic management of the good housekeeper.

In an interview, Mme. Araujo said Brazilian women are actively engaged in volunteer and industrial war work. Members of the Brazilian Legion of Assistance, similar to many women's volunteer war services in this country, drive ambulances, do social service work, and otherwise aid in the allied cause.

Born an aristocrat, Mme. Araujo emerged from the role of chatelaine to develop archive systems for the public departments of Brazil. Her unusual business career originated in a hobby, her interest in the work of her husband, a Brazilian lawyer and government official.

Lucky 13 Party Good Luck for Kenwood Club

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

The Kenwood Social Service club threw superstition out the window when it selected Friday the 13th as the date for its annual benefit and reaped the reward of the intrepid, for yesterday its "Lucky 13 Cocktail Party" packed the stunning second floor rooms of the smart Racquet club. There were no black cats, ladders, nor other Friday the 13th trappings to infringe on the superstitions of the guests, but there were all the ingredients for giving them a good time.

They danced, they had their fortunes told, they heard songs by members of the cast of "Oklahoma!" who graciously "sang for their supper"; they made a bee-line for the huge trays of cigarets passed by several dozen pretty young maids and matrons, and they gambled with other pretty young members of the club who turned 26 girls for the evening. Most of the cigarets had been gathered patiently, package by package, by Miss Jane Dubbs of Woodstock, and others were donated by board members.

Nor was there a lack of young men at this "Lucky 13" party, for the navy's blue and the army's khaki were everywhere visible, and the ratio of men to girls was not far from that illustrated by the picture of Mrs. Harold Gordon surrounded by three midshipmen and two army privates.

While the cash registers merrily rang up a sum that will represent a few thousand dollars for the Infant Welfare society, Mrs. Kenath Sponsel, president of this oldest infant welfare branch, and Mrs. C. Victor Essroger, chairman of the benefit, struggled thru the milling crowds, wreathed in smiles in accepting congratulations on all sides.

Some of the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Davis, whose daughter, Mrs. John Drum, is starting housekeeping in Muncie, Ind., now that Lt. Col. Drum has gone overseas; Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, the George P. Drydens, Mrs. Eugene Lydon, Ralph G. Johnson, who danced with the girl who sings "I Can't Say No" [Dorothea Freed], and Mrs. Johnson; the James Harveys, Mrs. James Hays, Mrs. Arthur Leonard Jr., Mrs. Henry Hafer, the Clarence Neffs, and Miss Jane Leonard and Miss Genevra Lorish, two of the cigaret girls. Frederick Herendeen, whose wife is a former president of the club, introduced the "Oklahoma!" cast.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 13.—It wouldn't surprise me if Johnny Considine moves over to 20th Century. After all, it was Joe Schenck who first started him in the picture business. Their friendship has been steady thru the years. . . . Gail Russell and Steve Dunhill are making merry. Gail's been co-starred with Ray Milland and Joel McCrea. Yet, I believe, when all divvies are taken out of her pay check, she ends up with $50 a week. . . . Mrs. Humphrey Bogart, who's for Tom Dewey, remembered to register—but Bogey, on the other side of the fence, forgot to. . . . Could something have happened to Virginia Gilmore's marriage already?

Mutiny on "Hangover" Set.

The boys at 20th are asking whose body will be hanging in "Hangover Square" when that picture winds up. George Sanders, Laird Cregar, and Reggie Gardiner all objected to the way their parts were written. Whole thing has been a case of gripe and double gripe, I'm told. Because of this, it will be good. . . . Brod Crawford wrote his mother, Helen, that Crooner Bing Crosby sang himself silly for the boys. Nothing was too much trouble. Brod wrote: "I've seen guys cry about some silly thing that three years ago would have meant nothing to them. They'll fight their weight in wildcats if anybody says one word about any actor or actress who has brought home to them." Brod asked for Hollywood news, so I'm sending over my radio show, which he'll broadcast over there.

Watch Your Step, Jane.

Jane Wyman is one of our cutest actresses, and for ages we've asked, "Why doesn't somebody give her a good role?" Well, Willie Wyler did—opposite Ray Milland in "Lost Week-end." Now I'm told Jane wants her own make-up man brought over from Warners when she goes to work at Paramount, and both studios object. . . . Xavier Cugat has a hat shop in Mexico City. It's known as "Casa d'Alvarez," and I'll be darned if he hasn't sent me a share. Writes he: "Hats, Hopper, and shares go together." Cugat returns to Mexico City when "Week-end at the Waldorf" is finished, and that's months away. . . . The Lt. Herb Steins are expecting a junior. . . . Lillian Hellman plans a book, six magazine articles, and a play while in Russia. That won't give her much time to get chummy with Stalin, will it? . . . Georgia Gibbs describes hors d'oeuvres as "a ham sandwich cut into 50 pieces." Lowell Sherman used to say, "Pass me that plate of mosaics, so I can fit them into the right place." . . . At preview of "The Very Thought of You" Dane Clark walked off with the applause. Dennis Morgan and Eleanor Parker play the leads. This is another hit for Producer Jerry Wald. . . . Brian Donlevy is back from the east, where he did personal appearances with "An American Romance." Paramount needed him for "Duffy's Tavern." . . . Last December, while in the army, Bruce Cabot got into a poker game with a major in Cairo, who lost. Yesterday Bruce, who's now here working in "Salty O'Rourke," got a letter from the guy, inclosing a ten pound note of Egyptian money [worth about $40], which had followed him here by way of India, Sicily, Italy, back to Egypt, and finally to Hollywood.

8th Lutheran Group Takes Unity Action

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 13.—The United Lutheran church of America today became the eighth national Lutheran group in North America to ratify the new constitution of the American Lutheran council. Presented by the Rev. Dr. Armin G. Weng, Chicago, president of the Illinois synod, the new constitution in a large measure unifies functions of approximately two-thirds of all Lutherans in this country.

Dr. Ralph H. Long, New York, executive director of the council, a clergyman of the American Lutheran church, told the delegates to the United Lutheran convention, in session here, that yesterday, in Sandusky, O., his church was the seventh to adopt the new constitution.

Dr. Weng expressed enthusiasm for the new setup which he said meant a joining of forces of three million adult Lutherans out of the four and one-half millions in the United States.

Lutherans in this country usually have been bracketed in three groups: The United Lutheran church, with a history reaching into colonial days; the American Lutheran conference, composed of seven national bodies, and the Synodical conference, led by the Missouri synod. However, today's action in effects reduced the divisions to two by uniting functional activities of seven groups of the American conference with those of the United Lutheran church. Thus the two divisions now are the synodical conference and the national Lutheran council, altho the American conference with its limited functions will be continued.

Three new divisions of council work were set up by today's action —American missions, welfare, and public relations. Three more are projected. These are world missions, parish education, and higher education.

This convention is informally dedicated to the centenary of the beginning of the ministry of the Rev. Alfred Passavant, founder of the noted hospital in Chicago which bears his name. He also was founder of hospitals in Milwaukee and Jacksonville and was instrumental in the founding of the Chicago Lutheran seminary, Maywood, which is widely credited with the establishment of English Lutheranism in the central west.

Try to Check Movies Before Sending Child

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Do you let your child go to the movies just to get him out from under foot, no matter what the picture may be at the local theater? I hope not, for your child's sake.

Are you like the mother who said to her neighbor one day this past summer, "Janie [aged 9] was bored and didn't know what to do with herself, so I told her to call up one of her little friends and ask her to go to the movies. I gave her money for their admissions and for some candy or an ice cream cone after the show, and that takes care of that problem. Now I'm all set for the afternoon."

"What's playing at the theater?" asked the neighbor.

"I really don't know the name of the picture, but I guess it won't do any harm for them to see it whatever it happens to be," was the reply.

"Well, I suppose it would be a lot easier if I felt that way," persisted the neighbor, "but I always like to see a picture first before I let the children see it. Sometimes there is too much love making or there are torture scenes, and so forth, and then I decide against their going, and they're quite content to wait until a picture more suitable comes along."

A wise and thoughtful mother does just that. While children, unsophisticated, natural children, may not understand all they see in an adult film, it makes some sort of an impression on them and sometimes a disturbing one, altho they may never mention it.

Are you careful what movies you take your children to or let them see on their own? Do you let them see certain sorts of things on the screen you wouldn't think of letting them witness in real life? Do you ever try to look at pictures thru their eyes?

Moving pictures may show scenes of hatred, jealousy, murder, suicide, theft, quarrels between husband and wife, vamping scenes, love scenes, cruelty, sickness, death, treachery, debauchery, avarice, all as a perfectly legitimate part of the story. But are these scenes and emotions we want to spread out indiscriminately for the mental and spiritual, as well as the visual appetite of our children?

There are many pictures the younger children can be taken to, and not necessarily "educational" ones either. There often are fine historical pictures and many excellent "Westerns" for the older children with, at worst, a few good rousing fights in them; there are a number of comedies which are as funny as they can be and hurt no one, and there are many stories and books for children which have been picturized which are thoroly enjoyed by them, and, I might add, by grownups, as well.

Kitchen Pointers
—By Mary Meade—

"If fruits are canned without sugar by the open kettle method, will they keep?"

In order to insure complete preservation, fruits canned without sugar should be processed in the boiling water bath rather than in the open kettle. Cook the prepared fruit in boiling water for about 5 minutes. Pack hot into hot jars, fill with cooking water, leaving ½ inch head space. Seal partly or completely depending on the type of seal and process in the boiling water bath: 10 minutes for applesauce, 15 minutes for apple sections, 20 minutes for pears, 15 minutes for plums. Fruits canned without sugar do not hold their color and flavor as well as when canned with it.

"Can brown sugar, honey, or corn sirup be used in canning fruit?"

Brown sugar affects fruit flavor and often causes spoilage. Honey or corn sirup may be used to replace part of the white sugar if you don't object to the flavor change or darkened color of the fruit. Use honey to replace as much as half the sugar called for, or use corn sirup to replace as much as one-third. Don't use saccharin, as it tends to give fruit a bitter flavor.

"Can jelly be made successfully from sweet Italian prune plums?"

These sweet plums do not contain enough pectin or acid to jell well. Lemon juice and bottled commercial pectin should be used with the sweet plum juice or a fruit juice containing natural pectin and acid, such as tart apple juice. Tart plums, such as the Damson variety, make good jelly.

"What is the best way to form parkerhouse rolls? They never seem to 'stay put' when folded over."

A good way to form these is to roll out the yeast dough to a thickness of ¼ inch and then to cut with a two inch biscuit cutter. Make crease with dull edge of knife about two-thirds of the width across and spread this larger section with melted fat. Fold over and press edges together gently with fingertips.

Giddy Gloves Prove Popular with Young Set

BY REA SEEGER.

Some new fabric gloves, made with colored thumbs, really should be called hitch-hikers. Others might be named gardener's delights, since they are black with giddy green thumbs and seem to prove the point that the war gardener has the proverbial green thumb for plants and flowers. From the viewpoint of fashion these gay new arrivals are smart and colorful, slick offsets for otherwise drab shades in suits or coats. They'll also make good football costume accessories and are just as smart with other spectator sports clothes.

Four bright, clear colors are featured, Kelly green and scarlet thumbs in black gloves, beige thumbs in dark brown, and purple with black or brown. Amazing as they sound, you'll be surprised what a lift they give a simple suit or coat. The career girls are most enthusiastic about the possibilities, and the school crowd rate them equally with the gay mittens and outrageously huge, fluffy mittens in bright colors. These gloves prove as much conversation starters as did the charm bracelets of a while back. Added to the amusing thumbs is the fine smooth fabric, the excellent fit and details, all for a very modest sum of money.

If these breezy little shorts are not what you need for a whiff of color, the fall collections of strong shades of fabric gloves are brilliant. Orange, chartreuse, gold, russet, copper, several shades of beige, burgundy, claret, and dead leaf browns are plentiful. They're all lusty fall shades, ready for accent duty with town or country tweeds or with smart woolens in vivid colors as well as with deep dark shades for dress parade occasions.

Library Group Plans Freedom of Press Week

Recent abridgment of freedom of the press was condemned yesterday by Carl Vitz, president of the American Library association, when he announced a national Freedom of the Press week to be observed by public, college, and school libraries from Nov. 19 to Nov. 25. The announcement was made during a meeting of the association council now in session at the Drake hotel.

"Freedom of the Press week affords libraries the opportunity of taking a stand on the absolute right of the individual to read anything of public value and interest, whatever racial, political, and religious issues may be involved, so long as national security is not endangered," Mr. Vitz declared.

There is need to remember that even in America the right of freedom of the press is subject to attack, and must be defended by public opinion, he added.

"The right of freedom of the press has been infringed frequently in the last few months," Charles Compton, librarian of the St. Louis public library, declared. "Several libraries have reported pressure from community groups to remove certain books or periodicals from circulation. The soldier vote act seriously restricted the reading material available for the armed forces before it was amended."

Mr. Compton revealed that the association is planning a post-war adult education program designed to reach every resident of towns and rural areas in the United States.

He said the post-war adjustment in family life, the reconversion of war workers to peace time jobs, and the return of demobilized fighters can be aided by the proper use of library resources. He urged that libraries work thru civic, church, labor, farm, and other groups that can place books with a number of people.

Books and magazines must be supplemented by pictures, phonograph records, and sound films to bring the program to mature readers with limited education, Mr. Compton said, as the uneducated group often has been

BENTON OFFERS MUSIC-RADIO JOB TO FCC BOSS FLY

Reveals Bowles of OPA Will Join Enterprise.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

In the wake of the disclosure that William Benton, vice president of the University of Chicago and chairman of the board of Encyclopaedia Britannica, was asking for three frequency modulation [FM] channels for a proposed advertising-free, audience financed radio service, Benton admitted yesterday that he is seeking the services of James Lawrence Fly, chairman of the federal communications commission, to assume an executive post with the Benton music-radio enterprises.

William Benton.

In an exclusive interview Benton told THE TRIBUNE that, while he assumed that Fly would "resign from the communications commission sometime," he did not know if or when Fly would give up his post.

"If he does leave," said Benton, "I have offered him a position."

A Problem to White House.

Fly has been under fire recently by a house committee investigating the FCC. He has been accused of putting pressure on Ralph A. Horton of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to sell station WFTL at Fort Lauderdale at a low price to Fly's friend and golfing companion, Lt. Comdr. George B. Storer, owner of seven radio stations. Radio trade publications have been printing reports that the White House would be glad to get rid of Fly except that his resignation on the eve of the election would be interpreted as a concession which the administration does not desire to make.

The FM licenses are sought by Muzak corporation, headed by Benton, which provides music over telephone lines for restaurants, other public places, and a few private homes in 15 cities [not including Chicago]. Benton owns all the common stock of this corporation. Joseph L. Weiner of New York, formerly an executive of the war production board, said that Price Administrator Chester Bowles would be associated in the venture. Benton confirmed this.

Petrillo Bars System Here.

Muzak as now operated provides 24 hours a day of classical and semi-classical music at a monthly charge said to range from $100 to $150 to each client. The music is provided by a transcription concern which Benton also controls. The Muzak service has not been made available to Chicago, it was learned because of objections by James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians.

On one of the FM channels Benton is seeking, he would put chamber music without any comment; on the second he would put dance music with some talk, identifying orchestra and singer, and on the third he would put what he calls "Service News," a "woman's newspaper and magazine."

Benton said that he hoped to be able to make this type of radio service available to subscribers for 5 cents a day or $1.50 a month without accepting any advertising. Muzak has developed a scrambling device which would prevent non-subscribers from hearing the programs of the three channels.

CLAIMS FAKE BAILIFF TOOK $45 ON ALIMONY DEBT AT POINT OF GUN

Charles Price, 28, an electrician, who was in Circuit court yesterday to explain why he owed $100 to his former wife, Lola, 23, of 3946 Lake Park av., for the support of their son, told Judge Michael Feinberg he thought the debt was only $55.

Mrs. Lola Price.

"A man who said he was your bailiff came to my house last week and said I had to pay him something on the alimony," Price said. "He showed a gun, and I gave him $45."

Judge Feinberg said the man was not his bailiff, and he ordered the sheriff to investigate Price's charge. Attorneys Joseph H. and Norman Becker, representing Mrs. Price, argued the $45 loss was Price's misfortune. He was ordered to pay $2 a week to make up the $100 arrearage, in addition to the regular $5 payments.

PURGED BY REDS, 6 CIO UNION MEN SEEK JOB RIGHTS

Plan Convention Plea Against Expulsion.

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 13.—Six members of local 101 of the United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers' union [CIO], who are employed at the Chicago tractor works of the International Harvester company but who have been expelled from the union for fighting the Communists within the group, will plead for the "right to work at our present jobs" before the union's three day convention that opens here tomorrow morning.

The six were found not guilty as "disrupters" of union peace in their first trial before a local committee, but later were found guilty by another committee appointed by the international executive board.

If the six are found guilty by the convention a demand previously made on the Harvester company that they be discharged because they are no longer union members in good standing will have to be granted, it is believed.

Follow Contract Procedure.

Under the union maintenance clause in the contract with the company, the company said that the "future of the six would be determined according to the procedure of the contract" and that they would not be dismissed until a final adjudication could be had. Company officials explained that part of this adjudication included "a decision by the convention."

The union board is dominated by two well known Communists, Grant Oakes, international president, who will preside during the convention, and Joseph Weber, international organizer, whose true name is Josip Ruic, but who also has used the aliases of Hudson, Judson, Ross, Ray, Ruick, and Weber.

Oakes and Weber have long records involving communist activities. Both are lauded regularly in the Communist party organ, the Daily Worker. Weber is a graduate of the 1929 class of the Moscow Lenin school, where he majored in strike strategy and revolutionary tactics.

Oppose Six Appellants.

These two reportedly are doing all in their power to assure that the convention will support the international committee's findings of "guilty" against the six anti-Communists.

Following the expulsion of the six, a storm of protest against the action arose from other CIO unions.

The six are Thomas Dublinski, former local 101 president; William Godek, former financial secretary; Robert Walsh, local 101 educational director; Frank Skorepa, John Korkas, and John Vysthers.

JUDGE REVERSES HIMSELF; WELLS DIVORCE STANDS

Judge John C. Lewe in Superior court, who granted a divorce in August, 1943, to Mrs. Lele Daly Wells, New York copper heiress, and later set the decree aside on the ground of fraud, issued a new ruling yesterday allowing the decree to stand.

The order vacating the decree was reversed last May by the Appellate court on a technicality, and Joseph P. Burke, an assistant state's attorney, went to New York last month to take a deposition from Mrs. Wells for the purpose of reopening the case.

Judge Lewe announced yesterday that the facts in the deposition were convincing and supported Mrs. Wells' original allegations. In her suit Mrs. Wells charged Roe E. Wells, her fourth husband, had committeed acts of cruelty in an apartment at 211 E. Delaware pl. The decree was vacated when evidence was presented indicating she had not occupied the apartment. Mrs. Wells told Burke in her deposition she moved to a hotel after Wells followed her to the apartment.

FIRE WILL BLAZE AS FOOLS PLAY, SAFETY AID SAYS

People still do foolish and dangerous things, and fire prevention efforts must largely be directed toward them, Richard E. Vernor, president of the National Fire Protection association and the Greater Chicago Safety council, said yesterday. He spoke at a fire prevention week luncheon in the La Salle hotel, sponsored by the council, the Chicago Association of Commerce, and the Chicago Board of Underwriters.

"As long as people sit close to open fires, play with matches, smoke in bed, use inflammable cleaning materials, and throw oil on hot coals, we always will have fires," Vernor said. "There are fires in 1,000 American homes every 24 hours," he declared. "Fire losses during the 12 months immediately preceding Aug. 31, 1944 are estimated at 412 million dollars." Lt. Andrew Cafferata of the Chicago fire department was awarded a scroll for rescuing three small children from a fire.

CASH AND WHISKY STOLEN.

Burglars who entered the Russian-Polish Importing company and Meadow Brook Farm Produce company offices at 220 N. Aberdeen st., took $838, a number of checks, a radio, a clock, and two cases of whisky, police were notified yesterday.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 13.—The University of Michigan football team, in its first appearance in Ann Arbor since its surprising loss to Indiana two weeks ago, hopes to show the home folks tomorrow that the defeat by the Hoosiers was all a mistake. The Wolverines, who began their comeback role by beating Minnesota last week, expect to extend their winning streak by defeating Northwestern tomorrow in the 19th game of a series which finds the Maize and Blue holding a margin of 11 victories against six for the Wildcats. One was a scoreless tie.

The Michigan team, coached by H. O. [Fritz] Crisler, is expected to pack too much all around speed and finesse for the Wildcats. Paced by Bob Wiese, full back, who made three of his team's four touchdowns last week, and boasting an effective forward passer in Bill Culligan, junior left half, the Wolverines possess a dangerous attack.

Must Watch Passes, Too.

In addition Crisler can call upon Bob Nussbaumer, veteran half back from Oak Park, Ill., whose speed and elusiveness are employed as foils for Wiese's straight ahead plunging tactics. While Michigan attempted only two forward passes against Minnesota, the aerial combination of Culligan to Dick Rifenburg, freshman end, already has proved itself by clicking for three of Michigan's first four touchdowns this season.

Northwestern will pin most of its hopes on a rugged line which has exhibited fine defensive work this season. The Purple forwards, who average 195 pounds per man, will have a slight weight advantage over the Wolverine linemen, who average 191 pounds. Keymen in the Wildcat line are such veterans as Capt. Ray Justak, guard; John Kroeger, tackle, and Duane Sickels, end.

Conners Replaces Savage.

On attack the Wildcats will depend largely on Johnny Yungwirth, chunky freshman half back, who is the nearest approach to a triple threat performer in the Purple ranks.

Coach Lynn Waldorf was forced to make some last minute changes in his plans when Larry Savage, regular right half, suffered a knee injury in practice Thursday that will prevent him from playing. He will be replaced by Dick Connors, a V-12 freshman who starred at Mount Carmel High school last year.

ROBINSON STOPS JANNAZZO IN SECOND ROUND

Boston, Mass., Oct. 13 (AP).—Ray Robinson, New York welterweight, resumed his professional boxing career tonight by registering a two round technical knockout over Izzy Jannazzo of Brooklyn, one of his favorite victims, in a scheduled 10 round feature bout in the Boston Garden.

While gaining his third straight victory over Jannazzo, Robinson started slowly against his ring-wise opponent and barely gained the first round with a terrific closing rally of lefts and rights to the head and body.

As soon as the second session opened, Robinson, who fought Izzy in Philadelphia and Cleveland in 1942, directed all of his fire against his opponent's head.

His first two-fisted barrage dropped the Brooklynite for a five count. The latter was groggy when he arose and Robinson inflicted so much damage that Referee Tommy Rawson Jr. intervened half way thru that session.

Two Letters.

Two soldiers answering mail call
In a far-away foreign land.
Both turn away with a happy smile,
Each with a letter in hand;
A letter from home each opens in haste,
Every item to gladly devour;
One's face becomes brighter and brighter,
The other's more downcast and dour.
The letter which keeps one boy smiling
Is from folks who tell only of good,
The happy things with pleasant rings,
Just the things that all home folks should.
The frowning boy's letter is cheerless,
Petty worries in detailed array,
Illness and strife, a discordant home life,
Till the light all goes out of his day.
O, you who write letters to service men,
Won't you please keep this thought in mind:
Submerge yourselves and your picayune cares
And rise above things of that kind.
Just one little speck of distressing news
To one helpless and so far away
Can sadden no end, so these items don't send—
Can't WE be as brave as THEY?

MISSOURI TO TEST GOPHERS' AERIAL ATTACK

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 13 (AP).—Lt. Col. Bernie Bierman, on leave from his head coaching duties at Minnesota and recently placed on the inactive list by the marines, will be on the Gopher's coaching bench tomorrow for Minnesota's nonconference game with Missouri.

In addition to the appearance of Bierman, Minnesota fans are looking forward to an accelerated aerial attack against Missouri after the Gophers tried forward passing only occasionally in early season games.

Bill Aldworth, reserve tackle who has stepped up to a starting position in place of Rube Juster, will captain the Gophers. The only other change in the Minnesota lineup finds Matt Sutton replacing the injured Tom Cates at full back.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 13.—Friday the 13th brought 25 members of Notre Dame's football squad to this city and any ill-luck inherent in the date probably is reserved for Dartmouth's Indians, who will oppose the undefeated Irish tomorrow afternoon in Fenway park. A capacity crowd of 40,000 will watch Notre Dame's bid for a third consecutive triumph in defense of its national collegiate football championship.

The first contingent of players, headed by Coach Ed McKeever, arrived at 11:30 a. m., an hour late, which immediately suggested a possible delay in arrival of the 10 navy trainees tomorrow morning. In this group are six varsity players including Bob Kelly, the young Chicagoan who keys the Irish attack.

May Go Direct to Park.

While the Irish of Boston, awaiting Notre Dame's first appearance in the Hub city, are keen to see Kelly [and his mates], there is no prospect that the kick-off scheduled for 2:30, eastern war time, will be delayed. Moreover, as Adam Walsh, assistant coach, in charge of the navy men, may take his charges direct to Fenway park, so it is unlikely they will miss the kick-off, even if they are late.

McKeever and his assistants, Clem Crowe, Hugh Devore, and Clarence [Jake] Kline, supervised this afternoon's pre-game drill at 2:30. The squad is quartered in the Kenmore hotel within walking distance of the site of the game. For an hour, for benefit of Boston photographers, the Notre Dame boys went thru signal drills, unlimbered train tired muscles by sprints downfield under punts, and engaged in a forward passing exhibition.

Field Is in Good Condition.

Today's overcast skies and damp chill with a touch of Atlantic fog may hold for the game. There is no prediction, however, of rain and Fenway's turf is in shape for the air attack on which the Irish depended to upset the defensive plans of Pittsburgh and Tulane.

McKeever announced only one change in the starting lineup as Notre Dame plays its third consecutive intersectional engagement. Capt. Pat Filley, the only man in Notre Dame history to lead two football teams, will start at left guard.

Big Green Works Out.

Dartmouth's squad, in charge of Earl Brown, former Irish football and basketball star arrived at noon today. Dartmouth also visited Fenway park for a final workout an hour after the Irish had quit the field.

Dartmouth's lineup as announced yesterday, remained unchanged. There is some doubt as to the choice for guards since Carl McKinnon and Art Young are as highly regarded as Ted Youngling and Nick Fusilli, who have been picked for the kick-off.

Notre Dame is a prohibitive favorite because of the Irish passing attack by Frank Dancewicz and Joe Gasparella and Kelly's running. Moreover, the Indians only were able to tie Holy Cross and were beaten last week by Pennsylvania.

Drake Eleven Triumphs Over Washburn, 26 to 6

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 13 (AP).—Drake university's Bulldogs swarmed over Washburn Municipal university for three quarters to score a 26 to 6 football victory before a homecoming crowd in Moore bowl tonight. Washburn showed a slight spark of life in the last quarters when it powered over a touchdown from the 1 foot line.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 13.—Illinois and Iowa are to fight it out here tomorrow with spirits high and bodies strong—just as tho neither had run into a buzzsaw last Saturday. A crowd of more than 15,000 is expected to see the contest and the weather outlook is great.

Illinois is posted as the overnight favorite but maybe that is because the pickers haven't seen the Iowa squad, which will linger in Chicago tonight, arriving here about noon tomorrow. Last week's form sheets don't help a great deal, or do they? Purdue beat Illinois, 35 to 19, and Ohio State vanquished the young men of Iowa, 34 to 0.

Illini Expect to Hold Ball.

Those 19 points the Illini made may be the key to the edge they hold in the prognostications for tomorrow. In any event, the teams are expected to attend strictly to the business at hand tomorrow—and with weather conditions favorable the Illinois lads are expected to hold on to the ball when it is passed to them—something they did not do so well last week against the Boilermakers.

Illinois will place its offensive chips on the sprinting of Claude [Buddy] Young and the all around work of Paul Patterson. The Negro duo represents just about the best ground gaining combination in the country, as substantiated by the fact that Illinois leads the nation with an average of 8.2 yards per try.

Injury Keeps Bray Out.

With Eddie Bray inactive because of a damaged knee, Young likely will go most of the game at left half tomorrow. The former Chicago Phillips High school star is just about the fastest thing on two feet in the nation and has teamed perfectly with Patterson, formerly of Aurora, in giving Illinois the most feared two man offensive in the Big Nine conference.

Whatever Iowa does toward upsetting Illinois tomorrow undoubtedly will develop thru the effort of Dick Woodard, the triple threat freshman from Fort Dodge. As a prep last year, Woodard counted 16 touchdowns and passed for nine others. Iowa's lack of a formidable line, however, makes it tough for Woodard or any other Hawkeye back, to count on much yardage this season.

The occasion is being celebrated as Dad's day, also "I" men's day.

Illinois Duck Hunters Open Season Today

BY BEN MARKLAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 13.—The location of shooting blinds is expected to be an important factor in the duck hunting success of the 5,000 shooters who are ready to open the annual waterfowl hunting season tomorrow morning in the Illinois river valley.

The birds are here in great quantity, and along the entire length of the river, but the question in the minds of hunters who will be in their blinds ready to start firing at 6:33 a. m. [half an hour before sunrise] deals with the location of their blinds in relation to the main concentration of ducks.

Frank Bellrose Jr., game technician of the Illinois Natural History Survey, checked the river again today and estimates that there are 125,000 to 150,000 ducks in the valley.

Twice as Many Birds.

This is more than twice as many birds as were here on opening day last year, but the quality of the natural duck foods in four locations has concentrated the birds in these areas and left vast stretches of the valley with fewer than one duck to each acre of water.

Bellrose says the four major concentrations are on Goose pond near Putnam, where there are 4,000 pintails and a thousand mallards; two marshes near Chillicothe containing 6,000 widgeons, 3,000 pintails, and 1,000 mallards; Clear lake, north of Havana, where 70,000 pintails, mallards, and widgeon are concentrated, and a lake near Bath, which has a population of 6,000 pintails and 4,000 mallards.

Teal Leave Rice Lake.

The recent departure of over 1,000 blue winged teal and several hundred pintails from Rice lake dampens the prospects for a favorable shoot for the 40 hunters who will be the first Illinois residents to experience the benefits of "private club shooting" on a state owned public shooting ground. The area, near Banner, was bought by the state department of conservation with funds contributed by sportsmen thru payment of ammunition taxes and hunting license fees.

Wilberforce Loses, 19-14, to Tuskegee

A fourth quarter rally which netted 13 points enabled the Tuskegee Institute Tigers to defeat the Wilberforce [Ohio] university Green Wave, 19 to 14, in their annual football game witnessed by a crowd of 20,000 in Comiskey park last night. A 40 yard run by Tom Hornsburger, full back from Carbondale, Ill., accounted for Tuskegee's final touchdown, with less than five minutes of playing time remaining.

A 23 yard touchdown pass from Fred Hall, Wilberforce left half back, to Ollie Milner, right half, and Hall's subsequent placement for the extra point, sent Wilberforce into a 7 to 0 lead in the first quarter. Alva Tabor, quarter back and captain whose passes sparked the Tuskegee attack, hurled an aerial to Herbert Crawford, left half, for 38 yards and a touchdown in the second quarter, but Tabor's place kick for the extra point was wide.

A 34 yard end run by Karl Baylor, a substitute for Hall, and Hall's successful kick for the extra point, built Wilberforce's lead up to 14 to 6 in the third quarter, but a Tabor to Charley Perry pass put the ball on the Green Wave's 11 yard line early in the fourth period, and a Tabor to Charley Williams pass put it over.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 13.—Purdue's Boilermakers, co-champions of the Western conference with Michigan, an aggregation of civilian, navy, and marine athletes which last week opened its Big Nine campaign with a spectacular 35 to 19 triumph over Illinois, swings back into nonleague action tomorrow against the powerful Iowa Seahawks in a Dad's day game in Ross-Ade stadium. A crowd of 18,000 is expected.

Both elevens, the Cecil Isbell coached collegians and the Pre-Flight cadets, directed by Lt. Comdr. Jack Meagher, former Auburn coach and a Notre Dame alumnus, apparently have reached a playing peak that portends an encounter which could go either way. In fact, the result could hinge upon the success of the lads who draw the assignments for the points after touchdowns, for there will be plenty of scoring—by air and on the ground.

Each Team Beaten Once.

The Seahawks have scored 83 points in four games, the Boilermakers 77 in three. Each lost its first game, the Seahawks bowing, 12 to 7, to Michigan, and Purdue yielding to the Great Lakes Bluejackets, 27 to 18. Since then the cadets have whipped Minnesota, 19 to 13; Olathe naval air station, 45 to 12, and last week stopped the Superbombers of the Second Air Force, led by the great Glen Dobbs, 12 to 6. The Superbombers, composed of athletes from 40 stations in 14 states, had not been beaten in three years.

Purdue came back after its defeat by the sailors to beat Marquette, 24 to 7, and then drubbed the fighting Illini at Champaign. In Purdue's favor tomorrow is the presence of Stan Dubicki, the South Bend graduate who has kicked eight points after touchdown this season, five out of five last Saturday. There may be the Boilermakers' edge, for the cadets are woefully weak in this important department.

Purdue Lineup Unchanged.

Isbell, in his first season as head coach at Purdue after five years of spectacular work in the Green Bay Packers' back field, intends to stand

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 13. — Ohio State is going to roll out on Camp Randall field tomorrow and not only try to prove that experience means something but that it hasn't forgotten, or forgiven, the shock suffered when it tarried here for 60 minutes of football combat two autumns ago. Wisconsin, the host of the morrow, slapped Ohio down unexpectedly but spectacularly by 17 to 7 on that occasion and it remains in the Buckeye book as a day to be avenged.

As on that afternoon two years ago, there is no preliminary jubilation over what the Badgers are going to do to fix up another memorable incident for the Ohioans. Both are unbeaten to date, but Coach Harry Stuhldreher's boys don't know whether they are good or whether their opposition in two games [Northwestern and Marquette] was weak. Admirers of the Buckeyes, who camped near-by tonight, have forwarded warning of the Ohioans' prowess and details of the multitudinous yards they have gained in their two victories over Missouri and Iowa. However, the Badgers hope to collect on points, not yards, before 35,000 homecomers.

They'll Watch Girard.

Two years ago, when the Buckeyes got their pants snagged on the Camp Randall field posts, they said it was because they were adversely affected by the local drinking water, which never has seemed to upset the Badgers. At any rate, the Buckeyes brought along their own water this time. And against the water charge the local folks prefer to believe that what ruined the Scarlet and Gray boys was a few youths such as Pat Harder and Elroy Hirsch. They've gone to war, but Wisconsin feels it has dug up a pretty good understudy. He's Earl Girard, the 17 year old freshman back from Marinette.

So far Girard, called Jug, has had real fun with his collegiate football efforts. Among a lot of things he kicked the point that beat Northwestern 7 to 6. Against Marquette a week ago, when the Badgers won 21 to 2, he was everywhere at once, either with passes, sprints, punts, or conversion placements. Naturally enough the Buckeyes plan to give him more than a little attention, a state of affairs that might provide another Badger back, Jerry Thompson, a chance to sneak in with some hefty gallops.

Buckeyes Have Veteran Line.

The Ohioans' admission that they are going to be unruly not alone tomorrow, but right up to the end of the season, isn't based exactly on fiction. They have a veteran as well as talented line and along with it a covey of fleet freshman backs working with the veteran Les Horvath.

From both camps this evening came lamentations over the physical state of some of the lads. The Badgers claim three cripples, one of them Allen Shafer, quarter back. Ohio has a couple of invalids but there is no shortage of replacements.

BY HARRY WARREN.

Great Lakes' Bluejackets and Western Michigan's Broncos of Kalamazoo, both employing variations of the T formation, will meet on Ross field at the naval center before 25,000 sailors who will be privileged to witness the only major football game in the Chicago area today.

Coach John W. Gill of Western Michigan sent his squad thru a light drill in Kalamazoo yesterday afternoon before entraining for Chicago. After the workout, Coach Gill announced that two regulars will be missing from today's game. They are Tackle Charles Kalbfleisch, who will be replaced by Bill Paniccia, and Center Bernard Sagan, who will give way to Neil Zundel. Kalbfleisch made the trip, however, and may see limited service.

Chicagoans Will Start.

Coming up to today's game, Western Michigan boasts a record of three victories and two defeats. The Bronco eleven is made up almost exclusively of naval and marine trainees. Dick Leahy, left guard, is one of three Chicago boys in the starting lineup. The others are Clifford Keddie, and end from Morgan Park High school, and Joe Wagner, right guard, from Lane Tech.

Jim Mello, full back with last year's Notre Dame eleven, is not scheduled to start today, but he is expected to drift in and out of the lineup all afternoon, particularly if the visitors become too offensive minded. Mello, altho picking up only 31 yards in 10 tries against Northwestern last Saturday, still leads the Bluejackets in total yardage gained. Mello's total in four games is 229 yards in 47 tries, representing a 4.9 average.

High Scoring Team.

Great Lakes, in winning over Fort Sheridan, Purdue and Northwestern and being tied by Illinois, has rolled up one of the greatest point totals in the middle west—boasting 140 points against the opposition's 44.

16 Named to Run Today in $10,000 Race

The last stake race of the turf meeting at Hawthorne is to be run today, the event being the $10,000 Illinois Owners handicap, a mile and a sixteenth race which attracted a bulky field of 16.

Limited to horses which are owned by bona fide residents of the state, the race nonetheless will bring a representative field postward. The leading candidate apparently is Mrs. Robert McGarvey's Night Shadow, a 4 year old filly which won the 1943 renewal of this event last year and recently added the Autumn handicap at Hawthorne to her list of triumphs.

Night Shadow Top Weighted.

Night Shadow will be ridden this afternoon by Paul Glidewell and will carry top weight of 119 pounds. Listed also as a probable contender is Bright Willie, a 5 year old owned by Mrs. A. M. Creech and Mrs. R. McIlvain, but he generally does not attempt any but the shorter routes.

Announcement was made yesterday at Hawthorne that the Columbus day charity program netted $77,780.64. The amount will be divided equally among the Community and War Fund, Inc., the Illinois Veteran's Services, Inc., and the Chicago Service Men's center. Each organization will receive $25,926.88.

$386.20 Daily Double.

A $386.20 daily double resulted yesterday when Charlie's Pick and Hy-Trife accounted for the first and second races respectively. Charlie's Pick took the first race by coming from behind in the stretch run to beat Robin's Pet, the favorite, and returned $38.60, $10.20, and $7. Hy-Trite also came from behind the early pace to lead Reaping Gold and Hogan across the line of finish.

Hills Palm, favorite which returned only $5.20 for $2, scored by a neck over Hada Moon in the Twin Lakes purse, sixth race on the program. Fancy Free was third.

SHEELY GAINS DECISION OVER WILLIE MOORE

Stanley Sheely, Savoy Athletic club middleweight, dealt Willie Moore his second defeat in 55 starts by winning a split decision in a five round amateur bout in the Madison A. C. last night. Jackie Boyd, 1944 city Golden Gloves flyweight champion, lost to Tilford Ward on a technical knockout when he was unable to come out for the third round because of a cut eye. Other results:

Stanley Bochanek beat Dave Boyd [3], 126; Lloyd Watts beat Roy Love [3], 135; James Ward beat Harold Box [3], 120; Louis Cedoni knocked out Eldred Mitchell [2], 126; Frank Chiero beat Leroy Mills [3], 112; Deur Jordan beat Ted Spicer [3], 160.

Senn Defeats Taft, 25 to 20; Austin Wins

Austin defeated Harrison, 6 to 2, in Key Branch stadium yesterday to move into first place in the west section of the City league race. Taft lost its first north section game in three starts to Senn, 25 to 20, in Winnemac park.

Austin scored on Harrison in the first period. Harrison's safety came in the third quarter when Joe Savone blocked an Austin punt and the ball rolled into the end zone.

Senn's Late Rally Wins.

In the Senn-Taft game, Senn's winning touchdown came in the last few moments of play when Kurt Teichert plunged over from the 3 yard line. Cliff Kero scored twice for Taft and Ted Kemp ran 11 yards and 55 yards for two Senn touchdowns.

Gage Park defeated Du Sable, 20 to 6, in a central section contest. Parker defeated South Shore, 13 to 6, in Shewbridge field, in a south section game.

Bowen defeated Harper, 12 to 0, in another south section game.

Fenger of the south section and Phillips of the central section, two of the city's strongest teams, will play in today's 11 game schedule. Fenger meets Hyde Park in Pullman Tech field and Phillips opposes Lindblom in Yates Avenue stadium.

Lake View at Lane.

Lane Tech, rated one of the best in the north section, meets Lake View in Lane Tech stadium. Tilden of the central section with only a tie to mar its record, meets Kelly in Shewbridge field.

In other games, Schurz will meet Roosevelt in Winnemac Park; Kelvyn Park opposes Tuley in Hanson park; Marshall plays Steinmetz also in Hanson park, and Crane engages Foreman in Key Branch stadium in the north section.

Englewood and Farragut play a central section encounter in Shewbridge field, which also will be the site of two night south division games. In these, Calumet will meet Hirsch, followed by Morgan Park against Chicago Vocational.

CHICAGO STORE STOCKS SHRINK 11 PCT. IN YEAR

Dollar Value Rises Thruout Nation.

The dollar value of inventories of a representative group of Chicago department stores dropped 11 per cent in the 12 months ended July 31 despite an increase for the country as a whole, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday in a review of business conditions in the 7th federal district embracing all of Iowa and major parts of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin. The Chicago decline carried the total for the district down 5 per cent.

The review did not specify what the national increase was, but said the value of stocks in reporting department stores was higher than at the beginning of the defense program and "running ahead of last year."

Altho no attempt was made to reconcile the opposing Chicago and national trends, the bank said substitute or "war" goods were "warily stocked by department store merchants."

Warns Buying Will Change.

"Even tho the public now buys items which would warrant pre-war scorn, such as paper garbage cans, makeshift household appliances, and victory undergarments, they are not likely to do so in the post-war period," the review asserted.

"Many a merchant has been reluctant to stock such items because he knows they will become 'dead' items when the standard merchandise is again available. Merchants must have something to sell, but are hopeful that their stock of such goods will be thin when conversion comes."

Stock assortments have become unbalanced because of shortages. Whereas stocks formerly included "hard" lines like refrigerators and major household appliances, the review explained, they now consist mostly of wearing apparel, other "soft goods," and small wares.

"When sources of supplies of most durable goods were closed, department stores saw they no longer could sustain the importance of home furnishings, household appliances, and similar sections," the review said.

Add Nondurable Goods.

"Consequently, to maintain sales of goods that were available, it was necessary to counterbalance thin stocks in those departments by adding to the weight of nondurable goods. Thus, apparel, small wares, and similar kinds of goods now constitute a large portion of total department store inventories."

The review said the post-war outlook for 7th district stores was promising because they had "materially increased their financial liquidity during the war period," and would be able to replace depleted stocks of goods and victory products as soon as such replacements were available.

It also said higher taxes have made it advisable for management to carry a higher percentage of its funds in marketable securities.

BRITISH REPORT CARTEL IS NOT TO BE REVIVED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The colonial office is reported to have sounded the death knell of the tin cartel as it existed before the war. It is said to have notified heads of the tin mining industry that the cartel will not be revived in its old form.

Before the war the cartel was administered by the international tin committee which fixed quotas for each producing country and thus determined the supplies for world markets. The colonial office reportedly defined its attitude because some high cost producers, such as those in Bolivia and Nigeria, were talking of a need for international control of prices and output when Malaya resumes production.

Gifts for Yanks Boost Department Store Sales

Sales of Chicago department stores in the week ended Oct. 7 rose 20 per cent over a year ago and reflected Christmas gift buying for shipment overseas, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Volume in the entire 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district gained 19 per cent.

PRE-ELECTION MARKETS.

What has been the stock market experience in Presidential years in the last few weeks before election day?—N. A.

In most Presidential years since 1900, the stock market has been firm during the final weeks of the campaign.

A compilation by a leading brokerage firm shows that the Dow-Jones industrial average advanced during the five weeks before election in nine of the last 11 Presidential years prior to 1944. The only declines were in 1912, when Woodrow Wilson was chosen for his first term and in 1932, when Franklin D. Roosevelt was first elected. In 1920 and 1940 only minor net gains were shown, and the market declined after the election.

Over the entire period the net change in the average during the five week periods was an advance of 3.19 points, the survey showed.

F. D. R. Urges More WPB Aid to Farmer

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13.—President Roosevelt took cognizance today of repeated protests in congress that his administration has kept the farmers from obtaining vitally needed farm machinery thru bungling of the production program. He recommended that the farmers be given "further assistance."

The recommendation was made in a letter to the 36 year old chairman of the war production board, J. A. Krug, whose hands control farm machinery manufacture.

Krug then issued this one sentence of statement: "Of course we are going to do everything possible to give the farmers all the farm machinery they want."

Asks 'Strong Recognition."

"I am sure," Mr. Roosevelt wrote Krug, "that in your plans for the reconversion of industry to civilian production you will want to give strong recognition to the needs of many American farmers for increased supplies of farm machinery."

Altho members of congress from the farming states have been complaining bitterly that the shortage of farm machinery is tragic, and that it will be aggravated by united nations relief and rehabilitation plans to ship huge quantities of equipment to the hand tilled farms of Europe, Mr. Roosevelt hailed the ending of rationing on most farm machinery as evidence of great improvement.

Big Job Ahead, Farmers Told.

He praised the "patriotic fervor" of the farmers in raising agricultural production, and said plans for a "fully employed" nation after the war mean high food consumption and demands on its productive capacity for which American agriculture must be prepared.

Krug, to whom the President commended the farmers, was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1929. He rose to power over the nation's industrial production as a protege of David Lilienthal, direetor of the New Deal's Tennessee Valley authority.

Krug became chairman as a result of the WPB feud that brought the resignation of Donald M. Nelson.

ONLY 7,000 HOGS ARRIVE IN YARDS; SELL AT LIMITS

Operations of pork packing plants were slowed further at the Chicago stock yards yesterday when only 7,000 hogs, including direct shipments to packers, arrived. This was the lowest Friday volume since April, 1943, and second smallest since October, 1942.

Packers paid the ceiling prices of $14.75 a hundred pounds, the top, for most stock weighing 240 pounds or less, and of $14 for all butchers and sows over 240 pounds. The average was unchanged, at $14.55.

Cattle trading was dull when no highly finished steers were offered. The best sold at $17.25, but some buyers said they would have paid $1 more for top stock. Most steers were weak to 25 cents lower at $13 to $17.25.

Lamb prices fell to the lowest levels since Tuesday of last week when the market broke 25 cents. The best brought $14.50.

ACCEPT $150,000 SETTLEMENT IN OLD MOP CASE

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 13 (AP).—Federal Judge George H. Moore today authorized Guy A. Thompson, trustee of the Missouri Pacific railroad, to settle for $150,000 a $2,627,010 recovery suit against company directors and the estate of O. P. Van Sweringen, former railroad executive. The suit, filed April 20, 1937, charged the defendants advanced money between Oct. 18, 1930, and June 7, 1931, to a wholly owned subsidiary, the Missouri Pacific Transportation company which used the cash to buy Missouri Pacific stock.

The defendants asked Thompson to settle for $150,000. In asking court approval, he said the estate of Van Sweringen, principal defendant, "is so solvent it would not be able to pay more than 1 per cent on claims of creditors."

PRICES OF GRAIN FUTURES CLOSE MOSTLY LOWER

A decline in most grain futures prices yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade was attributed chiefly to lack of support rather than to aggressive selling.

Wheat futures were off 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents a bushel, corn 1¼ cents, oats ½ to ¾ cent, and rye ⅜ to 1⅝ cents. Barley gained ⅛ to ⅓ cent in light trading. All restrictions on the use of barley for malting purposes will be lifted Oct. 16, the office of price administration announced.

Reports from Washington indicate distillers will get another liquor making holiday in December, altho no definite plans have been drafted. It is expected distillers will be permitted to use corn for the first time in many months.

PREDICTS VAST EXPANSION FOR RADIO IN PEACE

Harbord Discusses Past Successes.

From a "dot-dash" communication service in 1919 with an estimated annual revenue of 2 million dollars, the radio industry rose to the status of a billion-dollar-a-year business before the war and now is on the threshold of another period of expansion as the result of war time development in radio-electronics, Gen. James G. Harbord, chairman of Radio Corporation of America, said yesterday in a statement observing RCA's 25th anniversary, which occurs this month.

Gen. J. G. Harbord.

"Today the radio-electronic products of our laboratories and manufacturing plants are providing the army and navy with some of the most essential means for winning this global war," Harbord said.

New Radio Age Ahead.

"When victory is ours, fruits of these scientific and engineering accomplishments will be turned into the channels of business and commerce. Ahead lies the new age of television and other electronic marvels, which may be expected to have a profound influence on the habits and customs of people everywhere."

Harbord recalled that RCA was formed in 1919, at the suggestion of navy officials, to give the United States a system of international radiotelegraph communication independent of foreign interests. The far sighted thinking of this nation's leaders at the end of the first World war resulted in the United States being preeminent today in world communications, he said.

Latest available reports show production of radio devices for the military at 250 million dollars a month, he said. RCA's production of radio, electronic, and sound equipment for the military increased nearly 100 per cent in 1943 over 1942. In 1943 production was 222 million dollars, and on July 1, 1944, unfilled orders totaled 300 million dollars.

Develops 150 New Tubes.

For the military RCA has developed more than 150 new electron tubes and approximately 300 types of apparatus not manufactured before the war, Harbord disclosed. Research which ordinarily would have required years was compressed into months.

RCA in the first year of its existence operated only as a radiotelegraph service and handled 7 million paid words of telegraph traffic, contrasted with 130 million paid words in 1943, and an estimated 145 million words in 1944.

Reviewing RCA production, Gen. Harbord said about 21,777,000 radio and phonograph instruments have been put in use thruout the world, and 452 million RCA electron tubes have been sold since 1930. In the last 14 years, the Victor division produced 294 million phonograph discs.

Today 325 broadcasting stations in the United States have RCA transmitters, and hundreds of others use RCA studio equipment, electron tubes, microphones, and associated apparatus. More than 2,000 industrial plants are equipped with RCA sound systems, and 6,000 theaters use RCA sound reproduction equipment.

NEW ILLINOIS OIL POOL IS FOUND IN SEPTEMBER

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 13 (AP).—September drilling in Illinois resulted in the discovery of one new oil pool in White county, four extensions of previously discovered pools in Jefferson, Franklin, Clay, and Hamilton counties, and two new producing sands in Hamilton and Wabash counties, the state geological survey reported today.

Illinois production in September was estimated at 6,130,000 barrels.

Expects Easy Oil Industry Shift to Peace

Reconversion of the petroleum industry to civilian production will be comparatively easy, William R. Boyd Jr., chairman of the petroleum industry war council, Washington, D. C., said yesterday.

"The petroleum industry is fortunate in that it faces no great physical reconversion problem," he said. "Crude oil, undergoing the same basic processing, will produce for peace as well as for war. There will be shifts in emphasis, of course, shifts from large quantities of 100 octane gasoline to smaller quantities of 100 octane-plus gasoline at the end of the war in Europe."

Predicts Transfer of Load.

Boyd said there will be a heavier load on west coast refineries and a diminished load on the east coast after Germany is defeated.

"In the overall picture, however, the oil industry faces no great problem of retooling," he asserted. "It will not have to stop the manufacture of one product and turn to some entirely different product. Fuels and lubricants will continue to be the mainstays of industry, whether they are used in tanks or tractors, in B-29's or passenger cars or air liners."

The petroleum industry will do its part in providing jobs for returned service men, Boyd asserted. He predicted new uses for petroleum will open the way for more jobs and more opportunities in the industry after the war.

Tells Need of New Thinking.

"There is one reconversion problem, however, which in my opinion, may well engage the careful attention of us all," he said. "That is the problem of mental reconversion; the readjustment of our thinking and retooling our business methods from war to peace.

"American alertness and American initiative built the petroleum industry to a position far in advance of that of any other nation. It is a matter of the utmost importance that we be prepared to go ahead full throttle as soon as the exigencies of war permit. We must restore at the earliest possible moment balanced production of crude oil from existing fields."

WLB SAYS HALF OF ITS DECISIONS ARE UNANIMOUS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13 (AP).—The tripartite membership of the war labor board has been unanimous in nearly half its decisions, the board said today on the basis of its survey of a three month period ended Sept. 15.

The survey also showed that in the split decisions the public and the industry members outvoted the labor members slightly more often than the public-labor combination outvoted the industry side.

Chairman Davis interpreted the results as buttressing the tripartite method of settling labor disputes and as evidence that there is no combination on the board consistently prevailing over the will of a minority.

JOY MFG. VOTES TO PAY 20 CENT EXTRA DIVIDEND

Joy Manufacturing company yesterday voted a 20 cent extra dividend and the regular quarterly payment of 20 cents on common stock. Fire Association of Philadelphia and Loblaw Groceterias Co., Ltd., authorized extra dividends of 50 cents and 12½ cents a share, respectively.

ZENITH FILES PLEA WITH FCC FOR NEW TELEVISION STATION

The Zenith Radio corporation yesterday filed an application with the federal communications commission in Washington, D. C., for a new experimental television station in Chicago on 488,000 to 504,000 kilocycles, or 488 to 504 megacycles, at a power of 250 watts. The company also operates WTZR, Chicago's first television station, on the first television channel from 50 to 56 megacycles.

The application calls for a station in the microwave field which a few years ago was regarded as waste land in the radio spectrum. W-G-N's wave length, for example, is 416 meters; the one sought now by Zenith is 0.6 meter. Zenith proposes to telecast both in black and white and in full color if the license is granted.

Primarily because of research immediately prior to and during the war these microwaves were found to have potentialities for broadcasting and tubes have been developed to give adequate power in this field, a spokesman for the company said. The Columbia Broadcasting system recently sought licenses for stations in the same field.

TRUSCON STEEL STRIKE IS ENDED AFTER TWO DAYS

Youngstown, O., Oct. 13 (AP).—A two day strike of 2,000 employes of Truscon Steel company ended with day shift workers reporting at 7 a. m. today.

The men, members of United Steel Workers of America [CIO] voted Thursday night to return to work today. Union leaders said the men, employed in making tank treads, LST and Seabee hotel boats, walked out in protest over a wage incentive which company officials asserted was a violation of the union contract. Union leaders said the walkout was "unauthorized," but added the men had just grievances.

Film Studio Workers Return.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 13 (AP).—Approximately 600 painters, set decorators, and machinists returned today to their jobs at five major film studios which they had left in a jurisdictional dispute starting a week ago. The regional war labor board had given assurance that mediation of the dispute would be started as soon as the walkout was ended.

EXPECT CIVILIAN WOOL SUPPLIES TO BE REDUCED

New York, Oct. 13 (AP).—A further drastic tightening of wool supplies for civilians seemed likely today as wool trade interests heard reports a large army procurement program was being shaped for the first quarter of 1945 and substantial inquiries for foreign relief purposes appeared.

It was believed that much more heavy clothing would be required in the European campaign than was anticipated. Some quarters had believed the war there might end by winter, thus shifting the scene to warmer climates of the Pacific and decreasing demand for such garments.

Current mill acceptances of orders for civilian goods for spring lines were said to be disappointingly small and delivery schedules against civilian orders were being disrupted in some instances by pressure of priority business and man power problems at the mills.

PAUL PREDICTS 'CAUTIOUS' U. S. TAX REDUCTION

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 13 (AP).—A "cautious reduction" in federal taxes and simplification of tax return methods were predicted today by Randolph Paul, New York attorney and former counsel to the treasury.

Arriving to lecture to a tax institute for lawyers of Georgia and surrounding states, Paul said in an interview that an early end to the war in Europe probably would result in numerous tax reduction proposals in congress in 1945.

"If the national income continues high and the post-war budget does not get out of hand," he said, "taxes can be cut substantially. However, I believe taxes will remain rather high for many years."

Storkline Buys Acreage for Baby Carriage Plant

Storkline Furniture corporation yesterday announced purchase of a 22 acre tract of land bounded by 18th and 22d sts. and Kostner and Kilbourne avs. on which a new one story $500,000 plant will be built after the lifting of war restrictions. The factory will be devoted entirely to the manufacture of baby carriages.

New York, Oct. 13 (AP).—New life insurance business totaled $648,780,000 in September, a decrease of 6.2 per cent from $691,996,000 in September, 1943, the Life Insurance Association of America reported today.

PRICE POLICIES TO AID OUTPUT, SAYS WALTERS

Protection of Buyer Also Pledged.

The office of price administration plans to follow a reconversion price policy which will stimulate industry and safeguard the purchasing power of the buyer, Rae E. Walters, regional administrator of the OPA, said yesterday at a Chicago Association of Commerce luncheon in the La Salle hotel.

Rae E. Walters.

"Our reconversion pricing policies must be carefully worked out," he said. "They must be such as to encourage maximum production, and good profits for large and small business at high volume. At the same time our prices must protect the consumer and encourage him to buy. We should grant price increases only when they are absolutely necessary to encourage volume production.

Warns of Extended Curbs.

"Price controls should come off at just the right time, industry by industry, or commodity by commodity. If we maintain controls too long, production and initiative will be discouraged. If we take them off too quickly, we may have to put them back on—and that will discourage business."

Marion Isbell, Chicago area OPA director, said the OPA's reconversion price program could be put into operation within 48 hours after victory in Europe. He asserted the problem of pricing after the war should not cause too much concern.

Prices will be based on the price of the product as of March, 1942, on the price of a similar item as of that date, on the ceiling price of the closest competitor, or on the price of the nearest similar commodity which has a ceiling price, he asserted.

No Need for Concern, He Says.

"With such tried and approved methods of determining prices we can see no reason for concern toward any reconversion or post-war problem that might present itself," Isbell said. "It is our expectation that the national policy of price determination and adjustment will be delegated down to the district office level immediately on the cessation of European hostilities. We are equipped to take care of the manufacturing level in the same simple and easy manner that is now open to wholesalers and retailers."

He said the price program may exempt those manufacturers whose annual business volume is less than $100,000, or who make minor parts or miscellaneous products.

NEWSPRINT USE AGAIN IS LOWER THAN YEAR AGO

New York, Oct. 13 (AP).—For the 14th consecutive month daily newspapers reduced consumption of newsprint in September below that of a year earlier, the American Newspaper Publishers association said today.

Newspapers reporting to the A. N. P. A. consumed 189,612 tons in September, a decrease of 14.9 per cent below the 222,718 tons used in September, 1943, and a drop of 20.7 per cent below the 239,098 tons consumed in September, 1941.

The total estimated newsprint consumption in September was 252,816 tons. In the first nine months, it was estimated at 2,287,247 tons.

Reporting newspapers in the nine months used 1,715,435 tons of newsprint, a decrease of 16.1 per cent below a year earlier, and 20.1 per cent below the first nine months of 1941.

Edison Bond Offering Price Is Set at 104¼

Offering price of the 155 million dollars of Commonwealth Edison bonds to be placed on the market Oct. 18 will be 104¼ to yield slightly less than 2.78 per cent, it was disclosed yesterday. The bonds will bear 3 per cent coupons and will mature in 33 years.

The public sale will be handled by a nation-wide group headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago. The price of 104¼ was said to represent the combined judgment of the more than 160 investment houses participating in the offering, of Halsey, Stuart, and of Edison officials.

The offering is described as the largest ever to be marketed publicly, a larger offering of American Telephone and Telegraph company securities having been offered to stockholders.

Majestic Radio Plans Offering.

Majestic Radio and Television corporation registered with the securities and exchange commission 297,500 shares of 1 cent par value common stock. Of the total, 95,000 shares will be issued to three officials on exercise of options and resold publicly, and 2,500 will be sold by William R. Harrison, Canton, O., a director of the company. From the sale of the other 200,000 shares, the corporation will use not more than $170,000 to call the 26,016 outstanding shares of no par value preferred stock at $10 a share. The offering price will be announced later.

The SEC declared effective the registration of the Oliver corporation's new $100 par cumulative convertible preferred stock. Executives of the corporation said 82,000 shares carrying a 4½ per cent dividend will be offered.

Nickel Plate Accepts Bid.

The Nickel Plate railroad announced acceptance, subject to approval of the interstate commerce commission, of a bid of the Manufacturer's Trust company, New York, of 1.745 per cent interest on a five year 10 million dollar collateral loan to be used with other funds to pay off the outstanding $15,188,000 of extended first 3½s due Oct. 1, 1947.

John W. Davin, Nickel Plate president, said he believed the transaction "marks the first use of competitive bidding in a banking accommodation of this character."

Voting trust certificates for 386,380 shares of capital stock of the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria corporation, New York City, were registered with the SEC.

STOCKS HIGHER; RAIL SUPPLIER ISSUES STRONG

Profit Sales Stall Some Leaders.

New York, Oct. 13 (AP).—Buyers preferred specialties in today's stock market and many leaders failed to attract speculative or investment atention, tho prices closed higher.

Issues with good peace time prospects, including carrier equipments, exhibited strength. Customers returned from the holiday with conservative tendencies and sufficient profit cashing developed to stall some pivotal stocks.

The railway machinery group was buoyed by talk of large orders from foreign countries as well as American roads when the Germans quit.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was unchanged at 55.5. Transfers of 683,595 shares compared with 717,150 Wednesday.

At peaks for 1944 were Gold and Stock Telegraph, up 3 on odd lot shares; Telautograph, ahead ⅜ on a 10 cent dividend, first since 1941; Electric and Musical Industries, also helped by a dividend; American Locomotive common and preferred, Lima Locomotive and Pressed Steel Car.

BOND MARKET HIGHER.

New York, Oct. 13 (AP).—Most rail and industrial bonds closed higher today, altho some reorganization carriers and others were uneven thruout. Sales of $7,335,800 compared with $7,024,000 Wednesday.

Buyers backed certain loans heavily, but showed little inclination to buy popular trading mediums. Colorado and Southern 4½s gained 1⅞ to 60½; Cuba Railroad 5s, 2 to 60; International Hydro Electric 6s, more than a point to 71½ on heavy sales; and New England Railroad 4s, 1⅝ to 93½.

CHICAGO LIST UNEVEN.

Prices were mixed in reduced turnover of 23,000 shares yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Volume leaders included Middle West corporation, which closed up ⅛ at a 1944 peak of 12½; Butler Brothers, up ⅛; Commonwealth Edison, up ⅛; Illinois Brick, unchanged, and Chicago corporation, down ⅛. Five new 1944 highs were reached.

4 TIMES around the World

The energy in a lump of bituminous coal no larger than an average hen egg will haul a ton of freight a mile.

Yet, more than ten million car loads of coal — America's vital fuel in war and in peace — were used in 1943 . . . enough to make a train long enough to encircle the earth four times at the equator.

About 105 million tons of bituminous coal will be required to heat the nation's homes next winter. At least 140 million tons will be needed to power the railroads in providing essential transportation. And over 380,000,000 tons of coal will be needed for industrial and other uses.

It is still necessary to conserve coal — every shovelful you can. Cooperation with your coal dealer will help. Keep him advised of your needs, for his deliveries must be carefully scheduled.

An adequate supply of coal makes total victory possible. And it will be a mainstay in preserving peace. Conserve coal!

CITY MANAGER GROUP IS TOLD HOUSING NEEDS

Many of the housing projects of he federal public housing authority were sub-standard emergency shelters for war workers and should be removed after the war, Herbert Emmerich, formerly commissioner of the federal authority, told nearly 150 delegates to the International City Managers association convention in the Medinah club yesterday. Emmerich is associate director of the Public Administration Clearing house on the University of Chicago campus.

Emmerich pointed out that under the Lanham act, funds are provided for clearing undesirable projects, after consultation with city authorities. He warned city managers against allowing sub-standard projects to get into the hands of speculators, and urged that post-war programs for construction of substantial housing be prepared now.

Prof. Louis Wirth of the University of Chicago warned that cities must be rebuilt at their centers if populations are to be kept from moving to the suburbs where a large proportion of war and other industries have been established. Otherwise city property values and taxes will decline, he said.
